Fireworks Plant Destroyed

More Than Thirty Others Injured in Explosions Near Philadelphia

Several Structures Wrecked and Homes Over Wide Area Damaged

PHILADELPHIA, April 3. (AP)—Ten persons lost their lives and more than thirty were injured today when a series of explosions virtually wiped out the plant of the Pennsylvania Fireworks Display Company, Inc., at Devon, sixteen miles west of Philadelphia.

Most of the dead were employees of the plant, which was composed of ten small buildings on a seven-acre tract of land near the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Although hospitals reported treating only about twenty injured persons many more were treated on the scene by emergency ambulances dispatched with physicians. Many others in the 200 homes in surrounding territory, which State police reported were damaged, were treated by family physicians or administered first-aid treatment themselves.

Police tonight are investigating reports that several employees are unaccounted for, but it is believed if they are missing they are represented among the unidentified dead.

The explosions were terrific and caused great excitement and much anxiety in the quiet countryside. The shock of the blasts was felt over a wide area, reports having been received that the heavier explosions were felt thirty miles away.

Heavy damage was done to houses near by tenanted by workers. Roofs were caved in, porch roofs wrecked and windows blown out. There was extensive minor damage done over a large area, some places more than a mile away being affected.

GAS BLAST CAUSES NEW YORK FURORE

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—Two series of explosions caused by leaking gas mains down in the labyrinth of subterranean passages that honeycomb the earth below the skyscrapers of New York hurled twenty manhole covers high into the air along lower Broadway today. They ripped up great sections of pavement and put telephones, electric lights, trolley cars and traffic signals out of commission.

Several persons were slightly injured as they ran through the streets dodging debris. The most seriously hurt is William Huston, [illegible] years of age, of Canton, O., who was hit on the head by a flying fragment of pavement as he stood in front of his hotel.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, April 3. [To the Editor of The Times:] Say, California didn't get over so big. We fed Mr. Coolidge and bragged on him and showed him everything we had out here, and he went straight back to Massachusetts and bought him a home. He has got some political devilment on his mind back there.

We got one good delegation out. They are down in Mexico looking over an auto road that will eventually run down Mexico's beautiful west coast from Portland to Panama. At the present time our autobile communications end with Mexico at the north end of the first bar over the line. The idea of this road is to have it so long that Americans will have to pass by some bars without stopping.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Maine and Wyoming Senators Demand Protection for Southwest Areas

Seasonable Labor in Bond from Mexico Favored by Kendrick

By "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 3. (Exclusive)—Seasonable labor from Mexico under bond to return home after performing essential toil in this country was urged as the solution of the farm labor problem in California and the Southwest by Senator Kendrick of Wyoming today as hearings started before the Senate Agricultural Committee on the McNary resolution, introduced at the request of the Federal Farm Board, for a survey of the agricultural common labor situation in the country.

Senator Gould of Maine, whose State relies on French-Canadian wood-choppers in its pulp industries in something of the same degree the Southwest is forced to depend upon Mexicans for its common farm labor, joined in declaring that some Carbon Recorder Produces Bay City News in Schenectady, N. Y.

Process Opens Field for Sending Mail Over Ether Waves

SCHENECTADY (N. Y.) April 3. (AP)—The complete front page of a newspaper has been transmitted across the country by radio for the first time.

Giving the present a peep into what may be commonplace in the future, engineers of the General Electric Company today reported that successful experimentation had permitted them to read the first page of a San Francisco afternoon paper three hours after it had left the press. It was reproduced in full size in the laboratory by a new-type automatic carbon recorder, connected to short-wave receiving equipment actuated by signals originating 2500 miles away.

POSSIBILITIES FORECAST

The engineers did not hesitate to forecast many possibilities for this improvement in facsimile transmission, which, while still in a highly experimental stage, gave an indication that some day radio may be delivering a large part of business mail, and may also bring daily newspapers directly into the home.

The recording machine was developed by Charles J. Young, son of Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of General Electric, who in an address several years ago said that he hoped to live to see the front page of the London Times "flashed with a zip" into New York City.

The recorder can be attached to any radio receiver much the same as a loud speaker. It prints on a roll of paper which moves through the machine at about one-half inch a minute. In this test short waves were used so that there would be no interference with broadcast programs.

PAPER ROLL USED

A roll of paper eight inches wide was used. The newspaper front page was recorded in three separate strips, and then pasted together. Engineers said, however, they did not believe they were limited to this width. The recorder is the second model made. The first took paper only five inches wide.

The sending equipment, known as a facsimile transmitter and developed by Dr. E. F. W. Alexanderson, a pioneer in television and telephoto work, was situated in the General Electric station W6XN which operates on 17.3 meters at Oakland, Cal. A directional antenna pointing toward Schenectady increased signal strength twenty times over the ordinary broadcast type antenna.

RELAYED BY WIRE

The receiver was at the experimental station at Glenville, eight miles from Schenectady. This is the same station used in the two-way radio conversation between Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times, and Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd, at Dunedin, N. Z.

From the receiving station, the facsimile signals were relayed by wire to Dr. Alexanderson's laboratory, where the page was recorded. During the transmission the experimenters kept in constant touch with Oakland by the code transmitter W2XO, twenty-three meters.

Highway Liquor Patrol Favored

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3. (Exclusive)—With the complaint that "all the big Northern California moonshiners have moved to Southern California," Walter Peters, Assistant Prohibition Administrator in Los Angeles, arrived in the city today to confer with Administrator Walker.

While the moonshiners have set up their distilleries in the southern part of the State, they are sending much of their products back north in trucks, according to Peters, who proposed to Walker that a highway patrol be established.

MRS. HOOVER UNNOTICED AT MEETING

First Lady Quietly Attends Annual Gathering of Friends in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, April 3. (AP)—Mrs. Herbert Hoover attended the Friends' yearly meeting here today, unnoticed by many in the auditorium. She is a member of the Friends' Society.

She came to the meeting unexpectedly and quietly took a seat in the middle of the old meeting-house. With her sat Mrs. George Vaux, Jr., and her traveling companion from Washington, Mrs. Charles D. Walcott, sister-in-law of Mrs. Vaux. Mrs. Hoover planned to spend the night with Mrs. Vaux before returning to Washington tomorrow.

Mrs. Hoover told a secret service man who accompanied her and Mrs. Walcott that her visit here was purely a church matter and that she did not want to be bothered with police clearing the way for her wherever she went.

During the meeting today a report of the West Town school committee was read and it was believed this was one of her reasons for the visit. Last year when an appeal for $750,000 for the school was made she was one of the first contributors.

STRATFORD (Ct.) April 3. (AP)—Word has been received by the Sikorsky company that the National Aeronautical Association at Washington has officially recognized the altitude of 23,222 feet made with a 1000 kilogram load (2204 pounds) by Capt. Boris Sergievsky on March 13 as a new world's record.

The flight was made with a plane powered with two 575-horsepower Hornet motors. The previous world's record was 20,961 feet, held by Franz Kneer of Germany, and the American record was held by Sergievsky at 19,593 feet with the same kilogram load.

Two Men Leap to Death From Burning Plane

TULSA (Okla.) April 3. (AP)—Two men leaped 3000 feet to their deaths from a burning plane north of the Collier Airport, east of here, late today. According to C. J. Lucas, representative of the H. F. Wilcox Aeronautics, Inc., those killed were Louie Crippin, Tulsa, service foreman at the field, and Joe Bryant, Claremore, a visiting flyer.

The men wore no parachutes. They were in a new plane completed recently by the Wilcox company.

The plane afterward made an almost perfect landing, suffering little damage and then was burned.

HAWKS AND GLIDER LAND IN ILLINOIS

Only Few Rough Spots Met in Flight from Tulsa to East St. Louis

EAST ST. LOUIS, April 3. (AP)—Capt. Frank M. Hawks, with less than 1000 miles to go before he becomes the country's first transcontinental glider pilot, arrived at Parks Airport at 5:45 o'clock and landed twenty-five minutes later, after soaring over the field. Tonight he was the guest of honor at the annual meeting of the East St. Louis Chamber of Commerce.

Capt. Hawks said his trip from Tulsa, Okla., today was uneventful, although he encountered rough spots in the air between there and Springfield, Mo., where his towing plane, piloted by Duke Jernigan, stopped for fuel. The glider and its "power" left Springfield at 3 o'clock.

Capt. Hawks in his glider, the Eaglet, left San Diego Sunday and expects to land in Van Cortlandt Park, New York, next Sunday.

He expects to stop in Terre Haute and Indianapolis tomorrow and Columbus, O., tomorrow night.

BYRD SHIP RIDING OUT STIFF GALE

Bark City of New York Radioes That All's Well; Steamer Bucks Waves

DUNEDIN, April 4. (Friday) (AP)—Although the southeasterly gale, traveling between seventy and eighty miles an hour, has not abated, Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd's Antarctic expedition ship, the City of New York, radioed today that she was riding out the wind in the Pacific Ocean, midway between here and Papeete, Tahiti.

The bark, with only a top sail and try sail up, had been hove to for nearly two and a half days.

The steamer Eleanor Bolling, Admiral Byrd's other expedition vessel, however, reported that she was making good time against the heavy seas. Both ships reported that those aboard were well. A stowaway was found aboard the Eleanor Bolling after the vessel left Dunedin and will be put ashore at Papeete, where the two ships are to join company for the trip to Panama.

Admiral Byrd is scheduled to leave New Zealand from Wellington on the 24th inst. aboard the steamer Rangitiki. At Panama he will board the City of New York for the final stage of the homeward journey to New York City.

Mellons Lose Damage Action

PITTSBURGH, April 3. (AP)—Damages of $102,427, one of the largest amounts ever granted in a Common Pleas Court verdict here, were awarded Miss Mary G. Hahn, 23 years of age, in a suit against Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and his brother, R. B. Mellon, today.

The Mellons were sued as the owners of the Pittsburgher Hotel. Miss Hahn was hurt when a man employed in construction of the hotel dropped a hammer which shattered a window. She was struck by flying glass.

HIGHER POSTAL RATE URGED

Increase of Half-Cent on All First-Class Mail Advocated by Postmaster-General

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—Postmaster-General Brown, speaking tonight at a meeting of the Bronx Board of Trade, advocated increasing the rate on first class mail to 2½ cents to eradicate the $50,000,000 deficit in his department.

"The Postoffice Department is a public utility," he said. "Like any other properly managed public utility it should conduct its operations without financial loss; that is to say, its rates of charge to the public should be adjusted so as to provide an income sufficient in the aggregate to pay the cost of all its services."

The present rate on first-class mail, he said, has been in effect since 1885, except during a brief period during the war with Germany, when emergency rates were in force.

"Since 1916," he explained, "there has been an increase of 82 per cent in the second-class rate, and an average increase of 10 per cent in the parcel post rate. But in a period of greatly increased commodity prices and steadily mounting labor and service costs the Postoffice Department has maintained unchanged for forty-five years the selling price of its basic commodity—first-class mail.

"If we take into account the reduced purchasing power of the dollar in the period to which reference is made, the 2-cent postage rate of 1885 is equivalent to 3½ cents at the present time. If we take into account the relative wage to labor generally, the 2-cent rate in 1885 is equivalent to 7 cents at the present time.

"We are getting from three to five times more for our postal dollar in the sending of letters than for any other dollar which we spend."

Mr. Brown touched on the department's present building program, which, he said, in the next ten years will provide every city in the country which has annual postal receipts in excess of $20,000 with a "suitable Federal building."

THREE-POWER NAVY PACT MADE SURE AT PARLEY

America, Britain and Japan Reach Agreement Pledging Cuts in World's Largest Fleets

LONDON, April 3. (AP)—After ten weeks of difficult negotiations, during which obstacles often were encountered that seemed insurmountable, the naval conference this afternoon was recorded in American, British and Japanese circles as having achieved great success.

This position was reached after a conference wherein the Americans and British accepted the Japanese government's reservations to the American-British naval proposals.

Thus was assured at least a powerful three-power agreement as an outcome of the conference even if France and Italy cannot participate.

In this connection observers were much interested in a statement made by A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the British Admiralty, speaking at Brixton. Mr. Alexander said:

"This week the conference is much more hopeful than it was a little time ago. The atmosphere is promising. The press in some cases has told us the conference is dead. Well, we seem to be a very healthy corpse.

"You will have seen from the press this morning we have an almost complete basis of an agreement which will enable at any rate the three main naval powers of the world to agree—America, Japan and ourselves. We are pressing on with the negotiations with France and Italy and if we can complete a five-power treaty which will limit and reduce the present naval position of armaments then we shall have achieved a co-operative act in the sphere of human endeavor in which co-operative action and spirit perhaps are more needed today than almost any other."

AMERICAN VIEW

While France and Italy did not join wholeheartedly in the rejoicing because their own problems are unsolved, it was said there is still hope a general solution will be reached and there will be a five-power agreement.

In this connection it leaked from authoritative sources that Foreign Secretary Henderson is working on a formula which it is hoped may give France the assurance of material security which she desires and permit a reduction in the French naval figures.

An American conference spokesman, when asked for a statement by the Associated Press this afternoon, said in substance: "The result of the American, British and Japanese negotiations is the biggest success with which the conference can be credited so far. After ten weeks of discussions and deadlocks frequently approaching failure the conference is now ready to move forward to a five-power agreement, using as a basis the three-power accord which is much better than was expected in the 1927 disarmament conference. There is decidedly no inclination on the part of the American delegation to consider this accord as the only one the conference can reach, but all the delegations are prepared to devote their efforts to incorporate it in a five-power pact."

QUICK AGREEMENT

Senator Reed, the principal American negotiator, said the discussions had been frank and fair, and that "the result was not a victory for any one but an honorable and reasonable settlement between the three."

The committee of American, British and Japanese experts named yesterday needed only a one-hour session this morning to accept the Japanese reservations in principle and tomorrow will meet again to work out the details.

These include the Japanese request that she be permitted to keep her dockyard and technical staffs employed by accelerating some features of her naval program, in compensation for which she wishes to scrap some ships before their allotted span of life.

Under the agreement, Japan, in the next seven years, will build less than 20,000 tons of cruisers, no submarines and a small number of destroyers. A subcommittee appointed today, consisting of Admiral W. V. Pratt and Capt. Alexander Van Kueren for the United States, Admiral Fisher and Capt. Bellairs for Great Britain, and Admiral Abo and Capt. Toyoda for Japan, will determine whether, in the scope of the agreement, Japanese shipbuilding can be increased within that period.

President Talks by Phone to Chilean and Uruguayan Chief Executives

Air Gap of More Than 5000 Miles Over Land and Sea Bridged for Public

WASHINGTON, April 3. (AP)—Bridging an air gap of more than 5000 miles over land and sea, President Hoover and the chief executives of Chile and Uruguay today established telephone connections which inaugurated a new communications system between the North and South American continents.

Just before diplomats and guests assembled at the Cabinet room of the Executive offices to listen in on the Presidential conversation, President Yrigoyen of Argentina cabled Mr. Hoover that he was indisposed and could not adhere to plans for him to take part.

President Hoover spoke to President Carlos Ibanez of Chile at 11 a.m. He recalled his visit to that country two years ago, saying the reception accorded him had been "inspiring and cordial."

Similar friendly greetings were exchanged between President Hoover and President Juan Campisteguy of Uruguay. Mr. Hoover spoke of "the increasingly numerous ties created through the co-operation of scientific endeavor and commercial necessities", between the two nations.

OTHERS CONVERSE

The program included exchanges of greetings by Joseph P. Cotton, acting Secretary of State, with David Hermosillo, Chilean Minister of the Interior, and Rufino T. Dominguez, Uruguayan Minister of Foreign Affairs. Cotton also spoke to John Campbell White, counselor of the American Embassy in Buenos Aires, forming the only contact of the program between Washington and Buenos Aires.

After the Presidential greetings, telephone officials announced the service will remain open to the public. This will offer long-distance connections to millions of telephone users in the United States, Cuba, Canada and Mexico, with the telephone systems of Argentina, Uruguay and Chile.

Among guests who gathered in the Cabinet room to hear today's conversations were Ambassador Davila of Chile, Minister Varela, Uruguay; Robert Woods Bliss, American Ambassador to Argentina, and officials of the telephone company.

HOOVER'S GREETING

In his greeting to the President of Chile, President Hoover said: "I did not anticipate, when I took leave of the happy hospitality which Your Excellency extended to me shortly over a year ago at Santiago that the rapid strides of science in partnership with commerce would so soon afford me the opportunity again to converse in person with you.

"It is a source of especial gratitude to me to participate today in the ceremonies attendant upon the

STANFORD AX RECOVERED

Trophy Goes Back to Palo Alto as Result of Ruse After Thirty-one Years

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3. (Exclusive)—Undergraduates of the University of California gloated once too often over the famous battle-ax wrested from Stanford thirty-one years ago and as a result the historic instrument over which the students of both universities have waged intermittent warfare since 1899, will be displayed about the Stanford campus tomorrow morning.

Stanford students recovered their ax tonight. The treasured trophy had been brought from the vault in the Berkley branch of the American Trust Company at Shattuck avenue and Center street, to the Greek Theater where the university freshmen had gathered for the thirty-first annual "ax rally." It was lost to the Berkeley boys upon being returned to its depository by Norman Horner, a junior, and an escort of thirty undergraduates. At the rally Horner had been made official custodian of the ax for the ensuing year.

TRAP SPRUNG

At the bank, Horner and his escort were greeted by Bob Loofbourrow, Warren Gage, Ray Walsh and Eric Hall, all of Sequoia Hall on the Stanford campus where the plot to recover the ax was hatched. Loofbourrow posed as a reporter. His fellow-students as cameramen, Gage, Walsh and Hill had rigged a camera at the sidewalk's edge in front of the bank, Gage and Walsh were to take the picture. Hill was to fire the flashlight gun.

Loofbourrow persuaded Horner to hold the ax aloft.

There was a flash, a report, then utter confusion as a tear-gas bomb, hurled by one of the Stanford conspirators, took immediate effect. Loofbourrow wrested the ax from Horner, crawled out from under the milling mob of half-blinded Berkeley students and, with his com-lull in the negotiations to satisfy French desires for another security formula and Italian aspirations for naval parity with France. No meeting was held today between Foreign Secretary Henderson and Foreign Minister Briand and the British spokesman said tonight that no satisfactory security formula had yet been reached.

Progress in another direction was recorded this afternoon when experts of the five delegations finally approved the agreement dealing with humanization of submarine warfare.

British sources were happy over that agreement and said that work was being continued steadily on all fronts, with the probability that only a very brief holiday will be observed at Easter. In French quarters it was pointed out that the Anglo-French security difficulties are not such a menace as the Franco-Italian parity deadlock, which will still remain to be solved after a security formula satisfactory to Great Britain and France has been developed.

Reports which received considerable circulation in London and abroad last night to the effect that an Anglo-French security settlement would not necessitate any reduction in French fleet figures were not taken seriously in British official quarters today when attention was drawn to them.

Security negotiations and the moves for reduction of French tonnage, while naturally conducted separately, are essentially interdependent and the British delegation is plainly seeking reduction of French tonnage to the levels harmonizing with the Anglo-American agreement as based upon the Rapidan figures of Hoover and MacDonald.

ITALY BLOCKS MOVE

Opposition to proposals for defining and interpreting Article XVI of the League of Nations Covenant as a way out of the political impasse among the powers is understood tonight to have sprung up in the Italian delegation.

The Italians contend that this phase of the conference, toward solving which the British and the French are bending their efforts, is divided into three main points.

The first is, that it is solely a question for the League of Nations, affecting all members of the League; the second, that it does not fall within the aims of the naval conference; and the third, that it does not solve the question of parity between France and Italy, on which Italy still stands firmly.

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—Hazel Judson, 19 years of age, known in theatrical circles as Hazel Forbes, Ziegfeld actress, has been granted a final decree of divorce from Edward Judson, automobile salesman.

The decree was entered yesterday in Supreme Court at Jamaica. The actress charged her husband with misconduct.

DEARBORN KIDNAPING CONFIRMED

Witnesses Corroborate Story by Suboch Boy of Sister's Abduction

DETROIT, April 3. (AP) — Convinced by corroborative evidence of the truth of her brother's story of the kidnaping of 6-year-old Mary Suboch, police tonight continued their search for the girl, missing more than fifty-four hours from the home of her parents in the suburb of Dearborn.

Investigators found several persons whose stories bore out that of Joseph Suboch, 9 years of age, that he and Mary were taken into an automobile near their home Tuesday afternoon and that he later was sent away on an errand. Two workmen told of finding the boy crying and saying that the man in the car had driven away with his sister. They made no report of the incident at the time, they said, because they believed he was referring to a grown sister.

One suspect was arrested late today and later was released.

CITY IN UPROAR

Almost instantly the entire city of Berkeley was in a turmoil. Students, quick to recover from the effects of the tear gas, commandeered whatever automobiles were parked near by and gave chase to the Cardinal capturers of the treasured ax. They, however, were clearly beaten to the Golden Gate ferryboat and the ax was safely on its way to Palo Alto.

Meantime, announcements of the ax's recovery by Stanford made from the stages and screens of Berkeley theaters and movie houses brought all their audiences into the streets of the college city, each playgoer seeking first-hand information as to how the University of California guardians of the ax had been outwitted by the Stanford lads.

The ax was stolen in 1899 by Everett J. Brown, Oakland jurist and attorney, then freshman class president at the University of California.

Rumors were current on the Berkeley campus that a prominent San Francisco banker and Stanford patron had offered a reward of $5000 to any Stanford student who recovered the ax.

Commons Votes Cowardice Bill

LONDON, April 3. (AP)—In debate over the army bill tonight the House of Commons voted by 288 to 165 in favor of the abolition of the death penalty for cowardice in certain cases. An amendment favoring the retention of this penalty for acts inducing others to become cowardly was defeated.

The bill proposed to retain the death penalty for desertion, but a Laborite amendment substituting penal servitude was carried by 219 to 135, the government being technically defeated by its own followers.

way should be found, regardless of pending immigration restrictions, whereby California and near-by States may be able to obtain a necessary supply of workers from the other side of the international line.

ONLY ONE WITNESS

The only witness today was Robert Wilson of San Francisco, secretary of Central Agricultural Chamber of Commerce, taking in the States from California to Texas, and as his testimony dealt mostly with conditions in the Southwest, it was natural the discussion turned quickly to the Mexican immigration question.

C. C. Teague of Santa Paula, Cal., a member of the Federal Farm Board, is to take the stand tomorrow. He will be followed by Representative Free of San Jose, Cal., and Chester H. Gray, Washington representative of the Farm Bureau Federation. Representative Johnson of Washington, chairman of the House Immigration Committee, is slated to appear against the resolution which he charges has been projected to defeat passage of his bill raising the bars against Mexican immigration. Before the hearings are ended, Chairman McNary announced, a representative of the State department will come before the committee to tell of the injury to diplomatic and trade relations with Mexico the department fears would result from exclusion legislation.

The hearing developed at once into a debate on the advisability of excluding Mexicans. However, as Mr. Wilson quickly pointed out, the Mexican question is only one phase of the situation. As a matter of fact, he said, the action of the State Department in recent months in tightening up on passport regulations already has cut the Southwest's supply of Mexican farm labor to negligible proportions and that is one reason a national survey is required to point the way out.

STATE'S DILEMMA

He declared that agriculturists of the Southwest, unable to get a sufficient number of whites to perform the common stoop and knee work in the hot fields, want to know as soon as possible whether they will have to depend on Filipinos or whether it will be possible for them to obtain negroes from the South. He said Filipinos are not as satisfactory as Mexicans, that they remained only a short time on the farms and then drifted to the cities to cause race riots such as have occurred during the last few months in a number of places in California.

Wilson denied that the McNary resolution was advanced at this time to stop Mexican exclusion and reminded that the same proposal was made two years ago before the House and Senate immigration committees, only to be rejected. "If they had given us this survey," he said, "it would all be over now. We want this study as soon as we can get it. We are not seeking to block any immigration measures. We are simply soliciting the assistance of the Federal government in making a study which will be of incalculable benefit to agriculture all over the country. We want to know where we can look to for the labor we have to have."

CITY MEN SHY AT JOBS

He said that many attempts had been made to draw more white labor into the Southwest farm sections, but that all had been unsuccessful. A national survey, he thought, might point the way to better distribution of labor that would relieve the condition somewhat.

Senator Heflin, Democrat of Alabama, said that there were enough unemployed in the cities of the nation to more than supply all agricultural needs, but Wilson replied that these men will not take the work offered. Senator Kendrick backed him up, saying that from personal observation many times repeated he knew that the idle in the cities would not take the common variety of work in the fields of his State. Gould said he also knew this was true. Heflin said if he had his way all those out of work would take farm jobs wherever offered or be sent to jail.

Wilson readily agreed with Senator Kendrick that seasonal labor might solve the problem in the Southwest if it could be obtained, but declared that numerous plans had been presented to his organization and none found workable.

He said that California had made a State-wide study of the farm-labor situation, but found only an investigation national in scope would be of real benefit. Asked concerning farm wages, Wilson declared that California pays the highest in the country.

"In fact," he said, "our average is about twice that of the country as a whole." He thus disproved suggestions by Senator Heflin that the reason whites could not be obtained was because Mexicans would work for less.

VICTORY INDICATED

The start of hearings on the McNary resolution has inextricably connected farm labor with immigration restriction for the rest of this session of Congress. Indications now are that the labor survey will be authorized and it would naturally follow that action on the restriction measures would be withheld until next year, at least, pending a report. However, proponents of the bills placing quotas on Mexico and the other countries of this hemisphere will not give up the fight.

GRAF LINE DETAILS GIVEN

Proposed Transocean Dirigible Service to Operate Four Ships on Two and Three-Day Schedules

WASHINGTON, April 3. (AP)—Out of studies and conferences which have engaged Dr. Hugo Eckener day by day, there emerged tonight the latest details concerning transoceanic dirigible service which may be instituted within two years.

One of the Graf Zeppelin commander's closest advisers, Commander J. C. Hunsacker, revealed that:

Passenger fares will be approximately double steamer rates;

Germany will furnish two ships, the Graf Zeppelin and a new dirigible to be constructed immediately for completion in 1931;

America will build two ships, modeled after the two dirigibles ordered by the United States Navy;

Eastward trips from airport to airport will be made in two days and western trips in three days.

Commander Hunsacker, former navy dirigible expert and now vice-president of the International Transport Company, has accompanied and conferred with the Graf Zeppelin's skipper during the recent terminal surveys. Dr. Eckener is technical adviser and leading German figure in the proposed service.

WILL GET SUBSIDY

"Immediately on his return to Germany," Hunsacker said, "Dr. Eckener will go ahead with the construction of a new dirigible for the service, a larger and faster ship than the Graf Zeppelin and scheduled to be completed by the autumn of next year.

"The design has been drawn but new ideas, gained by Dr. Eckener in America, will be included. A German subsidy will finance the building and in little more than a year the sister ship and the Graf will be ready as the European contribution to the venture.

"Two ships will be constructed in the United States. Designs are being studied and the ships will follow the general structure of the two dirigibles ordered by the United States Navy. Plans under consideration include passenger capacities of forty, sixty and eighty persons.

AIRPLANE CONTACTS

"While the navy dirigibles will have hangar space for five fighting planes, the commercial ships will probably not carry heavier-than-air craft but be modified to allow airplanes to make contacts while in flight.

"This has already been shown to be practical and arrangements may be worked out to allow planes to meet the liners over water, make contact for special mail or passengers, and speed coastward. It is also likely that contacts may be made over intermediate cities where the dirigibles will not stop, for discharging passengers and cargo.

"Tentative schedules call for eastward trips from airport to airport to be made in two days and westward flights in three days. Seville, Spain, will be tested as the probable European terminal in May when Dr. Eckener proposes to fly the Graf Zeppelin to South America and Lakehurst."

While the survey of the Chesapeake Bay area has been completed, he said it will probably be nine months before a definite selection will be made of the American trans-Atlantic terminal site.

SKIPPER HONORED

The party will be in Lakehurst, N. J., tomorrow. There Dr. Eckener will complete arrangements for the berthing of the Graf Zeppelin on its May flight. After a trip to Akron, O., where conferences will be held with Goodyear-Zeppelin Company officials, he will sail the 15th inst. for Germany.

The conclusion of the skipper's visit in Washington was marked by his admission as honorary member of the National Aeronautic Association, the first European and first lighter-than-air pilot to be given the distinction.

Senator Bingham, Connecticut, president of the association, made the presentation which enrolled Dr. Eckener as the twelfth honorary member. Only five of the other honoraries, all Americans, are alive—Orville Wright, Glenn Curtiss, Thomas A. Edison, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd.

GRAF ZEPPELIN IN FLIGHT

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN (Germany) April 3. (AP)—The Graf Zeppelin today made its first trial flight for 1930 with a successful cruise of five hours. Only the crew and several engineers of the Zeppelin Company were aboard.

inauguration of direct telephone-radio communication between Chile and the United States of America.

"A brief span of forty years serves to encompass the extraordinary history of modern means of communication between our respective countries. In 1890 the first direct cable service was inaugurated, effecting a revolutionary improvement in communication which has in subsequent years been duplicated by the establishment of radio-telegraphic communication, of direct and speedy communication by means of airplanes, and now by the present radio-telephone service. Concurrently sea traffic has been immeasurably facilitated by the opening of the Panama Canal, and by the never-ending improvement in the quality and speed of the vessels which ply between our countries.

"Mr. President, I am happy indeed to converse with you in person today to recall the inspiring and cordial reception of a year ago, and to inaugurate thereby this important additional means of communication between our respective countries."

TO URUGUAYAN CHIEF

To President Campisteguy of Uruguay, President Hoover said:

"The memories which I cherish of my brief visit, slightly more than one year ago, to the great capital of the progressive republic of Uruguay, and Your Excellency's friendly and hospitable reception at that time, make more keen the pleasure which I experience today of speaking with you again in person on the occasion of the inauguration of direct radio-telephone communication between Uruguay and the United States of America.

"The history of modern communication bears recorded page after page of participation of Uruguay in the adoption of each of its improvements. These increasingly numerous ties, created through the co-operation of scientific endeavor and commercial necessities, form the material part of the strong bond, the order of which is intellectual and spiritual fraternity, that fortunately exists between our two countries.

"Mr. President, it is truly a matter of satisfaction and pleasure to me that this new means of communication between Uruguay and the United States of America is being inaugurated today and to assure you that my pleasure and satisfaction have been enhanced by the occasion this ceremony has afforded me to speak with you again."

CHILEAN REPLY

The reply of the Chilean President was:

"This opportunity to converse with Your Excellency is particularly pleasant to me. Like Your Excellency, I rejoice in this new means of communication, which will derive for our countries incalculable benefits of all kinds in the fields of industry and commerce and will serve, I hope, to strengthen more and more every day the cordial relations between our countries, which are already joined through a sound and loyal policy of harmony and good will.

"I take advantage of this occasion to reiterate to you the assurances of my unshakable friendship and I pray you to accept my best wishes for your personal happiness."

President Campisteguy of Urguay replied today as follows:

"Mr. President, it is particularly pleasant for me to renew, through distance, and in a direct and personal way, the memory of the visit which you made to our country, where you left such very good impression. May this new and amazing means of communication, which permits us at the present moment to establish spiritual contact, be a promising sign of closer links between our respective peoples.

"With this and with this hope, I greet most cordially in this inaugural act the first magistrate of the United States."

YOUNG CONVERSES WITH BUENOS AIRES GOVERNOR

With the exchange of greetings yesterday between Gov. Young and Gov. Vergara of Buenos Aires Province, Argentina, California and South America were linked for the first time by a telephone connection. Scores of Los Angeles' most prominent citizens crowded into the Governor's executive office in Los Angeles to witness the inauguration of the new service.

Gov. Young lifted the receiver and spoke to the Argentine Governor shortly after 2 p.m. His message was then repeated in Spanish by Henry C. Niese, Vice-Consul of Argentina. Gov. Vergara responded, his words being taken down by Dr. Victor Egas, Consul for Ecuador and Acting Consul for Chile.

Officials of the Southern California Telephone Company, headed by F. N. Rush, vice-president and general manager, were on hand to supervise the arrangements. The messages traversed 8300 miles, traveling by land wire to New Jersey and then by radio to a receiving station near Buenos Aires, whence it again proceeded by land wire.

The rates from California to Buenos Aires are $48 for the first three minutes and $16 for each additional minute.

Rentschler Forecasts Unity Despite Refusal

Merger of National With United Interests Sought

New York-to-San Francisco Control His Goal

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—F. B. Rentschler, president of United Aircraft and Transport Company, announced tonight that despite refusal today of the board of directors of National Air Transport to recommend unification of the two companies, his company will proceed tomorrow in its plans to acquire working control of N.A.T. The recommendation will be made with a view to providing a unified transcontinental air transport system from New York to San Francisco.

Rentschler said:

"We have acquired substantial holdings in National Air Transport on the exchange basis of three and one-half shares of National stock for one of United States. We are therefore the largest individual holders of National by person or group.

EXCHANGE OFFERED

"In a letter tomorrow we will offer National stockholders the opportunity to exchange their stock on that basis, up to the 15th inst."

Rentschler's statement followed one by Howard E. Coffin, chairman of the board of N.A.T., earlier today, which said:

"The board of directors of the National Air Transport Company in session today considered an offer from the United Aircraft and Transport Company to exchange one share of United common stock for three and one-half of National stock. After a full consideration, the board unanimously declined to recommend to the stockholders that the offer be accepted."

NOT SURPRISED

Rentschler said he is not surprised at the refusal, but that it will not affect his present plans to go ahead with unification plans. It was authoritatively stated that his company now holds one-third of the stock of National Air Transport.

United now possesses the Boeing Air Lines, operating for transport between Chicago and San Francisco.

Rentschler declared unification will eliminate duplication of effort, which would follow were his company forced to establish a line from Chicago to New York. He said it would also make mail operation cheaper to the government.

DIESEL TEST IN AIRPLANE SUCCESSFUL

Certain Type of Ford Craft to Be Run With Oil Burning Motors

DETROIT, April 3. (AP)—The new Diesel airplane engine has demonstrated its adaptability on transport planes. The successful demonstration was held at the Ford Airport yesterday by Le Roy Manning and Capt. M. M. Woolson, who made a test flight in a Ford trimotored plane powered by the new type of oil-burning engines.

The three engines afforded the transport ship 660 horsepower compared with the 900 furnished by light-fuel engines customarily used in the ship. Following the test it was announced that Diesel engines will be optional equipment on certain Ford transport planes in the future.

Capt. Woolson, who is the designer of the oil-burning motor, recently made a round-trip flight to Miami in a plane powered by one of his motors. The flight demonstrated the economy of fuel in operating the new motors.

BASIL MILES DEATH LIKE ACID CASE

Inquiry Reveals He Was to Have Left Hospital on Day After Date of Demise

WASHINGTON, April 3. (AP)—The Washington Post tonight said the inquiry of the Department of Justice into the death two years ago of Basil Miles had elicited only the information that he was to have left the hospital on the day after that on which he died, and that his appearance had he died of prussic acid poisoning would have been the same as if caused by pulmonary embolism.

Miles, a diplomat and economist, died on June 14, 1928, and at that time his death was attributed to pulmonary embolism, or a blood clot on the lung.

The Post added that unless stronger evidence is produced, or Mrs. H. H. Rogers, wife of the Standard Oil millionaire, requested, the body will not be exhumed for a post-mortem examination. Mrs. Rogers, the widow of Miles, is said to have been the only person with him at the time he died.

Among those who have been question thus far are Dr. John H. Lyon, who was attending Miles in the illness which preceded his death, and Mrs. N. G. Nash, his nurse, but no new information was disclosed.

A score of other witnesses in various parts of the country are said still to be questioned.

PASTURE YIELDS TO PROGRESS

Barns in Hyde Park Will Be Supplanted by Hotel and Apartment-house

CHICAGO, April 3. (AP)—From the sod of John Dunham's cow pasture in fashionable Hyde Park will rise a $10,000,000 mass of modern appurtenances.

The pasture, two city squares in area, withstood the encroachment of a spreading city and when John Dunham, a prominent banker, died in 1893, the property was left to the surviving child, Miss Mary Virginia, with a provision that it could not be disposed of until after her death.

Until recently, two barns still leaned on the pasture in contrast to the select Hyde Park homes and apartments. Tradition has it that Abraham Lincoln, while riding the judicial circuit as a young lawyer, used one of the barns as a shelter from the rain.

Yesterday it was announced a New York syndicate had purchased the cow pasture and that $10,000,000 are to be spent in an apartment and hotel project.

OLD AGE LESS EASY TO ATTAIN

Past Ten Years Increased Hazards of Living

Conclusion Drawn from Census Studies

Deaths After Middle Life More Frequent

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—Dorothy G. Wiehl of the Milbank Memorial Fund's research staff announced today that Federal Census Bureau figures show American women now have less chance of living to old age than women had ten years ago, although women have better chances of reaching threescore and ten than men have.

Miss Wiehl's report was based on a study of deaths among adults from 1921 to 1927, and said during that period nine causes were responsible for from 65 to 85 per cent of all deaths in the United States after the age of 35. These are tuberculosis, heart disease, cancer, diabetes, cerebral hemorrhage and apoplexy, pneumonia, nephritis and accidents.

Miss Wiehl said that lower death rates among babies and from infectious disease had increased the average length of life, but that death is taking an increasing toll among people in the prime of life and after middle age.

"Striking changes in the death rates among men and women of different ages occurred during this short period," said Miss Wiehl. "At every age the change is more favorable for females than for males, and this is particularly true for the ages of middle life. In the age group 35 to 44, the death rate for males in 1927 showed an increase of 12.5 per cent over the 1921 mortality, as against a decrease in the female death rate of 4 per cent. At ages 45 to 54, the increase for males was 13.5 per cent, compared with an increase of 2.5 per cent for females. Even at the ages of 25 to 34 a more favorable course in the female death rate was observed.

"In the age group 55 to 74, the increase in deaths of men exceeded that of women by 320 per 100,000. The death toll for men exceeded the death toll for women in each of the causes studied, except diabetes."

Mrs. Carman asserts in her complaint that the husband has "acted in a cold and repellant manner toward her for the past two years" and that she was told he has "lost all love and affection for her."

They were married in July, 1922.

The steamship Dorothy Alexander of the Pacific Steamship Company's fleet was named after Mrs. Carman.

Double Suicide Attempt Fails

SALADA BEACH, April 3. (AP)—Two attempts at suicide failing, Andrew Morris, 52 years of age, San Francisco carpenter, became discouraged tonight and called a doctor.

Despondent because of unemployment, Morris waded out to Mussel Rock, north of here, placed a revolver to his head and fired. The bullet plowed a deep furrow in his scalp, but did not enter the skull. Having no more cartridges, Morris then leaped into the ocean. But instead of sweeping him to a watery grave, the tide carried him back on the beach.

JONES DRY ACT GAINS SUPPORT

Atty.-Gen. Mitchell Against Modification

Letter to House Committee Urges Longer Trial

Bill to Ease Penalties in Liquor Cases Opposed

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 3. (Exclusive)—Opposition to the Stobbs bill which seeks to modify the Jones "five and ten" act, to ease the severity of penalties in the case of lesser violators of the prohibition laws, was expressed by Atty.-Gen. Mitchell today in a letter to the House Judiciary Committee, which is considering this measure along with others recommended by the President's law enforcement commission.

Mitchell says that the Jones Law, imposing a maxumum of five years' imprisonment and fine of $10,000 on dry-law offenders, should be given a further trial before Congress considers changing it. He points out that it is only a year old, and indicated the belief that the act thus far has worked well.

The Stobbs proposal would modify the Jones Law by defining slight and casual offenders and fixing the maximum penalty for such offenses at six months' imprisonment and fine of $500. The Attorney-General writes that in his opinion the result of such a change "will be to reduce the penalties for substantial violations, such as manufacture, sale and transportation, to a point below the penalties provided before the enactment of the Jones law." In other words, what Mr. Mitchell apparently fears is that judges in wet centers, where enforcement is not popular, will take advantage of the opportunity to go easy on major violators.

Although the bill was drawn to carry out the suggestions of the law enforcement commission, Mr. Mitchell says his analysis showed it departs from the commission's ideas because it "undertakes to define a separate and distinct class of offenses" and in reality takes these out from under the operation of the Jones Law.

LENIENCY CITED

As to the operation of the law in the brief time it has been in effect, the Attorney-General says:

"It has been the experience of the Justice Department that both United States attorneys and judges have, in general, carefully observed the admonition of Congress to deal fairly, according to the character of the offense. The departures from that policy consist rather in leniency than in severity."

Atty.-Gen. Mitchell also disapproves two bills by Representative Christopherson of South Dakota, likewise drawn at the instance of the law-enforcement commission, attempting to define felonies and misdemeanors under the Federal code, and providing for trials without jury before United States commissioners, where the defendants agree. Mr. Mitchell suggests that plan for trials before commissioners be operative only in District courts upon order of the district judge, and with the commissioners who are to conduct such trials specifically designated. He recommends that the maximum penalty for slight or casual violations be fixed at six months in jail, $1000 fine, or both. He would leave the classification of minor cases to the discretion of the courts, as at present.

In addition, Atty.-Gen. Mitchell favors modification of another law-enforcement commission measure by taking from it a provision which would give district attorneys power to proceed against dry-law offenders on felony charges after they had first been tried before a commissioner for a misdemeanor.

Mr. Mitchell approves in general two other bills originating with the enforcement commission to relieve congestion in the Federal courts, suggesting only minor changes. One of these bills provides for the creation of additional district judgeships. Its passage probably would mean another Federal district judge for Southern California.

So far, because of the wet and dry hearings which have occupied it for nearly two months, the Judiciary Committee has given little consideration to the various measures suggested by the enforcement commission, and has actually approved only one—that authorizing the serving of summons in padlocking proceedings by advertisement instead of direct contact with the owner of the property involved.

NEW DEVELOPMENT

Another prohibition development today came when Representative Lea of Santa Rosa, lone Democrat in the California delegation, made public a letter to a constituent declaring for a national referendum on prohibition.

Representative Lea, who represents one of the northern districts and who voted against the Eighteenth Amendment when the question of its submission was before Congress twelve years ago, indorsed the resolution of Representative Mary T. Norton of New Jersey, providing that prohibition be placed before the people in such manner that a popular majority would mean automatic repeal, regardless of State lines. This rather novel procedure, not provided for in the Constitution, is one of the repeal proposals pending before the House Judiciary Committee and was made the subject of the wet and dry hearings of the last six weeks.

HEIR TO MILLION STICKS TO JOB IN RESTAURANT

SALINAS, April 3. (Exclusive)—That work holds the secret of happiness is the belief of Pierce Hallick, 33 years of age, former wealthy real-estate broker of Pasadena, who was "sticking to his job" as a waiter in a small restaurant here today after being notified that his bank account exceeds $1,000,000.

Hallick is the chief beneficiary in the will of his father, James S. Hallick, millionaire hotel man who died in France last month, leaving an estate appraised at more than $2,000,000. Two sisters of the elder Hallick come in for $250,000 apiece and each of the millionaire waiter's two children, James P., 7 years of age, and Florence, 6, inherits a like amount.

Hallick, the younger, is a native of New York City. He became established in the real-estate business in Pasadena twelve years ago and was wiped out in the stock-market crash of last winter, he said. Since then he has been working in the Sea-food Grotto here owned by Mrs. James Tripolitis.

"Why should I give up my job?" he said today. "Here I am as happy as I ever could be, and what guarantee have I that I will continue to remain so if I become one of the leisure class? Besides, maybe, it would do my children good to be brought up as just plain folks. Wait a minute till I see what this bird wants. Ham on rye!"

Don't fool yourself!

Since halitosis never announces itself to the victim, you simply cannot know when you have it.

Halitosis makes you unpopular with children

Some parents blame everything but halitosis (unpleasant breath) when children are not affectionate. As a matter of fact, halitosis is often the cause.

Don't fool yourself that you are free of it, because it is simply impossible to tell when you have it. It doesn't announce itself to the victim.

Eliminate the risk entirely by using full strength Listerine every day, morning and night. And between times, before meeting others.

Being an active germicide capable of killing 200,000,000 germs in 15 seconds, full strength Listerine checks mouth fermentation and infection—both a cause of odors. Then it gets rid of the odors themselves; it is an instant deodorant.

Keep a bottle handy in home and office. Use it every day. It puts you on the polite, popular and profitable side. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

TARIFF SECRETS TOLD TO PUBLIC

Newspapers to Get Daily Reports on Sessions

Smoot and Garner in Clash Over Publicity

G.O.P. Enters Last Phase of Revision Work

WASHINGTON, April 3. (AP)—The final phase of the Republican tariff revision program was entered upon today as the Senate and House conferees held their first sessions to adjust the many differences between the two Congressional branches over the Hawley-Smoot bill. Thirty-two rates in the chemical schedule were acted upon.

The Senate conferees were victorious in a big majority of the contests, the House group receding from its higher rate amendments in sixteen instances and the Senate giving in on only four. Twelve compromises were reached.

A controversy over publicity featured the first organization and business meeting. Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, and Representative Garner, Democrat, Texas, clashed.

Angered when Garner left the committee room and called to newspaper men that he was ready to make public all that took place, the Utahan appeared in the doorway and requested that the reporters "come inside."

"I'll give you every rate agreed on," he said. "I want to make sure that all you fellows get this accurately."

Other Republicans in the room expressed surprise that daily publicity was to be given their actions.

Chairman Hawley of the House Ways and Means Committee and head of the House conference group, said he thought it had been agreed to make public the actions only after the entire rate schedule had been completed.

"Yes, but Jack Garner says he's going to give out what we do every day, and I'm going to do it myself," Smoot told the Oregon member.

MENDELL'S PLANE MAY NOT BE HELD

Mortgage Note on Craft Held by McAdoo Presents Puzzle to Mexican Police

MEXICALI, April 3. (Exclusive) William Gibbs McAdoo, former United States Secretary of the Treasury, holds a $3000 mortgage note on the Buhl airsedan Angeleno' which was seized here Tuesday when its pilot, Loren W. Mendell, former endurance flight record holder, was arrested on charges of conspiracy to violate international smuggling laws, according to information disclosed by Mexican officers following an interview with Mendell today.

Mendell remained in Mexicali jail today, but American immigration officers state that they expect him to be turned over to authorities on the American side of the line soon.

The Los Angeles pilot was arrested as he landed his plane near Black Butte, fourteen miles south of this city, after a signal had been given to two Japanese who confessed that they were to have been taken to a point near Oakland in the airplane.

Mexican authorities are uncertain as to whether they will institute proceedings for the confiscation of the plane, according to their statement today.

Tiny Plane Sets Altitude Mark

DAYTON (O.) April 3. (AP)—Barographs of the altitude flight made by E. A. Johnson, operator of the municipal airport here, yesterday in a motor glider, were sent today to the Bureau of Standards at Washington for official calibration.

The altimeter of the ship, which weighs but 467 pounds, showed Johnson reached an altitude of 16,000 feet on the flight which is believed to be a new record for this type of ship. The record is held by a Polish flyer, and is 13,482 feet.

Commons Sends Coal Mines Bill to Upper House

LONDON, April 6. (AP)—The government's coal mines bill, which has been one of the most contentious measures in recent times, passed on third reading in the House of Commons tonight, a motion for rejection being defeated, 277 to 234.

The measure now goes to the House of Lords. The government's majority in the House of Commons compares with the majority of eight on second reading some weeks ago. The main body of the Liberal party refrained from voting, in accordance with the recent decision not to embarrass the government during the naval conference. One Liberal, however, voted with the government, while four others stood with the Conservative opposition.

Illustrative of the new schedule, it was stated that the new rate between Chicago and Los Angeles would be $33.06 for one person occupying a whole section, as against the present rate of $42.53. No change is made on rates for single berths.

UNEMPLOYMENT BILLS ADVANCED

Senate Committee Acts on Building Board Plan

WASHINGTON, April 3. (AP)—Bills that would set up a board to plan for public building construction in times of depression were approved today by the Senate Commerce Committee and the Senate Agricultural Committee heard testimony that it is almost impossible to get white laborers to do certain kinds of farm labor.

The unemployment bills approved were introduced by Senator Wagner, Democrat, of New York. They provide for an appropriation of $150,000,000 and also for facilities to collect information on unemployment. Action was deferred, however, until next Thursday on another measure by Wagner which would set up a Federal employment agency.

MADAME ALBANI DIES IN LONDON

Opera Star of Past Expires at 77 Years of Age

Stage Name Taken from That of New York Capital

Last Platform Appearance Made Abroad in 1912

LONDON, April 3. (AP)—Mme. Albani, noted soprano, died here today. She was one of the leading grand opera sopranos of the nineteenth century, and was 77 years of age. Born in Canada, she went to Albany, N. Y. when she was 12, and took her stage name from that city. She was christened Marie Louise Emma Lajeunesse.

Mme. Albani made her debut at Messina in 1870 in the opera, "La Sonnambula," and was an instantaneous success. Two years later she repeated her success on her first appearance at Covent Garden, London, and thereafter made her home in the British capital. She sang in opera in the principal musical centers of Europe and in concerts in the United States and Canada. For many years she was one of the leading participants in [illegible] and musical festivals in England. In Berlin, after hearing her in "Lohengrin," Emperor William I created her "first singer of the royal household." She was a guest and intimate friend of the late Queen Victoria.

GREATEST TRIUMPH

As an opera singer Mme. Albani gradually added to her repertory until it included the leading soprano roles of all the popular stock operas. What many regarded as the greatest triumph of her operatic career was her singing of the role of Isolde for the first time in 1896 [illegible] of the late Jean de Reszke.

In 1911 she retired from the stage and concert platform with a farewell concert at Albert Hall, London. It was attended by 10,000 persons. Among those who contributed to the program were Mme. Melba, a pupil of Mme. Albani, and Sir Charles Santley, the noted baritone. Mme. Albani spent several years after that as teacher of voice culture.

ALSO INSTRUMENTALIST

Mme. Albani also was an accomplished player of the piano, organ and harp.

During her days of prosperity she gave generously to philanthropic enterprises, to such an extent that in her later years she felt the touch of hard times. The British government granted her what is known as a civil list pension. She was honored in King George's 1925 list of birthday honors, being created a Dame of the Order of the British Empire.

In 1878 Mme. Albani was married to Ernest Gye, an impresario and lessee of Covent Garden.

Suspected Plot in Penitentiary Causes Inquiry

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) April 3. (AP)—Missouri penitentiary officials today were investigating a suspected plot to steal some dynamite from the State penitentiary explosive storage house at the prison rock quarry, a mile south of here.

Director Frank Jones and Warden Rudolph said a guard found a window had been broken in the building yesterday and a lock on an iron chest where the dynamite is stored had been tampered with. It was not determined whether any "trusty" convict was involved or whether the attempt to steal the explosive had any connection with last week's mutiny at the penitentiary which culminated in a riot in the dining hall.

NEW GERMAN CABINET WINS

Nonconfidence Vote Against Bruening Fails

Work Begins on Pressing Legislative Items

Government Still in Fear of Lacking Support

BERLIN, April 3. (AP)—Victorious by sixty-five votes in its first skirmish with Parliament, the new Bruening Cabinet today began work immediately on pressing legislation, but was none too assured of its future.

The government, headed by Dr. Henrich Bruening, defeated, 252 to 187, a nonconfidence motion offered by the Communists, Fascists and Socialists.

While the Nationalists, led by Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, gave support to the Cabinet, they made so many reservations that the government fears Nationalist support might prove illusory when actual work begins.

Dr. Hugenberg told the Reichstag his party is willing to give the Cabinet a trial only because it has promised farm relief. He said his party assumes no responsibility whatever for the Cabinet's action; that it will decline to vote, among other things, for a German-Polish trade agreement, and for many sections of the financial program.

He added that his party objects to the presence of Drs. Curtius and Wirth in the Cabinet, and charged that the new government was formed "by misusing the name and authority of the Reich's President."

The speech was fiery throughout and the last reference is understood to refer to the fact that President Von Hindenburg had authorized Dr. Bruening to dissolve Parliament in case a nonconfidence motion was carried against him.

Members of the Cabinet realize they have a stormy path ahead but they feel that Dr. Hugenberg's speech was not representative of his party. They held a meeting after the Reichstag adjournment, however, and Dr. Bruening is reported to have consulted his Cabinet as to whether it would be better to dissolve the Reichstag and hold new elections. Meanwhile, the Cabinet is planning its campaign for pushing its legislative program.

GERMAN GENERAL DIES

BERLIN, April 3. (AP)—Gen. Baron George Konrad Von Der Goltz, 77 years of age, died here today. He took a prominent part in the battle of Tannenberg as commander of a landwehr division, and also was known for his musical compositions.

DEARTH OF PANTS ADDS TO FLINT FIRE HAZARDS

FLINT (Mich.) April 3. (AP)—For the next few weeks fire fighting is going to be only a minor hazard among Flint firemen. They have just found out that their pants are rapidly wearing out and there isn't any chance of getting new ones before the present trousers are pretty far gone.

A three-alarm call for pants relief was turned in to the City Council but Aldermen said they were tied up by the city charter and couldn't touch the 1930 budget, in which the pants are included, before July 1. The firemen say they have to have pants—293 pairs of them—long before July 1.

Alderman George Boysen said the city would have to take its chances on having fires extinguished — at least in the daytime—if the pants aren't forthcoming within a couple of weeks.

The Council, which is in a predicament almost as serious as the firemen, has gone into a huddle over the affair.

MEXICO'S AIR RULES TO FAVOR DIRIGIBLES

MEXICO CITY, April 3. (AP)—Under air traffic regulations issued today by the aeronautics section of the Department of Communications dirigibles will have the right of way in Mexican air lanes and the planes must swerve aside to let them pass. No dirigible has yet paid a visit to Mexico, but the department is farsighted and looking to the future. The regulations provide that air craft will keep to the right in the air lane, and swerve to the right, not up, down, nor left to avoid collisions.

'PLEASURE MAN' JURY DISAGREES

Mae West and Cast Still Unconvicted

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—The jury reported disagreement tonight in the case of Mae West, Broadway actress and playwright, and twenty-three other persons charged with violating the Penal Code by presenting her play "Pleasure Man," which was closed as indecent by the police in the fall of 1928. The jury then was dismissed.

"Irrespective of the result of this case," Judge Bertini said, "the difficulty of legal regulation of the drama from the standpoint of morals and decency must be apparent."

Trio Exonerated in Boat Deaths

HOUSTON (Tex.) April 3. (AP)—George Peyton, head of the police homicide squad, reported today that an investigation has not disclosed sufficient evidence on which to base murder charges against Nick Gress, W. D. (Bill) Cunningham and Robert Mahley, and recommended that the charges be dismissed.

The three survived the sinking of a boat on the San Jacinto River Monday and were arrested charged with the murder of three companions who were drowned.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3. (AP)—Robert Paoli, former clerk in the postoffice at Mendocino, Mendocino county, was arrested at Point Richmond today on a Federal warrant charging embezzlement of postal "Collect on delivery" funds. The warant was issued at Sacramento.

BRITAIN TO KEEP PALESTINE GRIP

MacDonald Answers Query on Continued Control

LONDON, April 3. (AP) — Prime Minister MacDonald told the House of Commons today the British government will continue to administer Palestine in accordance with the terms of the mandate as approved by the Council of the League of Nations.

The Prime Minister, who was replying to a question of former Premier Baldwin, said that administration is an international obligation, from which there can be no question of receding.

He said the government is studying the recommendations of the Palestine commission with a view to dealing with the immediate causes of last August's outbreak and preventing a recurrence.

Take the case of Mrs. Catherine Scorey of 2743 E. Broadway, Long Beach, as an instance of what this wonderful new medicine is accomplishing. Here's what she said about Sargon:

MRS. CATHERINE SCOREY

"Sargon took me when I was almost a physical wreck of an even hundred pounds, and brought me an eleven-pound gain in weight, and splendid health. I actually don't believe I'd be alive to 'tell the tale' today if it hadn't been for this wonderful medicine!

"I had an asthmatic condition for seven years, and no one knows how I suffered. I couldn't sleep without propping my head up with pillows, and several times I nearly passed out for want of breath. This trouble pulled me down to where my whole system seemed to go wrong. My kidneys were so weak they'd get me up three or four times every night, my back ached almost constantly, and my nerves went 'all to pieces.' I could hardly eat a thing without having the worst kind of indigestion, and bilious attacks and sick headaches nearly drove me frantic. Constipation was one of my worst troubles, and I was continually having to dose myself with strong laxatives.

"Although I took many kinds of medicines, trying to build up my health, nothing gave me any real lasting help until I started taking Sargon. I've taken just six bottles now and my whole system is strengthened so, my asthmatic condition or whatever it was, has practicaly disappeared; I don't have that shortness of breath at all any more, and I can lie in a natural position and sleep. I'm no longer subject to night rising or backaches on account of my kidneys, and my nerves are wonderfully strengthened. My stomach never bothers me in the least, and I have more strength and energy than I've had in years.

"Sargon Pills regulated my eliminations perfectly, and I don't know what it is to have a sick headache or bilious spell now. Words simply fail me when I try to tell how grateful I am for all this marvelous Sargon treatment has done for me!"

The Sargon Man is at the Owl Drug Store, 6th & Broadway, where he is meeting the public and explaining the merits of this celebrated new scientific product. Sargon may also be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggett's Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement

AT ONCE write Dr. Pierce's Clinic in Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice. Send sample of urine for analysis. No charge for this.

A user of Dr. Pierce's medicines, which are sold by all druggists, writes: "I am a booster for Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets and have good reason for so doing, seeing that they have been a wonderful blessing to me and also to many of my friends to whom I have recommended them. Eleven years ago I was doctoring with no apparent results; I went and purchased one bottle of 'Anuric Tablets' and strange as it may sound, but it is true, after taking that one bottle of the 'Anuric Tablets' I felt decidedly better, and after taking one more bottle was quite well. I have had practically no recurrence of the pain. I trust this letter may be the means of helping other sufferers."—Thomas Hogbin, 1209 K St., Modesto, Calif.

INDIAN WOMAN PLEADS GUILTY

Lila Jimerson Confesses to Murder Complicity

Marchand Case Charge Cut to Second Degree

Sentence to be Pronounced When She Recovers

BUFFALO (N. Y.) April 3. (AP)—Lila Jimerson, Indian woman, pleaded guilty this afternoon in a hospital room which temporarily became a county court, to a reduced charge of murder, second degree, in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Clothilde Marchand, wife of Henri Marchand, widely known artist.

Sentence was not pronounced, the woman being remanded to the custody of the Erie county Sheriff, who will be responsible for her guard while she is undergoing treatments for tuberculosis at the Buffalo City Hospital. As Dr. Walter S. Goodale, superintendent of the hospital, expressed it, "she'll be sentenced after I get through with her."

Lila's determination to accept the opportunity to plead to a reduced charge was taken shortly after noon today and was understood to have been in opposition to the wishes of her family and other members of her tribe.

Charged with murder, first degree, her case was nearing conclusion Monday when it was abruptly brought to a halt by her collapse in the courtroom. A recess was ordered and Lila was taken to the City Hospital, where several physicians who examined her stated that she would not be able to appear in court again for at least two weeks.

Yesterday Judge F. Bret Thorn dismissed the jury and declared the case a mistrial.

Chairman to Undergo Lobby Group's Quiz Today

WASHINGTON, April 3. (AP)—Preliminary to examination of John J. Raskob tomorrow by the Senate lobby committee, Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana, said today he has obtained reports from the House of Representatives which show the Democratic national chairman has contributed $64,500 during the last three years to the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

Raskob has been directed to appear before the lobby committee tomorrow for questioning in regard to his antiprohibition activities. He was called at the suggestion of Senator Robinson.

The Indianan said the reports made by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, which are required by law, show Raskob contributed $17,000 in 1928, $30,000 in 1929, and $17,500 thus far this year.

Raskob will be the first witness in an inquiry by the lobby committee into wet and dry organizations to ascertain their method of operation and the amount of money expended.

BUSINESS SIGNS POINT TO GAINS

Moderate Rises to Spring Peak Anticipated

Lamont Declares Job Total Up Nearly 1,000,000

Mixed Trends Continuing, Survey Reveals

NEW YORK, April 3. (Exclusive) Increasing signs that business in the United States has definitely turned upward and that unemployment is on the wane were in evidence today and came from several sources.

The closing days of March, and of the first quarter of the year find the key industries facing the prospect of a moderate rise to a spring peak in business late in April or early in May, the Business Week reported in making public the results of a survey just completed.

NORMAL IN FALL

At best, however, the survey report shows, it is unlikely that the general level of business activity will return to normal before late fall or toward the end of the third quarter. The prospective moderate spring revival will follow a secondary recession which, resulting from a tendency to over-estimate current consumer demand early in the year, made itself felt around the middle of February. Employment conditions are steadily improving, Chatham Phenix National Bank and Trust Company says in its monthly Outline of Business for April as a result of the $7,000,000,000 expenditure planned by States, railroads and public utilities for construction and maintenance.

Secretary of Commerce Lamont has estimated that from 600,000 to 1,000,000 more workers now are on the pay rolls than at the low point of the depression two months back, and the index figure determined by the United States Department of Labor shows the ratio of employment for February to be 90.3 for each 100 wage earners employed in 1926, the base year, a fractional increase over January when the index figures stood at 90.2, the outline points out.

PAY ROLLS GAIN

Continuing, the outline says: "A much more substantial gain is disclosed for pay roll totals in the factories. The pay roll index for fifty-four industries rose in February to 90.7 from 87.6 the previous month. This rise represents an increase of 3½ per cent in the per capita earnings of 3,210,129 workers, and makes a gain of many millions of dollars in their combined purchasing power. A large part of the increased expenditure for public buildings and road construction are being paid out in wages.

"The final key to the employment situation, however, which is a vigorous and sustained upswing in general business, is still delayed. The principal production indices for March continue to show the mixed trends which began to develop in February after the opening spurt of the year.

"No real recovery of the construction industry is possible, it is generally agreed, until the volume of new residential work returns to something like its normal proportions. The progressive easing of interest rates is expected to promote this, although how quickly any marked effect may be looked for from that quarter is uncertain."

ROLPH WILL MAKE RACE, RUMOR SAYS

Members of California Delegation in Congress Get Veiled Report

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 3. (Exclusive)—Northern members of the California Congressional delegation got word today through some political grapevine route which they refused to reveal that Mayor Rolph of San Francisco has definitely decided to enter the Republican gubernatorial race against Gov. Young and Buron Fitts, District Attorney at Los Angeles. His entry has been a subject of speculation for some weeks.

Englebright of Nevada City and Carter of Oakland were among the representatives who got the "tip." No comment was forthcoming from them or other members of the delegation.

From past discussion of the political situation, however, it is believed to be the consensus in the delegation that with Rolph in the contest the "drys" in the Republican party will find it necessary to unite on one candidate to be sure of defeating the San Francisco Mayor.

AGENT SHOT IN BORDER RUM FIGHT

Smugglers Escape After Battle With Customs Men in Detroit River

DETROIT, April 3. (AP)—Gordon Marsden, 32 years of age, customs border patrolman, was wounded slightly last night in a battle between rum-runners and Federal officers on the Detroit River. A shotgun slug entered Marsden's hand.

Marsden and his companion, K. C. Rudd, reported that the rum-runners opened fire on the government boat after they were ordered to halt while attempting to dash across the river to the Michigan shore in a speed boat. The officers said they retaliated with ten shots, but the smugglers escaped to Canada.

Marsden said he was on patrol with Rudd in a government speed boat when they noticed a black speed boat gliding swiftly through the water toward the American side. The government boat sped alongside and Rudd flashed a searchlight into the rum-runners' craft. At that moment, Marsden said, the smugglers opened fire.

Marsden's wound is not serious. Four bullets from the agents' revolvers put holes in the rum-running speed boat, according to reports from Sandwich, Ont.

LIQUOR SHIP SINKS AFTER ITS CAPTURE

British Vessel Aramay Believed Scuttled by Members of Crew

BOSTON, April 3. (AP)—The British two-masted schooner Aramay, laden with liquor, which was seized off the Maine coast yesterday, sank as she was being towed to this port. She probably was scuttled by her own crew to destroy evidence, Commander Searles, commandant of the Coast Guard base here, intimated today.

The Aramay, out of Halifax, N. S., was believed to have been driven within the twelve-mile limit by adverse winds. The Coast Guard cutter Harriet Lane found her off Mt. Desert Island yesterday and took her in tow.

About nightfall when east of Portsmouth, N. H., it was noticed the schooner was settling. The tow line was cast off and the Coast Guard vessel came alongside and took off the schooner's crew.

After nightfall the Aramay sank, taking 800 cases of choice liquors with her to the bottom.

American Ship Mail Contract Bill Indorsed

WASHINGTON, April 3. (AP)—The White bill to establish preference in ocean mail contracts for companies or individuals who previously purchased United States lines was approved today with two amendments by the Senate Commerce Committee. It was passed recently by the House.

One amendment, sponsored by Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, provides that no new contract for mail service be let on any route where a company purchased from the Shipping Board and operated under a government contract is adequately serving the route.

The other amendment, proposed by Postmaster-General Brown, provides that should the purchaser of a line established by the Shipping Board make application for a mail contract the Postmaster-General May award a contract without advertisement of bids.

SYRACUSE (Sicily) April 3. (AP)—Two earthquakes felt here yesterday had the unusual effect of causing roosters in the city to crow uninterruptedly for a considerable period.

The population was panic-stricken. Many flocked to the chapel of Santa Lucia in the cathedral to pray for protection. Masses were said half hourly today.

INCREASED FIRE FUNDS FAVORED

State Forestry Board Says $800,000 More Needed

Annual Rise of $100,000 to be Minimum Sought

Hazards Declared Growing at Alarming Rate

SACRAMENTO, April 3. (AP)—A total of $800,000 exclusive of funds from Federal and other sources is the minimum need of the State for adequate forest-fire protection, the State Board of Forestry declared today in announcing its policy for the coming season. The board recommended an annual increase of present available funds at a rate of not less than $100,000 yearly until the $800,000 goal is reached.

Reaffirming its policy of adequate fire prevention and suppression on all forest and brush lands and grass and grain acreage adjacent to or intermingled with forest or brush-covered areas, the board announced its decision to relinquish co-operative fire-fighting work to local fire-protection districts as soon as feasible.

WARNING GIVEN

A resolution adopted at a State-wide meeting of forestry interests here last February, urging that the forestry profession and the director of natural resources be represented in all matters concerning a State water program, has been sent to the State Engineer, the board said.

Policies outlined by the board concurred with principles expressed at the State-wide forestry meeting.

"Unless adequate financial provision for effective forest and range-fire prevention is made," the board warned, "an ever increasing loss of some of the State's most valuable resources must be expected. Rapid highway extension and phenomenal growth of automotive transportation are but two of many factors contributing to the increase of fire hazards at a rapid rate.

MEMBERS OF BOARD

"Despite the campaign of education which the board has carried on for several years, carelessness of smokers and spread of industrial enterprises into regions formerly rated as inaccessible are playing important parts in increasing the danger of watershed, forest and range destruction."

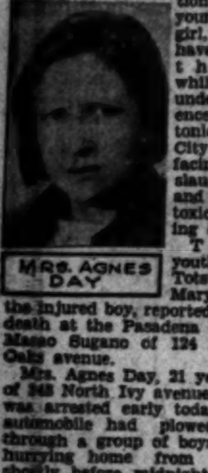
GIRL HELD AS DEATH DRIVER

Admits to Police She Had Drunk Wine Tonic

Arrested on Street After Wrecking Her Machine

One Boy Victim Dies and Another Badly Hurt



MRS. AGNES DAY

PASADENA, April 3.—A 12-year-old boy is dead, his 11-year-old chum is reported in a dying condition and a young Monrovia girl, said to have run over the youths while she was under the influence of wine tonic, is in the City Jail today facing manslaughter, hit and run and intoxicated driving charges.

The dead youth is George Totsubo of 218 Mary street, and the injured boy, reported to be near death at the Pasadena Hospital, is Masao Sugano of 124 North Fair Oaks avenue.

Mrs. Agnes Day, 21 years of age, of 343 North Ivy avenue, Monrovia, was arrested early today after an automobile had plowed its way through a group of boys who were hurrying home from the circus shortly before midnight. The accident occurred on South Broadway, opposite the Southern Pacific freight office. Totsubo and Sugano, directly in the path of the automobile, were hurled to the pavement and Ballard James of 250 North Michigan avenue and Paul Morgan of 238 North Catalina avenue narrowly escaped being struck.

Witnesses reported that the girl driver did not stop, but sped north on Broadway and wrecked the car against a baggage truck. Mrs. Day was later taken into custody on Colorado street by Patrolmen Clouser and Malone, who reported that she admitted being the owner of the car. Dr. J. P. Szukalski reported that she was intoxicated and admitted drinking wine tonic.

The girl told Chief of Police Kelley today that she is married, but had been out for a ride last night with Donald Fross, laundry employee.

"I've been working in a laundry in daytime and ushering in a Monrovia theater at night," she sobbed. "I was blue and that is the only reason I went out last night. I wanted to cheer up. All we did was drink some tonic and then I drove Don home and from then on my mind's a blank as to what happened. I've never hurt anyone before and wish I could die!"

The injured boys were taken direct to the Pasadena Hospital by Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Aron of 1120 Meridian avenue, South Pasadena. Both youths incurred fractured skulls. Totsubo died at 7:30 a.m. An inquest over his body will be held tomorrow morning at the Ives & Warren mortuary, 100 North Hill avenue.

DOWNEY WOMAN FACES MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

HUNTINGTON PARK, April 3.—Holding an inquest in the death of Frank O. Strand of this city, who was killed here as a result of being struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Florence Ellis of Downey Tuesday afternoon, a Coroner's jury today brought in a verdict charging Mrs. Ellis with being negligent in operating the machine and a complaint was filed in Judge Edward H. Miller's court late today charging Mrs. Ellis with manslaughter. The complaint was signed by Mrs. Lillie N. Strand, wife of the deceased.

The warrant was served by local police officers. Mrs. Ellis's bail was placed at $1000 for her appearance later.

Funeral services for Strand will be conducted Saturday afternoon at the Wheat-Halverson chapel, in charge of the local lodge of Elks, of which he was a member.

DRIVER'S NEGLIGENCE BLAMED BY JURY

REDONDO BEACH, April 3.—The death of John W. Carter as the result of an automobile collision here Monday was ascribed to the negligence of Raymond Kinne, manager of the Los Angeles office of the P. J. Walker Company, by a Coroner's jury today.

In the hearing before Deputy Coroner J. Pierce Kane, witnesses and officers who investigated, testified that Kinne, driving north on Pacific avenue, was looking at a folder in his hand and failed to see Carter's car which approached from Guadalupe avenue, a side street.

Kinne was given a citation for reckless driving, following the accident.

PLANET X'S MOON WILL BE HUNTED

Mt. Wilson Observatory Astronomers to Attempt Search for Satellite

PASADENA, April 3.—An attempt to discover whether Planet X, recently sighted by Lowell Observatory astronomers, possesses a moon, will be made in the near future by Mt. Wilson Observatory astronomers, it was announced today by Alfred H. Joy, secretary of the observatory.

"Apparently no one has thought of looking for a possible moon about the ninth planet," said Joy. "Next week is my turn for observation on the mountain and I plan to look for possible Planet X satellites. In taking photographs to be studied in connection with the search for such satellites, a much longer exposure will be necessary than the one-half hour we gave to the pictures we took of the planet itself. In any event, it will be an interesting experiment."

THRONGS VIEW GIANT WISTARIA

Floral Spectacle Nearly Forty Years in Making

Vine Believed Longest of Kind, Scene of Fete

Arboreal Rarity at Sierra Madre in Record Bloom

SIERRA MADRE, April 3.—A floral spectacle which has taken thirty-seven years to perfect was viewed today by more than 3000 persons at the official opening of the eleventh annual Wistaria Fete at the home of Mrs. T. H. Fennell, 201 West Carter avenue, who with her husband, now deceased, nurtured the vine to its present giant proportions.

The vine, which is more than 500 feet long and believed to be the largest of its kind in the world, completely encircles the Fennel home and during the last decade has extended its twining branches on neighboring oaks and three large arbors constructed to accommodate its amazing growth.

The blossoms this year surpass those of the last two years, being near perfect as far as coloring and size are concerned. The unusual growth of the vine during the last year is attributed to special cultivation and climatic conditions, according to Mrs. Fennell.

The fete is sponsored by the Woman's Club. Mrs. J. H. Robertson, president, fell down a flight of stone steps in the Fennell garden yesterday, fracturing her right arm, but she was present this morning to preside at the official opening.

Breakfast served beneath the arbor of flowers was a feature of the day when guests were honored. Besides many artists and writers, guests seen about the tables were City Manager R. V. Orbison and Mrs. Orbison of Pasadena; Charles Adams, Los Angeles city planner, and Col. H. B. Hersey, official weather forecaster, and Mrs. Hersey.

BLIND MAN SEES ROMANCE

Ex-Navy Man Blinded in Explosion, Who Conducts Magazine Stand, to Marry Fair Customer Soon

GLENDALE, April 3.—Totally blind for twelve years, Randall H. (Al) Lindsey has operated a magazine stand and newspaper agency at the corner of Brand Boulevard and Broadway, this city's busiest corner. He started in his business eight years ago, four years after he had been blinded by an explosion on the U.S.S. Des Moines, on which he was serving as a sailor.

Ever since then the blind merchant has peddled his papers and magazines, able to go to the racks and pick out any publication his patrons desire without an instant's hesitation. He knows the voices of his customers and can call scores of them by name.

Several months ago a new voice fell on his ears when a girl asked him for a magazine. The ease with which he reached into the rack for the magazine impressed the girl and she stopped to chat with him for a few minutes. These visits became regular affairs, and the acquaintance ripened until love and romance lightened the darkness of Al's life.

The girl was Miss Bernice Hahn and Monday night she will become Mrs. Randall H. Lindsey in a wedding ceremony performed in the home that Al has bought with his savings at 529 North Concord street. Justice Burt L. Wix will perform the ceremony in the presence of a few intimate friends of the couple, the selection falling on Judge Wix because of his long acquaintance with Lindsey in the American Legion post.

Al intends to keep on at the same old stand after his wedding. "You know, when a man gets married he just naturally has to keep on earning a living for his family," he declared.

PERRIS PREPARES FOR PLAY

Valley to Present "Mocking Bird"

Eagle Dancers From Sherman Institute

All roads lead to Perris Valley next Saturday and Sunday for opening of annual desert classic, in which Indian dances and games are featured. The spectacle will be repeated the following week-end.

PERRIS, April 3.—Indian dances and games are to be seen in Perris Valley next Saturday and Sunday and the same days of the following week. Yumas, Papagos, Hopis and Zunis will dance and play or chant in sorrow for their dead comrades. Ten of the Indian boys come from the Sherman Institute at Arlington, devoted admirers of the handsome baritone leading man, Chief Ho-To-Pi.

The new leading lady is the beautiful wife of the Mayor of Perris, Mrs. Leone Dodson, whose natural grace and clever acting have won her much fame already. As Rosita, the 18-year-old Indian maid just out of school, Mrs. Dodson has a convincing sweet sincerity. Her grandfather, Chief Yaidro, impersonated by W. B. Trueman of San Diego and Perris, lends a majesty to the desert fantasy, while Rosita's nurse, Carlotta, is one of the cleverest character actors in pageantry.

From the Logan Dancing Academy of Riverside come the Mexican dancers with their gayly colored dresses and vivacious grace. The four musicians play for the dance through the co-operation and courtesy of Frank Miller of the Mission Inn, who is always keenly interested in anything which promotes harmonious community progress.

Well mated in their splendid emotional acting, both Louise Logan as Mariquita, the Mexican vamp, and G. R. Gough as Olema, the Basque villain, give all the necessary spice and contrast to the Indian characterizations, while the soldiers in their resplendent uniforms of the 1850 period lend dash and color to the picture. The soldiers are Capt. Lloyd Newport, Fred Newport, Clifford Stewart and Rufus M. Hook.

The squaws, Indian girls and children are Emily Trujillo, Esperanza Connell, Bonnie May Connell, Pilar Murruffo, Edith Neely, Janet Beatty, Susie Martin, Jean Schwarz, Barbara Moore, Belva Small, Marie Uhlman, Mary Thelma Ragsdale and Marion Sweet.

The Indian boys from Sherman Institute are Charlie Black, Jose Ezalio, Anderson Miguel, Andrew Emerson, Earl Miguel, Luke Dummha, Jose Lallio, Peter Suanya, Henry Collins and Eliseo Concho.

A truly community outdoor play, "Mocking Bird," the desert fantasy, has drawn all but its leading man from the talented life of Riverside county. Its director, its designer of posters and circulars, and its author, are all from the county. The composer of its English songs is Mrs. Pearl La Force Mayer of San Diego, and of its Spanish song Mrs. Gertrude Ross of Los Angeles. Never has the country looked so beautiful and all of Perris Valley is preparing to give an adequate welcome to the thousands who will come to view "Mocking Bird."

All roads lead to Perris for the next two week-ends.

WAR BIRDS SEEK ARMY WORMS

Aerial Maneuvers in Coachella Valley by Eagles and Hawks Attacking Legions of Crawling Pests, Bring Throngs of Onlookers to Witness Spectacle

INDIO, April 3.—Apparently most of the eagles and hawks of Southern California have been drawn to the Coachella Valley during the past few days, literally hundreds of them congregating in what is known as the Indian Wells district, between here and Palm Springs. The eagles evidently are drawn here in connection with a visitation of army worms, which have invaded the Indian Wells district, and may be seen in great armies traveling through the brush.

Over these armies hover the eagles of all varieties, alighting at frequent intervals, apparently to gorge themselves upon the army worms. Crowds of residents of the valley and visitors at Palm Springs throng to watch the unusual sight. At first the birds were thought to be buzzards, but although they will not allow humans to come near them, binoculars show them to be eagles and hawks.

Never before in this valley has been seen such a gathering of birds of prey, although the army worms have been here several times before.

Otis Smith Gets 600-Days Sentence at Pasadena

Traffic Patrolman Praised for Courage by Chief

PASADENA, April 3.—Asserted to have attempted to dislodge a motorcycle officer from his running board by zig-zagging his automobile at a high rate of speed, Otis Smith, asserted negro bootlegger, was given jail sentences totaling 600 days today in the local Police Court.

Motorcycle Officer L. R. Irish, former United States Army aviator, reported that when he jumped on the running board of the negro's car to arrest him for driving while intoxicated, the suspect refused to stop and drove from one side of the street to the other while racing south on South Orange Grove avenue at the rate of forty-five miles an hour.

Irish finally drew his revolver and forced Smith to draw up to the curb and submit to being handcuffed.

The motorcycle officer's courage in refusing to abandon the chase by leaping from the running board was commended officially by Chief of Police Charles H. Kelley.

The women who are entering the venture include representatives from practically every organization on the campus, and are vitally interested in athletics, dramatics, music, journalism, general academic work, social life, or service work, so that the chart should illustrate a cross section of university life.

Phil Whiting

HEMET, April 3.—For the second consecutive year, Phil Whiting of Hollywood has been chosen to stage the 1930 Ramona Pageant, to be presented on the afternoons of the 26th and 27th inst., May 3 and 4 and 10 and 11, here, according to advices received from Edward Poorman, president and manager of the pageant association.

The director is widely known for his activities in connection with the Greek Theater at Berkeley, outdoor plays at Carmel, Mt. Tamalpais, Palm Springs and Coronado. He was the director of the last two productions of the Pilgrimage Play in Hollywood, and succeeded to the mantle of the late Garnet Holme in directing last year's presentation of the Ramona Pageant.

Fiesta scenes and other spectacular features of the pageant will be elaborated this year in an effort to surpass the 1929 production, the most successful in the history of the pageant from the standpoint of dramatic artistry and attendance, according to Poorman. Approximately 25,000 persons saw the six performances in the picturesque Ramona Bowl, a modern concrete amphitheater.

VENTURA, April 3.—Charges against the C. C. M. Oil Company at Seacliff for polluting the beach by allowing oil to drain off from its sump holes were filed yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Burton Rogers at the request of R. E. Bedwell, deputy State Fish and Game Commissioner.

Bedwell said that the oil company probably inadvertently allowed the oil to drain off with the water in the sump holes, but that inasmuch as about one-half mile of the beach showed signs of oil the charge was made.

Committee of Seventy Back of Senator Grundy

Wet Association Predicts Prohibition as Issue

Organization for Purity of Ballot Aids Pinchot

PHILADELPHIA, April 3. (AP)—The Committee of Seventy, whose objective is purity of the ballot, is engaged actively in the political campaign with the announcement of Thomas Raeburn White, chairman, that it urges the voters to support Joseph R. Grundy for United States Senator and Gifford Pinchot for Governor.

At the same time the Association Against Prohibition has asserted through its secretary, William Morse, that the prohibition question will be the dominant issue in the May 20 primary.

In urging support of a Grundy-Pinchot ticket, White charged the Philadelphia Republican organization with seeking to extend its power throughout the State.

"AFFRONT TO PEOPLE"

"It is an affront to the people of Pennsylvania," White declared, "that this organization should seek to extend its power over the State."

Pinchot, who is running for Governor independently, has made no comment thus far on the suggestion that he unite with Grundy on a ticket against Secretary of Labor Davis for Senator and Francis Shunk Brown for Governor.

Before the White statement was issued, however, Pinchot trained his guns on Brown, organization candidate, charging him with failure to make known his position on various issues, particularly that of prohibition.

In reply Brown said the voters will be advised in plenty of time of his stand.

BRANCHES PLANNED

The Association Against Prohibition, with three headquarters already functioning here, announced that branches will be established in all wards and counties of the State.

Announcement came from Harrisburg yesterday that representatives of labor in conference there have declined for the present to indorse a State ticket and that they are opposed to the nomination of Senator Grundy.

Word also came from the capital that Gov. Fisher will support the candidacy of the Senator. "My appointment of Mr. Grundy to the Senate and my speech at the testimonial dinner tendered him after his appointment should be evidence of my position," the executive said.

AUSTRALIA SETS EMERGENCY TAX

Fifty Per Cent Duty Added to Many Luxuries

Import Cut of $60,000,000 Aim of Action

Move Part of Labor Party's Improvement Plans

CANBERRA (Australia) April 3. (AP)—Premier Scullin today announced imposition of a 50 per cent supertax on luxury imports. Imports of some luxuries are absolutely forbidden under the new restriction.

The luxury lines on which the supertax is to be imposed include all spirits, beverage, matches and piece goods under the heading of textiles, felts, manufactures thereof, and attire other than piece goods in knitted tubular form of cotton-silk or containing silk and artificial silks, or being an admixture of wool and other fibers.

TAX IN FORCE TOMORROW

The tax, which comes into force tomorrow, will apply also to umbrellas, refrigerators, inks, paints, printer's ink, glassware, perfumery, toilet preparation, artificial perfumes in concentrated form, synthetic, natural and essential oils. Lounges, picture frames, articles used in outdoor and indoor games, toys, precious stones, rolled gold, imitation jewelry, stones, pearls, cinematographs, gramaphones and records, rubber boots, motorcycles, motorcars, and bodies and other vehicles, cameras, cordage and articles of attire, including suits, overcoats, blouses, skirts and costumes.

In an address before the House of Representatives, in the course of which he announced the tax, Premier Scullin said: "This is not ordinary tariff. It is an extraordinary action taken as an emergency measure. After five months in office the Labor party has been responsible for improvement in Australia's financial position, but there are still many difficulties to be overcome.

HOPE TO CUT IMPORTS

"We stand for British preference, but Britain can not have it both ways. She criticized us and refused us loans, told us to put our house in order. If we proceed to do so she can not complain.

"We hope to lessen imports by £12,000,000 (about $60,000,000.) The new duties and embargoes will not apply to goods in bond or now on the water. In view of the new tariff giving them a practical monopoly of the markets the leading manufacturers of agricultural implements have undertaken an immediate reduction in prices of 5 per cent."

CANAL RIGHT SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, April 3. (AP)—Upon recommendation of the Interior Department Chairman Leavitt of the House Indian Committee today introduced a bill to authorize the Secretary of the Interior to use the right of way for an irrigation canal in the Casa Grande Ruins National Monument, Arizona. The action was explained as in connection with the San Carlos irrigation project.

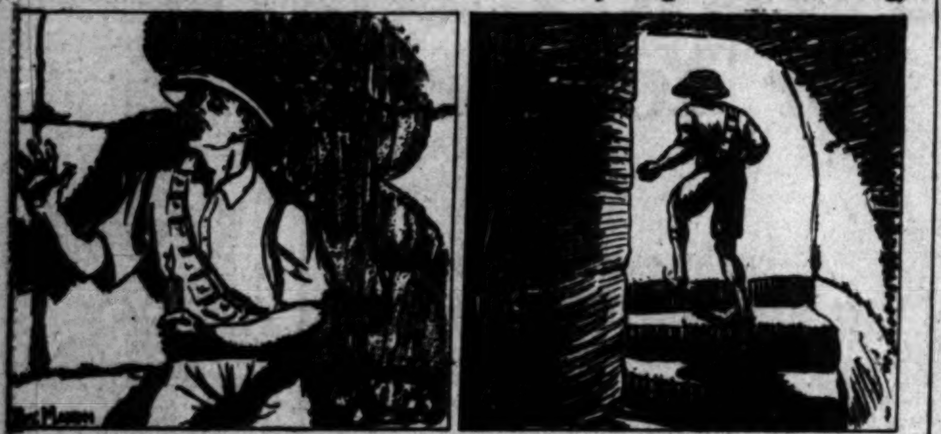
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

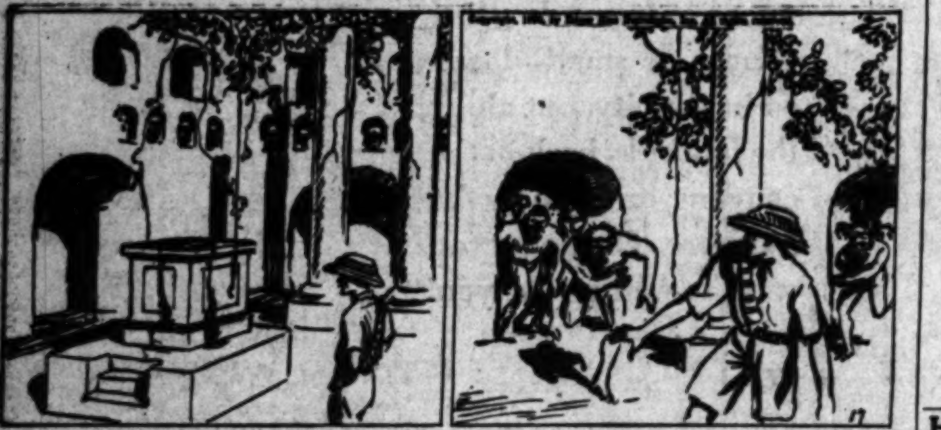
TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



The earthquake had completely barred the tunnel entrance. Groping blindly along the chamber walls, Werper was almost in despair when he stumbled upon another passageway. For an hour he wandered along this damp corridor until at last he saw an opening far overhead and a patch of sky pinked with brilliant stars. As he stood greedily breathing the crisp air there broke suddenly upon his startled ears a piercing scream.

It diminished gradually until it ended in a series of dismal moans. He listened fearfully but the hideous cry, half human, was not repeated. And then Werper swooned. When he awoke it was daylight and to his immense relief he saw that a flight of stairs led upward across the courtyard in which he had slept—how long he could not guess. Boldly he ascended the steps to find himself in a circular court bathed in brilliant sunlight.



Massive columns towered skyward twined about by clinging vines. Through leafy branches came no sound but the sighing of the wind, the cries of birds, and the chattering of monkeys. There was no sign of human beings. Just before him stood a stone altar, stained with rusty-brown discolorations. Soon he was to know their meaning! He saw several doors opening into the inclosure and above a series of open balconies.

Little monkeys scampered about the deserted ruins and gay plumaged birds flitted undisturbed among the galleries higher up. Werper felt relieved. He sighed as though a great weight had been lifted from his shoulders. He took a step toward one of the exits, and then he halted, for almost at the same instant a dozen doors opened in the courtyard wall and a horde of frightful men rushed in upon him. They were the priests of the Flaming God of Opar!

Mathias, Federal prohibition agent for the southern counties of the San Joaquin Valley, were made here today by his wife in connection with the filing of a suit for divorce. In addition to charging Mathias with various cruel acts during their thirteen months of married life, Mrs. Mathias, formerly Olga M. Jarvis, charges that he participated in a bootleg raid on her home north of this city, assisted in arresting her on liquor-selling charges, and then interceded with Justice of the Peace G. W. Smith and obtained leniency for her.

This occurred while they were "keeping company," she said. Mrs. Mathias asks $125 per month alimony and custody of their daughter.

Mrs. Mathias's complaint asserts that they were married at Goldfield, Nev., on March 26, 1929, and that until December 23, Mathias refused to allow her to live in Fresno, and until January 15 of this year, denied to his friends and acquaintances that he had married her.

She says that he cautioned her not to reveal that they were married, asserting that it would hurt his chances for promotion in the prohibition enforcement service. She says he forced her to live at Tujunga, and provided food for her through his sister there, from whom she obtained it.

Charging that Mathias boasted that he was a "Don Juan among the women of Fresno," Mrs. Mathias asserts in her complaint that he told her there were many Fresno girls he could have as sweethearts and that she was lucky to have him for a husband. She also accuses him of associating with unnamed "other women."

She says further that he exhibited a superior attitude, made false statements concerning his salary and absences from home, continually found fault over money she spent on herself and their child, refused her sufficient money to purchase proper clothing, and objected when she sought money, referring to an account book in which he kept account of money he gave her.

She also says he nagged her and refused her permission to visit her mother except on infrequent occasions.

On January 31, last, Mathias announced here that he had married Mrs. Helen Beck, widow of a San Francisco attorney. It was not until today that it was learned publicly that she was Olga Jarvis before her marriage to Beck.

Abatement proceedings were started January 25 against the house where she had been living, but they were dismissed when the Jarvis family was evicted by the owners of the property.

RECIPROCAL MOTOR LAW PROJECTED

Canadian Provinces and American States Plan Mutual Legislation

HAMILTON (Ont.) April 3. (AP)—A plan for international legislation between Canada and the United States to provide for the prosecution of motorists wanted for breaking laws on foreign highways was announced last night by George S. Henry, provincial Minister of Highways.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Hamilton Auto Club, he said several provinces and many States are now framing reciprocal laws to allow prosecution of citizens wanted by the other nation.

The Provincial Legislature two weeks ago passed a law providing for the automatic suspension of an Ontario motorist's license when he is involved in an accident either in Canada or the United States until he posts a bond with the registrar of motor vehicles here to cover damage liability.

The international legislation, Henry said, is meant to curb the motorist who, while touring the alien country, abuses hospitality or breaks the law with impunity, expecting to escape consequences by speeding home.

ENGINEERS BATTLE TO CURB WELL

Control Head and Heavy Bonnet Ready for Placing on Oklahoma Gusher

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) April 3. (AP)—While one type of control head is poised on the derrick floor tonight, engineers are rushing completion of another to use in event the first fails to curb the enormous flow of the No. 1 Mary Sudik wild-oil gusher in the south end of the Oklahoma City oil field.

Workmen are strengthening a specially constructed "bonnet" or master valve to place over the top of the casing and shut in the flow, estimated at 2000 barrels an hour. This work is being supervised by Homer Craid of Tampico, Mex., who arrived here today by airplane to make an effort to tame the gusher.

The control head which was put on the derrick floor today is known as an "overshot." An effort will be made to put it into place and shut in the well, and if it fails to stop the flow, the "bonnet," weighing 3000 pounds, then will be placed over the casing.

Kansan Goes on Slaying Spree

WICHITA (Kan.) April 3. (AP)—After fatally wounding Bob Boaz as he sat at the wheel of his truck in front of a confectionery here, Mac Serells fled in a motor car to a residence and there turned the gun on himself and Miss Bonnie White.

It is believed both will die.

MATRONS' DUEL ENDS HAPPILY

Polish Women Shoot, But Bullets Fail to Find Human Targets

WARSAW, April 3. (AP)—An affair of honor between two fiery matrons of Warsaw which they attempted to settle with pistols in story-book style ended happily today when after several shots each discovered she was unable to hit the other. Both decided their honor had been saved and went home to cook breakfast.

Two women acted as seconds, while a woman surgeon was on hand in the event of casualty. One of the women is asserted to have found the other woman in a cafe with her husband, whereupon she administered a stinging slap. The other woman then demanded a duel.

TRAVEL TO SEQUOIA AT NEW MARK

Visitors to Date Third More Than Same Period of Last Season

SEQUOIA NATIONAL PARK, April 3.—During the past week visitors from thirty-one States, Canada and England entered this park. To date 7600 more persons have entered the park than this time last year, an increase of 33 per cent.

Visitors during the past week included Chief Engineer F. A. Kittredge, Chief Naturalist Ansel F. Hall, J. M. Miller, entomologist for the Department of Agriculture, and Dr. Wallace W. Atwood, president of Clark University, Worcester, Mass., president of the National Parks Association, and a member of the educational advisory committee of the National Park Service. During his visit, plans were perfected for a pack trip over the John Muir trail during the coming summer.

The recent storm brought .45 of an inch of rain to Giant Forest, accompanied by thunder and lightning. The storm deposited two inches of fresh snow, increasing the depth to twenty-four inches, as compared to forty-five a year ago.

The road to Giant Forest is in good condition, but visitors should carry chains as occasional storms occur at this time of the year. The lower section of the road will be oiled late this month.

The wild flower show of the foothills continues in its beauty and in a few weeks when the buckeyes blossom, it will be even more alluring.

Plans are under way for the summer season, which officially opens May 15. The Giant Forest lodge will open at that time, with a wide range of accommodations for visitors. Overnight accommodations may now be obtained at the Giant Forest winter camp. Comfortable cabins and a modern restaurant are being operated for benefit of those wishing to enjoy a stay beneath the big trees.

Western Union Records Seized in Capone Fight

CHICAGO, April 3. (AP)—Telegraphic money orders, said to aggregate $100,000 sent by, and to, Alphonse "Scarface" Capone during 1928, were under scrutiny of the United States District Attorney today as the government pushed its campaign against gangsters suspected of evading income-tax payments.

For months, it was revealed, government investigators, working under Dist.-Atty. Johnson, have been inquiring into sources and amounts of Capone's income. Seizure of the Western Union orders was considered an important link in the chain of evidence on which indictments are to be sought.

Last of Mine Victims Found

KETTLE ISLAND (Ky.) April 3. (AP)—The last of the bodies of the sixteen miners entombed here Saturday by an explosion was recovered today when rescue workers located the body of J. E. Hill, foreman. Nine others had been recovered earlier today and six on Monday.

All but one of the miners was married and the disaster made fifteen widows and orphans of fifty-one children. An appeal for aid for them has been made by the Red Cross.

Blease Renews Crime Assault

WASHINGTON, April 3. (AP)—In another general assault against what he termed "crime conditions" in the national capital, Senator Blease, Democrat, South Carolina, urged in the Senate today that the Federal and city authorities deal with foreigners, including attaches of embassies who violate the law, the same as they do with citizens.

"Crime is rampant all over the city," Blease shouted as he held up newspaper clippings and photographs on recent law violations.

OKLAHOMA PIONEER DIES

TULSA (Okla.) April 3. (AP)—P. I. Brown, 77 years of age, Eastern Oklahoma pioneer cattle man and banker and former United States Marshal, died today at his home here. Injuries suffered eight years ago in an automobile accident are believed to have contributed to his death.

SHIPPING NEWS

AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

CARGO SERVICE SETS NEW RATE

Westbound Tariffs Reduced by Redwood Line

Cut Applies to Soap, Iron, Steel, Canned Goods

Tie-up With Illinois Central Rail in Effect

BY WALDO DRAKE

A new low westbound rate on iron, steel, canned goods and soap, 15 per cent below the existing tariff on these commodities for all-water transport from the North Atlantic, will be placed in effect on the 22nd inst. by the Redwood Line via a rail-and-water shipment route from Chicago to Pacific Coast ports, it was announced yesterday by Miles Cantelow, district manager. The new rates are result of an agreement between the Illinois Central Railroad, the Mississippi-Warrior barge service, and the Redwood Line.

Freight originating in the eastern industrial area can thus be carried to its Pacific Coast destination by rail from Chicago, down the Mississippi River in Warrior barges and from Mobile in Redwood steamers as quickly as cargo loaded at New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia or Norfolk on steamers of Class B intercoastal lines, according to Mr. Cantelow. The new through rates of the Redwood Line follow: Soap, 55 cents per 400 pounds; iron and steel products, 58.5 cents for building products to 65.5 cents for plate and sheet steel, and canned goods, 73 cents.

It was learned yesterday that the Luckenbach Line and Swayne & Hoyt's Gulf-Pacific service have, as a result of the Illinois Central-Redwood action, entered into a new through rate agreement out of the Gulf with the Missouri Pacific Railroad, and will quote new tariffs to equal the Redwood Line. As a result, a material increase in general cargo receipts from Gulf ports is expected by all three lines.

Mr. Cantelow yesterday denied reports that he is to be transferred from duty here as Redwood Line general agent to coast headquarters at San Francisco. Conditions are hopeful, he said, for an increase of Redwood's present six-ship, fourteen-day Gulf-Pacific service.

PHILIPPINE SUGAR TRADE SHIFT LOOMS

Shifting of an important percentage of the Philippine sugar receipts to Los Angeles Harbor for distribution is seen in the arrival from Manila yesterday of the Matson steamer Maunawili and the arrival today of the Oceanic and Oriental liner Golden Hind. Regular shipments of the product hereafter were indicated.

The Maunawili brought in for local discharge 2800 bags of sugar from Manila, 170,000 feet of Philippine hardwood from Cadiz and Manila, and 100 bales of hemp. For this port on the Golden Hind is 8000 bags of sugar, 261,000 feet of hardwood, and 900 tons of hemp, rubber and general cargo.

Harold G. de Golia, veteran coast shipping man and newly appointed Southern California general passenger agent for the French Line, was yesterday at his new post in the C. C. Chapman Building. He succeeds Howard Adams, who has joined the forces of the Criswell Travel Agency.

Los Angeles Steamship Company will have an arrival and a departure tomorrow in its Hawaiian service. The City of Los Angeles will sail at noon with 170 passengers and 3000 tons of freight, while the Calawaii is due from the islands in the afternoon with 274 travelers and 2000 tons of pineapples, bagasse, sugar, coffee and honey.

Among those sailing on the City of Los Angeles will be Josephine P. Simrall, dean of women at the University of Cincinnati; Mrs. Ruth Taylor White, San Francisco artist, and Howard McKay, local advertising man.

Appointment of Morgan Huntoon, now chief inspector of the United States Intercoastal Conference's weighing and inspection bureau here, as district manager of the same bureau, was announced yesterday by Thomas G. Widmeyre, Pacific Coast chief of the intercoastal conference.

Eight hundred bales of dry cotton were salvaged by Merritt, Chapman & Scott from the steamer Rhine Maru, ashore at Point Sur, and dispatched to San Francisco yesterday on the Nome City. Seven hundred dry bales had been put on the Prentiss the day before. A cotton expert left for the scene last night to advise disposition of 2500 bales which are wet. The salvagers yesterday sent clam shells here to remove the gypsum, and four more air compressors and pumps to aid later in the floating operation. The engine and fire rooms were pumped down as a test, and allowed to fill again to hold the ship steady. Hope still is held for floating the ship.

Commerce through Los Angeles Harbor during the quarter-year just closed, totaled 5,681,668 tons, valued at $244,643,905, as against 5,773,634 tons and $241,309,851 for the first quarter of 1929. Shipments foreign, to Hawaii and to the East Coast were responsible for the increase, as receipts fell off except those from Hawaii.

(AP)—George Armes, president of the General Engineering and Dry Dock Company of San Francisco, who has been negotiating for purchase of the yard and plant of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company at San Pedro, said today that he plans to leave here tomorrow night to close the deal. Armes said he was sure the deal will ultimately be consummated, but there "are a multitude of details to be worked out that naturally requires considerable time."

Morgan Huntoon, chief inspector of the Weighing and Inspection Bureau of the United States Intercoastal Conference at Los Angeles, has been appointed district manager of the bureau with headquarters at Wilmington, Thomas G. Widmeyre, Pacific Coast representative of the conference, announced today. Huntoon, Widmeyre said, will retain his duties as chief inspector at Los Angeles Harbor, and in addition will represent the Weighing and Inspection Bureau in its relations with the general shipping public and member lines.

MEXICO CITY INOCULATES THOUSANDS

Black Smallpox Spread Causes Scare, Although Only Few Have Died

MEXICO CITY, April 3. (AP)—The wide spread of "black" smallpox here and in surrounding districts has thrown such a scare into residents that wholesale vaccinations are in order.

Thousands of school children are being inoculated daily by brigades of the medical school of the National University. The newspaper Excelsior has installed a free clinic where vaccination and other similar services are performed.

When the sanitary brigade went to the near-by town of Cuajimalpa to vaccinate the population it was necessary to carry a police escort and vaccinate many inhabitants by force. The brigade was stoned as it left.

Many cases of the disease are reported here but as yet there have been only a few deaths. So-called black smallpox is a particularly virulent form.

CHINA BANDITS DENIED RANSOM

Money Not to be Paid for Missionaries' Release

Murder of Briton Reported in Tien-sin Dispatch

Fate of American Catholics Remains in Doubt

SHANGHAI, April 3. (AP)—Reports today indicated that increasing numbers of missionaries and other foreigners are being caught in the network of bandit operations that has been spread over the Yangtse Valley and several southern provinces of China.

Announcing a stern policy in dealing with attacks upon its missionaries, the China Inland Mission headquarters here said that no ransom money will be paid to bandits, as to do so "would endanger every foreigner in the interior of China and place a premium on kidnaping."

RANSOM DEMANDED

This policy was stated in connection with the kidnaping of Rev. R. W. Porteous and Mrs. Porteous of England and Miss Nina E. Gemmell of Tacoma, Wash. Captured a week ago by bandits who pillaged the city of Yuanchow, Kiangsi province, they are held prisoner in a bandit mountain camp, ransom of $20,000 Mexican each being demanded for their release.

From Tien-tsin came reports that Yorke Scarlett, a British missionary, was murdered at Peitaiho last night while inspecting mission property.

Because of the bandit operations near Nanchang, Kiangsi Province, said Bishop D. T. Huntington of the American Church Mission, several missionary families fled from Nanchang to Wu Hu, Anwhei Province. They informed the bishop that fifty other foreigners are prepared to evacuate Nanchang immediately.

FARMERS TURN BANDITS

Huntington, who arrived here today from Wu Hu, asserted that farmers, heavily burdened by taxation of the Nationalist government, which did nothing for them, are becoming bandits in desperation.

Dispatches from Canton stated that Nanenfu, Kiangsi Province, remained in the possession of Red forces, with the fate of American Catholic missionaries there unknown.

Nanyung, city of Northern Kwangtung Province, was reported captured by bandits, who have been active throughout the northern part of the province and the adjacent Kiangsi Province.

Meanwhile, nothing definite has been received concerning the condition of sixteen American Catholic missionaries held in the bandit-beleaguered city of Kanchow, Kiangsi, since early last month.

Although a telegram from Bishop John A. O'Shea dated March 29 was received at Washington stating the missionaries are safe, another dispatch from the bishop, received here yesterday, said the missionaries are still besieged by bandits and their condition continues precarious.

LABORER TAKES HONORS AT ART

Iron Molder's Statue Wins First Prize at Glasgow Exhibition

GLASGOW (Scotland) April 3. (AP)—A Scottish iron molder has startled Glasgow art circles by running away with the honors at the Socialist art exhibition with his plaster statue called "The Runner," which he made in spare time.

A number of well-known artists and sculptors who were unaware of the artist's identify declared that "The Runner" must be the work of a great foreign artist who was making his first appearance in Scotland.

John Longden, the laborer sculptor, has spent all his life molding iron and never attended an art school.

Border Patrol Kills Mexican Liquor Runner

EL PASO (Tex.) April 3. (AP)—The morgue claimed one Mexican today and jail another as liquor warfare flared again on the American border. The battle occurred in the rough sand-hill country west of Anapra, N. M., and about fifteen miles west of here, when border patrolmen surprised the liquor smuggling party.

The dead man was identified as Lorenzo Galindo, while his partner, captured by the patrolmen, gave his name as Pablo Ortiz.

H. C. Horsley, chief patrol inspector, said Ortiz made a statement in which he admitted he and Galindo had accepted $3 each to smuggle a consignment of liquor into the United States. He said a can of Mexican rum had been confiscated.

The shooting was the eighteenth clash this year between smugglers and patrolmen and the fourth to result fatally for a rum runner.

SHOALS ACTION LIKELY TODAY

Senate Rejects All Moves to Amend Resolution

Norris Confident Measure Will be Adopted

Government Operation of Project Proposed

WASHINGTON, April 3. (AP)—Final action tomorrow on the Norris resolution for government operation of Muscle Shoals was in prospect tonight after the Senate had rejected all attempts to amend the main features of the legislation.

Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, is confident of the votes for adoption of his resolution. It is in practically the same form as the measure given a pocket veto by President Coolidge two years ago.

Urging that "no peg be put in the resolution upon which a veto by the Chief Executive may be hung," the Nebraskan successfully beat down attempts by Senators Black and Heflin of Alabama, Democrats, to amend the measure today.

In concluding a two-day speech for government operation of the $150,000,000 nitrate and power plant put up by the government during the World War at Muscle Shoals, Ala., Senator Norris assailed what he called the "power trust." He said it controls natural resources, and that the government should operate the Alabama project as an example to the rest of the country.

Diva Loses Two Suits but Hopes to Win in Third

NEW YORK, April 3. (Exclusive) After having lost lawsuits this morning to her furrier and two interior decorators, Mme. Frances Alda, opera star, went into Supreme Court this afternoon with high hopes of winning one from her former landlord.

Benjamin Winter, millionaire real estate man, told her she could disregard her lease of a Seventh-avenue apartment, the diva testified. She is being sued for $6000 in rent that has become due since she moved out in 1926. Winter is president of the suing real estate company. The actions in which the furrier and decorators were victorious cost Mme. Alda a total of $5830.

PEASANTS GIVEN NEW PRIVILEGES

Soviet Makes Concessions in Fear of Revolt

Stalin Admits Old Policy of Terrorism Failure

Persecution Declared Fault of Erring Officials

MOSCOW, April 3. (AP)—Far-reaching concessions to the peasants in an effort to encourage them to join collective farms were announced today at the same time that Joseph Stalin, Communist leader, issued a further warning against violent administrative measures against the peasants in an effort to stamp out the Kulaks, or rich peasants.

Stalin, replying to an avalanche of letters received from peasants inquiring into the meaning of the government's recent abrupt turn in carrying out its agricultural plans, issued a statement which occupied the entire front page of the soviet newspapers.

RETREAT DENIED

He insisted the government's attitude did not constitute a retreat, but simply meant correcting former mistakes and excesses committed by overzealous officials who were "drunk with the success" of the collectivization movement.

He explained the principal mistakes made by party workers and government functionaries, declaring the most serious of these were measures taken against the middle class peasants who in many cases were treated like kulaks instead of being regarded as strong allies of the workers and poor peasants in fighting against capitalistic elements.

He condemned those officials who in their eagerness to achieve a high percentage in collectivization adopted violence against the peasants, the negative results of which soon became apparent, such collective farms "melting away as quickly as they were created."

DISASTER FEARED

Stalin said that if these excesses were allowed to continue they would lead to a break between the government and the masses, disorganization of the poor peasants, confusion within the ranks of the Communist party, weakening of the entire Socialistic framework of the country and the restoration of the kulak, thus undermining the proletariat dictatorship.

"The central committee of the party," Stalin continued, "understood this danger and instructed me to give our erring comrades warning in a special article on the collective farm movement, which was printed a few weeks ago under the title, 'Drunk With Success.' This was not the result of my personal initiative, because the central committee of the party does not allow personal initiative in such matters, but was the result of deep investigation by the central committee of the party itself.

"There can be no doubt the party already has overcome this danger in appreciable measure."

COMPULSION BARRED BY ATHEISTIC SOCIETY

MOSCOW, April 3. (AP)—The Jewish telegraphic agency reports that the atheistic society, the League of the Godless, today issued an order forbidding the use of compulsion during the anti-Passover campaign for converts.

The order says that no house-to-house collection of candlesticks, praying shawls, or phylacteries should take place during Passover, and that the delivery of such articles should be of an absolutely voluntary nature.

"We know that the Jewish nepmen and the Jewish clericals will represent our anti-Passover campaign as an evil edict and persecution and will try to compromise it by saying that we confiscate their religious articles and sell them for junk, thus robbing them," the order says.

"We are, therefore, anxious to show that we accept contributions for our industrialization fund only from those giving them with a full heart. We don't want anything from rabbis or religious leaders who will later cry that they were forced to give up their candlesticks. Urging people to give up religious articles demonstrates a departure from religion and must, therefore, be done voluntarily."

LENINGRAD RABBI SENTENCED TO EXILE

MOSCOW, April 3. (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)—Rabbi Lazarev, the chief rabbi of Leningrad, who was arrested February 26, together with Rabbi Yasnogorowski, by the Russian secret police on the charge that they had been maintaining illegal connections abroad, was sentenced today to ten years exile in a concentration camp.

Rabbi Lazarev's son was expelled for three years while the beadle, Zemach Zedek, was expelled for two years. The fourteen members of the Leningrad Jewish community, who had been arrested for disobeying the regulations laid down with regard to religious communities, also were expelled to a concentration camp for various periods of years.

The Home for the Jewish Aged, that had been supported by the now liquidated Jewish community, is now closed for lack of funds, the Jewish old men and women, some of them more than 80 years of age, are being distributed among various Christian homes, while a few are being transferred to a former monastery ten miles from Pskov.

RIFLE "DRILL" DRILLS MAN

Bullet Bounds Back from Steel Plate and Hits Experimenter

SEATTLE, April 3. (AP)—Fired fifty feet away, a 30-30 rifle bullet cut clean through steel. But at seventy-five feet it sent P. C. Peterson, 50 years of age, Federal predatory-game hunter, to the hospital today. He escaped being fatally shot by inches, the bullet bouncing back and lodging in his cheek.

Peterson was using his rifle to "drill" holes in a steel brace for a house he was building. Successful at the short distance, he decided to test his accuracy at the longer range.

PROTECTION NEED CITED BY AUTHORS

Playwright Tells About Pirating by Foreigners in Plea for Vestal Bill

WASHINGTON, April 3. (AP)—Asserting American writers need additional copyright protection both at home and abroad, a playwright today told the House Patents Committee that one of his plays had been produced in Holland, but that all he had realized from it was "one copy of the program, written in Dutch."

He is Marc Connally, author of a current Broadway show, who appeared at the Capitol as one of a group of authors and publishers' representatives headed by Will Irwin.

Speaking for the Authors' League of America, Irwin urged the committee to give immediate favorable action to the Vestal bill to altar existing copyright regulations, permitting entry into the United States of the International Copyright Union.

Under present conditions, he asserted, writers are forced to relinquish all rights to their work when they sell them to publishers, even though the sale is made for magazine or book purposes only. Some publishers have made gentleman's agreements with authors to turn back motion-picture and other rights after publication, he said, but added that many publishers decline to enter into such agreements.

Other witnesses were Elmer Davis, novelist; Chester T. Crowell, magazine writer, and Thyra Samter Winslow, short-story writer.

CARETAKER OF FORLORN HOPES DIES

Wall Street's Junk Man Dealt in Stocks of Burst Bubbles and Wildcats

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—Wall street's junk man, Roland M. Smythe, dealer in extinct securities, is dead.

Engraved paper, representing billions of forlorn hopes, burst bubbles and defunct wildcats, passed through his hands during the half century he conducted his unique business from a little office at 2 Broadway.

Smythe died yesterday of acute indigestion at his home in Brooklyn. He was 75 years of age.

He embarked on his unusual career when in the early '80's. While employed by a stock brokerage firm, he was handed some repudiated South Carolina bonds with instructions to destroy them. He sold one through another broker to the State of South Carolina for $1200 and not caring for the rush and bustle of the street he thereafter turned his attention to a trade in obsolete and extinct securities.

He became an expert authority on the value—if any—of old securities, and frequently was consulted by bankers and brokers concerning the worth of stock and bond certificates which came into their hands.

Charge of Monopoly Hurled in Rail Fight

Foes of New Link Assailed in Final Brief

Southern Pacific Offers Use of Own Tracks

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3. (AP)—Charging monopolistic aims against the Southern Pacific Company, attorneys of the Great Northern and Western Pacific railroads today made public the contents of their final written shot in the fight to link their lines by a short railroad. The brief reached the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington today.

Oral argument before the Interstate Commerce Commission sitting en banc will be held the 16th inst. Today's filing was the last round in the fight previous to the sitting of the commission as a court to judge the merits of the plan to bring competition into railroading in the coastwise traffic of the Pacific States.

WAR OPENED IN NOVEMBER

The war of the great railroads over a little connecting link of track opened in San Francisco last November, when the Great Northern and Western Pacific asked permission to build a road between Klamath Falls, Or., and Keddie, Cal. They contended it would unite their systems and friendly railroads making new routes available over 38,886 miles of existing rails. The entire western portion of the United States and Canada would be affected, the petitioners contended.

In opposition the Southern Pacific, having the only railroad traversing the general region through which the connection was sought, offered its own lines as a "bridge," to avoid "duplication of existing facilities." The petitioners claimed the motive of the Southern Pacific was to avert competition.

Flatly charging the Southern Pacific with monopolistic aims, the reply brief says: "The Southern Pacific is here putting forth its utmost endeavors (1) to retain the single means of rail communication between California and the Pacific Northwest and (2) to gain the exclusive right to possess the rich field lying between Klamath Falls on the north and the main line of the Western Pacific on the south. Irrespective of protest, and regardless of adroit argumentation, the objective is an effectual monopoly."

REPLY LENGTHY

The 300-page reply to the Southern Pacific brief, which outlined offers to make various concessions in lieu of construction of the line from Keddie through Northeastern California into Southeastern Oregon, characterized the opposition's offers as "sweeping gestures."

"They compel two conclusions," the brief asserts. "First, that the program of the protesting carriers admits that existing conditions are antagonistic to the public interest and that far-reaching changes should be accomplished;

"Second, that the elements of public convenience and necessity upon which we rely to sustain our project, and which opposing carriers now endeavor to simulate by their alternative proposals, are conceded."

Attacking the intrenched road's offers of interchange of freight, the petitioning roads assert: "The 'open door policy' does not confer freedom of routing upon the shipper; it confirms the shipper, rather, in his dependence upon the single carrier."

Extent of public support, causing public utility commissions of ten States to support their project, is cited to prove "a profound conviction that the public requires this course."

ESPEE OFFERS COMPROMISE PLAN

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3. (AP)—The Southern Pacific Company, opposing the entrance of the Western Pacific Railroad into this city, today offered to take Western Pacific traffic on its own tracks and deliver it to peninsula points.

This compromise was offered in the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing of the Western Pacific plan to build an $8,000,000, thirty-nine-mile track from Niles into San Francisco, bridging the bay near Redwood City. The plan was labeled "duplication and waste" by Southern Pacific counsel E. J. Foulds, who brought forth the compromise plan.

In order to get Western Pacific freight to and from San Francisco over an all-rail route instead of by barging it across the bay, V. S. Andrus, assistant to the vice-president of the Southern Pacific, made his offer, conditioned upon the finding by the commission that such a route be in public interest.

Flowing Beard Causes Death of Patriarch

HOBOKEN (N. J.) April 3. (Exclusive)—The flowing white beard, pride of Kupper Bier, who was 109 years of age, caused his death today in his home here.

Having surrendered his butcher shop, which he founded sixty years ago, to his 75-year-old son Samuel, the patriarch retired at the age of 103. His chief solace was to lie in bed of an evening, smoking a long black cigar and stroking his silky beard.

One night a week ago the cigar ignited the beard after the aged man fell asleep. His face was severely burned. Because of his advanced age he was unable to rally from the injury.

Hospital Liquor Facing No Ban

WASHINGTON, April 3. (AP)—Dr. Royal S. Copeland, New York's Democratic Senator, received official assurance today that there will be no move for tightening restrictions on the use of medicinal liquor by doctors and hospitals.

Stirred by protests from doctors, Copeland conferred with Prohibition Administrator Doran.

NORMAL-CHILD GAUGE SET

Test Shows He Does Not Yearn to be President and Knows Why He Goes to School

NEW YORK, April 3. (Exclusive)—Have you an average child of 6 or 7 in your home? Then he does not aspire to be President of the United States. He cannot explain how night comes to be; he cannot figure out how many 2-cent stamps he can buy for 10 cents; he can't tell why his heart beats.

But he does know why he's going to school, where he can buy milk and groceries, why a doctor's office is different from a barber shop.

At least, tests conducted at Teachers' College, Columbia University, and made public today, show that he can or cannot do these things.

The test was made on 521 New York City children. It included both the dull and the bright from every station of life. Only average were sought. Most of the children did not know Mr. Hoover is President, had never heard of George Washington and could not identify Abraham Lincoln. Some thought Lincoln was "head boss."

Most of the children knew their birthdays, but only fifty could tell what the United States is, or the months in which Christmas, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving, etc., occur. Many thought the heart beats because it "makes you talk good" or "gives you heart trouble."

The policeman, the children said, always "kill robbers" or "make autos go slow;" boys go to school to "get smart" and to "be good." Eggs should be boiled one hour, potatoes three hours, according to some of the test subjects. Most of the children had some conception of right and wrong and were most proficient in dealing with simple moral and social situations.

POWER UTILITY EARNINGS GAIN

San Joaquin Issues Annual Statement for 1929

Growth Attributed to Needs of Farming District

Net Profits $3,000,000, Up 11 Per Cent

San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation, which, pending approval of the California Railroad Commission, passes under control of Pacific Gas and Electric Company, recorded substantial gains in both gross and net revenues in 1929 with general extensions of service to meet the increasing demands of agricultural and domestic consumers, A. G. Wishon, president, announced yesterday in the annual report to stockholders.

Net earnings after all charges including depreciation and taxes totaled $2,986,843.31, against $2,681,286.12 in 1928, an increase of $305,557.19 or more than 11 per cent. Preferred stock dividends amounted to $1,440,944.28, against $1,509,059.45 in 1928.

DIVIDENDS LARGER

After payment of preferred stock dividends there remained a balance available for the common stock of $1,545,899.03, against $1,172,226.67 in 1928, a gain of $373,672.36 or more than 30 per cent. Dividends paid on the common stock in 1929 amounted to $1,040,000, against $650,000 in 1928.

Gross operating revenues for the year aggregated $11,336,743.66, against $10,409,804.67 in 1928, an increase of 8.9 per cent. Net operating revenues, after deductions for expenses, maintenance and taxes, amounted to $6,449,621.07, an increase of 8.27 per cent.

OUTPUT RAISED

With the addition of 80,000 kilowatts in new load to the lines of the company, total electric output for the year increased 6.75 per cent, reaching 834,408,142 kilowatt hours. The total number of consumers at the end of the year was 94,828, which was 4891 greater than at the end of 1928.

Increased use of electricity for irrigation and other farm purposes, combined with a reduction in rates which saved agricultural consumers approximately $250,000 during the year, was responsible for the growth in this class of service, according to the report.

Domestic service was also substantially increased, the average consumption of electricity per consumer mounting from 724 kilowatt hours in 1928 to 806 kilowatt hours in 1929. The company consistently maintains the highest average of domestic consumption of all California power systems, the report points out.

Net capital expenditures, largely made for addition to transmission line and substation systems, aggregated $3,191,692.42.

Reynolds Says East Expects June Upswing

Frank J. Reynolds, president of Albert Frank & Co., one of the country's oldest and largest advertising agencies, while in Los Angeles yesterday stated that bankers and business men in New York generally agree that business will be back to normal by June.

Mr. Reynolds said he anticipated an increasing amount of financial advertising in the country's newspapers because financial houses have discovered that such advertising is regarded with great interest by a tremendous investing public. Likewise, he said, newspapers are rapidly devoting more space to financial matters that are of great news value to an important and constantly growing section of their readers.

He was greatly impressed with Los Angeles' remarkable increase as an important distributing center for financial issues, and remarked that many eastern bankers have not yet become cognizant of the position the city has attained as a financial center in the last few years. He added that in his opinion the Los Angeles Stock Exchange will greatly increase its volume of business when it becomes generally known throughout the country that it is possible to have orders executed in this city two and one-half hours after the New York Stock Exchange has closed for the day.

CONVERTIBLES IN DEMAND

Rio Grande and Caterpillar Financing Brings Bids for Participations; Oil Issue Terms Unsettled

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Two prospective convertible bond issues were the subjects of lively inquiry yesterday by bond dealers looking for participations from the selling group. The Caterpillar Tractor convertible notes were reported heavily oversubscribed by dealers, and requests for positions in the forthcoming Rio Grande financing were accumulating rapidly.

Details of the Rio Grande issue are not yet settled, but speculation was active concerning the conversion features among speculators in the stock and the investment dealers. The general impression is the issue will total from $7,000,000 to $10,000,000 and will carry a 5½ or 6 per cent coupon rate.

ESTIMATES VARY

Agreement on the first conversion price has not been reached by the company and the underwriters, it is understood, but conjectures centered on a figure between 32 and 35 for the stock. There was also some discussion of starting the conversion as low as 28.

Speculators were interested in the conversion prices for two reasons. It has been actively reported that several groups are interested in working in the stock to adjust the market price near to the first conversion point, whatever it is. Yesterday's action of the stock seemed to indicate that nothing definite has been settled.

Dozens of the Spring-street colony were particularly interested in the bonds because of previous experience with Rio Grande convertibles. Investors and speculators fortunate enough to hold the old first and collateral 7s of 1935 through the height of the activity in the stock collected comfortable fortunes in many instances.

HIGH AT 608

Until the discovery and development of the Elwood field these bonds were comparatively neglected on the street. But when the stock started to move in reflection of the Elwood development, the convertible bonds joined in the march when the trading desks in the bond houses realized their speculative possibilities. At the high the bonds sold at approximately 608, while the old stock touched 186½.

Conversion of the bonds into stock naturally was encouraged by rising stock prices, and by the end of 1928 only $204,300 of the $3,000,000 issue was outstanding. This block the company called for redemption early in 1929. The conversions on this issue ran from $25 in 1927 to $50 in 1935.

Caterpillar Tractor's financing, according to information from San Francisco, will amount to $10,000,000 of 5 per cent convertible notes, priced to yield about 5.35 per cent. The first conversion price will be fixed at 85 in 1931, and extend on a graduated scale to 115 in 1935.

According to present plans, all these properties with the exception of Columbus Electric & Power will be merged and eliminated to simplify the capital structure.

Net income for 1929 amounted to $23,568,662, or 74 cents per share on the common stock, compared with $18,425,590, or 58 cents per share for 1928. Electric output for January, 1930, showed a 2 per cent increase over that for the same month in 1929, and gas output gained 6 per cent.

Hill Talks to Broker Group

Addressing more than 100 brokers on the floor of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, Harvey T. Hill, assistant to the president of the Chicago Stock Exchange, declared yesterday the phenomenal growth of the security trading on the Chicago market last year was largely the result of enthusiastic support by members, banks, investment houses and corporations which aided in maintaining an active market at all times.

Mr. Hill is visiting on the Coast arranging for an extension of the Chicago Stock Exchange ticker service through the Pacific Slope. The appreciation of midwestern corporations for the service available in the home market through listing of their stocks was cited by Mr. Hill as another important factor accounting for the success of the exchange.

FARM BOARD PLEA IGNORED

Battle for Reduction in Acreage Seems Futile as Plans for Increases Are Announced

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, April 3.—Despite the cry of bad farm prices farmers are going ahead. In every product other than durum wheat, peanuts and hay, American farmers have signified their intentions to plant larger acreage. Fifty thousand farmers told the economics bureau of the Department of Agriculture that 1930 would see an increase in acreage of 2 per cent over 1929.

The bureau is inclined to view the matter conservatively, making allowances for unfavorable weather at planting time, droughts and floods. But even that doesn't check the enthusiasm of the "intend-to-plant" reports.

The Federal Farm Board's battle to restrict production in the staple lines—especially wheat and cotton acreage—may yet succeed. But so far it has made little impression on the farmers.

Paul M. Mazur, New York investment banker, in a recent book, "America Looks Abroad," tries to answer the question of how the United States may continue to collect $1,000,000,000 of annual interest on foreign loans and at the same time maintain a growing export balance of about the same amount.

After analyzing the pros and cons of the whole situation, he comes to the conclusion that the thing is impossible and concludes that it is "the most serious threat to America's standard of living and economic program that the future holds."

Only the other day Owen Young talked in the same vein, when he declared that the living standards of America could not be permanently maintained at a measurably higher level than those of other civilized countries. "Either we shall lift theirs to ours or they will drag ours down to theirs," was his conclusion.

The present time is a sobering, thinking, reflecting time. Business men are reading everything dealing with foreign trade.

But perhaps in the next few years world trade will expand to two or three times its present volume. If so, the present problem of debits and credits will be a comparatively small one.

But no American can, with safety, conduct his business in a complacent manner in an era which has forced the United States into the position of the world's greatest creditor.

Redfield Proctor, president of the New England Council, in discussing the future of transportation facilities in that section of the country, says that the control of the railroads there by New Englanders has been steadily diminishing.

New England, an important manufacturing center of the United States, must rely largely on railroads. Much raw material is shipped in, manufactured into the finished product and then shipped out.

So the railroads continue to be the greatest carriers of merchandise, raw or manufactured. If fewer and fewer New Englanders are interested financially in the railroad systems which traverse their territory, then indefinite retention of the status quo among New England railroads is the least likely of all the possibilities in the situation.

This is the view of President Proctor.

New Financing of Tractor on Market Today

Formal offering will be made today of $10,000,000 Caterpillar Tractor Co. five-year 5 per cent convertible gold notes by a banking group headed by Peirce, Fair & Co., and Stone & Webster & Blodget, Inc. The notes represent the only funded indebtedness of the company and are offered at 98½ and interest to yield about 5.35 per cent.

According to the bankers, the transaction represents the largest financial operation of the year originated by a Pacific Coast banking group and involving a western corporation. Other members of the syndicate are Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Chase Securities Corporation and Bankers' Company of New York.

The notes are convertible into capital stock at prices ranging from $85 a share on or before April 1, 1931; $95 to April 1, 1932; $105 to April 1, 1933, and $115 a share to April 1, 1935. Proceeds of the financing will be used to retire current bank indebtedness of approximately $9,000,000, resulting principally from additions to plant in 1929.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, April 3. (Exclusive)—Trading in futures on the rubber exchange of New York today was a quiet affair, with the little business being done concentrated in the old "A" contract, which developed a good deal of support on buying of the May delivery by a large trade interest. A prominent Front-street dealer was also in the market for the April position and this started a steady tone in the old contract. A better tone in the foreign markets, where gains were registered, made for a better feeling among traders. At the close, after a turnover of 100 lots (250 tons) prices were from unchanged to 10 points lower.

The new No. 1 contract, in which business fell off sharply, was subjected to selling in the July and September deliveries, liquidation being traced to dealer interests. This caused a heavy tone in the market and prices at the close showed losses ranging up to 21 points. Most of the offerings were absorbed by commission houses. Sales in this contract were limited to 13 lots, or 130 tons, as compared with 50 lots (500 tons) on Wednesday.

London spot closed steady and 1-16d higher at 7¾d. and the near delivery in the Singapore market rose 3-16d to 7¾d in a dull market. The spot price in the local market here remained unchanged at 15½c.

Mr. R. C. Force, President of the Company, has summarized his letter to us as follows:

History and Products. Caterpillar Tractor Co., a California corporation, was organized in 1925 for the purpose of acquiring all of the assets of the C. L. Best Tractor Co. and The Holt Manufacturing Company. The C. L. Best Tractor Co., organized in 1910, had been previously engaged in the production of Best "Tracklayer" Tractors. The Holt Manufacturing Company, established in 1883, had been engaged both in the manufacture of Holt "Caterpillar" Tractors and farm implements generally.

"Caterpillar" Tractors are employed for road building and road maintenance, a field of far-flung and fundamental importance; for logging, hauling, excavating, grading, snow removal and kindred uses, and for agriculture and in general, wherever a large mobile traction power plant is required. The Company manufactures five tractors ranging from the baby "Ten" to the big "Sixty."

In the fall of 1928 the Company consolidated with its own operations those of the Western Harvester Co., a former subsidiary, which manufactured and sold the well known "Holt" Harvester-Thresher Combine. The output of "Holt" Combines has been steadily increasing.

In December, 1928, Caterpillar Tractor Co. acquired, through merger, the principal assets and business of the Russell Grader Manufacturing Company, which had specialized over a long period of years in the manufacture of high grade road machinery. Caterpillar's ownership of the Russell road machinery business has not only resulted in an increase in the production and sale of its road machinery, but has also served to stimulate sales of tractors which supply the necessary tractive power therefor. Furthermore, this combination of products—tractors, road machinery and combined harvesters—has resulted in a substantial increase in the Company's rapidly growing dealer organization.

The Company operates four plants: At Peoria, Illinois, for the production of tractors, tractor equipment and parts, harvesters and parts and a foundry for the production of castings; at San Leandro, California, for the manufacture of tractors, tractor equipment and parts; at Minneapolis, Minnesota, for the manufacture exclusively of road machinery, equipment and parts; and at Stockton, California, a foundry for the production of castings for the San Leandro plant.

Earnings. Net sales, and net earnings of the Company after all charges, including depreciation, but before interest charges and Federal income tax, since date of organization, as certified by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., were as follows:

1929	$51,812,462	$13,405,022.88
1928	35,071,601	9,503,919.38
1927	26,928,089	6,944,459.91
1926	20,699,103	5,021,756.88
1925 (last 8 mos.)*	13,785,247	3,607,727.11

*Company opened its books as of May 1, 1925.

Net earnings as shown above for the year 1929 were at the rate of more than 26 times the interest charges on these Notes. Such net earnings for the last four calendar years averaged $8,718,790.26 per year, or at the rate of more than 17 times such interest charges.

Capitalization. Capitalization of the Company as of April 1, 1930, giving effect to this issue of Notes, will consist of $10,000,000 authorized and issued Five-Year 5% Convertible Gold Notes (this issue,) and 2,500,000 authorized shares of capital stock without nominal or par value, of which 1,882,240 shares are now outstanding.

Assets and Equity. Total assets of the Company as of December 31, 1929, giving effect to this financing, and after deducting all liabilities other than this issue of Notes, were in excess of $52,900,000. Similarly net current assets as of December 31, 1929, were in excess of $31,600,000.

The value of the equity junior to these Notes based upon the aggregate market value of the outstanding common stock at current quotations is in excess of $135,000,000.

Purpose of Issue. The proceeds from the issuance of these Notes will be used to retire current bank indebtedness aggregating approximately $9,000,000 and resulting in large part from additions to plant in 1929, and for other corporate purposes.

All legal proceedings incident to the issuance of these Notes are subject to the approval of Messrs. Chickering & Gregory, San Francisco, for the Company and Messrs. Pillsbury, Madison & Sutro, San Francisco, for the Bankers. This offering is made subject to the approval of the stockholders of the Company and subject to the issuance of the permit of the Commissioner of Corporations of the State of California, and subject to acceptance by us when, as and if issued. It is expected that definitive notes will be ready for delivery on or about May 5, 1930.

Price 98½ and accrued interest, to yield about 5.35%

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—Stock option issues provided virtually all the action in today's bond market. Obligations without the speculative appeal of the convertible classification continued dull and in general there were only minor moves in the investment rails, utilities and industrials.

Considerable strength developed in the share privilege section during the final hour when the bonds of several amusement companies rose sharply. General Theaters Equipment 6s moved between 131 and 144, closing at the latter figure for a net gain of 11 points. Loew's 6s advanced 2. Pathe 7s improved 5, while Warner Brothers Pictures 6s ruled firm. Shubert Theater 7s sagged nearly 3 points.

American Telephone convertible 4½s, trading in a 6-point range, turned an early loss into an advance of 3¾, finishing at 162. International Telephone 4½s gained 1¼. Railroad convertibles were less active and lower levels prevailed in New Haven 6s and Atchison 4½s.

Scattering advances of 1 to 2 points appeared in the high-grade rails, notably Atchison general 4s and Pennsylvania gold 5s.

Northern Ohio Traction and Light 6s, up 1½ net, featured the dull and firm utilities. Domestic industrials were quiet, but several foreign sugars sank to new lows on the announcement of a price reduction by the Cuban single selling agency.

United States government securities closed irregularly lower, but transactions were small and the largest decline was a drop of 6-32 of a point in the Treasury 3⅜s.

The stock exchange announced the reinstatement of United States 2 per cent consols. These securities, in which no transactions have been made on the exchange since 1924, were stricken from the list April 1 on the assumption that interest had ceased, whereas they only became callable on that date. The bonds are outstanding to the amount of nearly $600,000,000 and most of them are deposited as the basis for national bank circulation.

Foreign obligations were slow.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

COMING DOWN THE YEARS

In September, 1902, we gave our clients definite instructions to sell out all stocks for a drastic decline. Within eleven months the averages dropped over 50 points.

Again, in December, 1906, our clients were advised to sell out in expectation of a severe panic. Again more than a 50 point drop.

Always the same protection through the years that followed through rising and falling markets.

May 8th of last year, we advised liquidation. Again the averages declined over 40 points.

Our record before and during the "big break" last fall is an open book. We advised complete liquidation on September 5th. Again our clients were protected.

This year, on the 14th of January, we said: "We are now in a bull market. Buy for investment."

These years of market accuracy should mean something to you. Bulletin No. 59 will tell you what we advise now. Send for it.

April 4, 1929 — Pasadena
August 6, 1929 — Hollywood

Los Angeles

A YEAR AGO TODAY we announced a new financial service in Pasadena. A type of service new to the West, but proved by years of experience in the East. An investment counsel service that has depended for its growth on its ability to make profits for its clientele. This service includes brokerage of course, but goes far beyond it. The house lays out investment programs and makes complete recommendations for its customers. It offers only seasoned securities listed on Eastern Exchanges with proved earnings and dividend records. On the other hand it underwrites no securities; its entire profit comes from the usual handling charges and a steady clientele.

This service has been so successful that on August 4th of last year we opened offices in Hollywood.

Increased patronage again makes it necessary to expand, and we now announce the opening of new offices in the Bank of America Building downtown. In this office we have gathered about ourselves a strong group of men—some of them you perhaps already know. Besides the principals, they include:

P. H. Hawley — Chas. Herschman
J. R. Murphy — Frank S. Lowe
Rensen G. Rowland — E. W. Murphy (Trading Department)

Facilities for your convenience in handling and executing market orders are complete. These include Dow Jones Financial Service, TransLux Ticker Service and Simplex Wire Service to New York.

If you are looking for intelligent understanding of investment problems, regardless of size or scope, you will find it here, both in policy and personnel.

STOCK TRADING TONE CAUTIOUS

40 1-4. General Theaters, Fox Film, Keith Albee, and Loew's mounted about 4 to 6 points. Paramount and Warner Brothers gained only about a point each.

J. I. Case jumped 8 points, then slipped back 5½ from the top. Worthington Pump sold up 7½, then receded moderately. Electric Power and Light moved 4 points, but closed up only a point. Air Reduction, Allied Chemical, American Telephone, Columbian Carbon, and Western Union moved up about 2 to 5 points. United States Steel closed unchanged.

LOSSES SHOWN

Among shares closing lower were American Can, American Tobacco, American Smelting, Calumet and Arizona and Westinghouse Electric, off about 2 to 3 points. Sloss Sheffield lost 9 points.

Credit conditions remained unchanged, with call loans holding at 4 per cent. The weekly Federal Reserve statements showed that meeting the month-end money requirements had been helpd by increases in rediscounting, and open market purchases of bills. The New York banks, however, were borrowing only $15,000,000 at the Federal Reserve, against $135,000,000 at this time last year. Foreign exchange rates were generally steady.

Sterling cables held at $4.86½.

The rally in stocks was helped by a sharp upturn in the gain markets. Wheat futures shot up about 2½ to 5 cents a bushel and corn mounted 1½ to 2 cents. The cotton market also gave a good account of itself, futures closing about $1 a bale higher.

An extension of time has been granted the Barnsdall Oil Company on a lease in the Rosecrans field [illegible] Trust No. 1 was completed last January, for approximately [illegible] barrels of 38 deg. gravity [illegible] per day at a depth of 5800 [illegible].

According to lease requirements, [illegible] was scheduled to make [illegible] for Trust No. 2 and start [illegible] within ninety days. That [illegible] has nearly expired. A tentative location was selected shortly after completion of the first project [illegible] nothing has been done insofar [illegible] is concerned.

The Trust No. 1 is flowing approximately 800 barrels of oil per [illegible] at present. All of the yield is being handled by the Union Oil Company under contract.

[illegible] Flowing

The Pacific Western Oil Company's Tideland Permit No. 92-4 [illegible] the coast at Elwood yesterday started to flow from a depth [illegible] feet and may be on steady production today. This project is located on a pier and is about 1000 [illegible] from shore and is thought [illegible] near the top of the structure.

[illegible] than 300 feet of oil-sand [illegible] has been penetrated in Pacific Western's Tideland Permit No. 92-4. It is near the company's Tideland Permit No. 92-3, which has [illegible] in. The company's [illegible] No. 3 is drilling below [illegible] feet and Goleta No. 2 is suspended temporarily with bottom below [illegible] feet.

To Resume Soon

Operations will be resumed soon [illegible] Southern Exploration Company's Timber Canyon wildcat location on the southeast quarter of the [illegible] quarter of Sec. 18, [illegible] six miles east of Santa Paula in Ventura county. The company has about 120 acres under [illegible] for the test, which has been drilled to about 900 feet and has [illegible] shallow showing of [illegible], according to company reports.

Southern Exploration's wildcat is based on showings obtained in the [illegible] Point Fermin Oil Company's [illegible] Clara No. 1, which [illegible] showing above 3300 feet. This undertaking was drilled [illegible] 4-60, and is in the same general vicinity where the Associated and Superior Oil companies [illegible] considerable acreage.

[illegible] to Burn

The Bandini Petroleum Company's Off No. 18 near the intersection of Telegraph and Shoemaker roads in the Santa Fe Springs field yesterday was still spouting [illegible] as the result of catching fire [illegible] the operators were endeavoring to shut in the 800-barrel producer to conform to the new State [illegible] Act.

According to field reports, Off No. 18 was putting out approximately [illegible] cubic feet of gas a day, [illegible] beaned down it gradually [illegible] up pressure on the valve [illegible] blew out. Firemen are endeavoring to shut in the burning well.

[illegible] Casing

Operations have started to run a string of casing into the Pacific [illegible] Development Company's [illegible] No. 1 near the corner of [illegible] and Prairie streets in the [illegible] area at Potrero. This test [illegible] forty feet of excellent [illegible] and reports state that it may develop into a deep producer [illegible] has drilled to about 5200 feet [illegible] may have tapped the same [illegible] formation found in the [illegible] Pacific Oil Company's Inglewood Community No. 2. The latter [illegible] is flowing about ninety [illegible] of high-gravity oil a day [illegible] bottom below 5200 feet.

[illegible] Completion

An absorption plant of the Standard Oil Company, which has been under construction during the past [illegible] months, is nearing completion [illegible] the company's No. 8, a proposed, and the No. 81, which may [illegible] completed soon on the north [illegible] of Kettleman Hills. The [illegible] will have a capacity of 130,-[illegible] cubic feet of gas per day [illegible] will handle a portion of the [illegible] flow from wells to be brought in on the north dome.

[illegible] New Acreage

The Richfield Oil Company recently leased 2780 acres from the [illegible] Estates, Inc., north of Santa Paula in Ventura county. The property adjoins the 10,335-acre [illegible] lease of the company, which [illegible] control of 13,115 acres in [illegible] block.

[illegible] producers have been completed on the Marr property, six of which have been steadily pumping for nearly seventeen years. The oil is of 22 deg. gravity and flows [illegible] depths from 800 to 2000 feet. On the Tapo property, there are forty-[illegible] wells producing from three [illegible], with gravity averaging about [illegible] as the yield from the Marr [illegible]. The Tapo projects are producing from about 1700 feet. On the Tapo lease Richfield recently [illegible] Tapo No. 42, proving up [illegible] deep zone at 2400 feet. The company's Tapo No. 1, pumping at 1900 feet, has been killed to deepen to about 2400 feet to give the lower formation a thorough test.

Richfield considers that the new acreage is one of its greatest reserves because of the apparent long life of the wells. The forty-seven producers are scattered along a six-mile front, virtually proving up a large share of the property for the present shallow zones with the belief that production may be obtained from greater depths.

To New Quarters

The Globe Petroleum Corporation today is moving into a new suite of offices in the Wright-Callender Building at the corner of Fourth and Hill streets. For the past six years the concern, one of the active operators in the Santa Fe Springs field, has occupied offices in the Transportation Building at the southwest corner of Seventh and Los Angeles streets.

Reports Released

Umpire H. Paul Grimm's office has just mailed out schedules of potentials and allowables for April for eleven oil fields under his jurisdiction. Out of a total allotment of 494,617 barrels of oil during April for Maricopa Flat, the field will be allowed to produce 462,205 barrels, or an average daily flow of 15,407 barrels.

The Fruitvale field's total allowable is 202,938 barrels; Kern Front's total allowable is 382,719 barrels; Poso Creek's allowable is 450,737 barrels; Round Mountain's allowable is set at 232,381 barrels; Midway-Sunset's total allowable is 1,658,340 barrels; Inglewood's allowable 575,464 barrels; Montebello's allowable 212,856 barrels; West Coyote's allowable 351,883 barrels; Ventura-avenue's allowable, 1,223,-348 barrels of oil.

Flow High

With the establishment of a new potential for the Santa Fe Springs field, yesterday's production was considerably higher than the desired quota. The field put out approximately 128,000 barrels of oil, which was 9000 barrels above the quota.

The week's completions included Bell View Oil Syndicate's No. 4, 700 barrels; General Petroleum Corporation's No. 152-D, 1400 barrels, and General's No. 160-A, 600 barrels; Standard Oil Company's South Whittier Community No. 29, 500 barrels. The Texas Company's Baldwin No. 5 has been swabbing with bottom at 7885 feet and may be on production today.

Adds Another

The Doyle-Clune Petroleum Company's No. 1 on a forty-acre government permit on Sec. 8, 11-23, at Maricopa Flat, started coming in yesterday at the rate of 1080 barrels of oil a day at a depth of 3760 feet. Pressure on the casing was building up late yesterday and officials of the company believe the new project will have less sand troubles than other producers in that same area.

Doyle-Clune's forty acres is adjacent to the Doyle Petroleum Company's forty-acre government permit, where five wells are producing and several are drilling ahead.

Wheat Futures Up Sharply on Bullish News

CHICAGO, April 3. (AP)—Skyrocketing wheat prices today went 11¼c a bushel higher in some cases than wheat could be bought last week. With millions of acres of wheat lands southwest reported dry as ashes, and with drought news coming from the West and Northwest as well, European demand for wheat showed sudden big expansion. Meanwhile, weather forecasts held out no hope of immediate moisture relief, and there were indications that hot weather would increase danger of widespread severe crop damage.

Excited buying, especially by previous speculative sellers, led to a wild close in the wheat market at the day's topmost point, 2½@5½c higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1½@2¼c up, oats advanced ½@1c and provisions showed 2c@27c gain.

It was estimated that as much as 2,000,000 bushels of North American wheat were bought today for overseas shipment from Canada and the United States, mostly from Canada, but including at least some domestic hard winter grades. This was the first important change in a long while that has taken place in the apparent concerted policy of European countries to keep buying on strictly hand-to-mouth basis. Alarm over crop conditions of Kansas and Oklahoma wheat became acute today, however, and price jumps formed the rule both at Liverpool and here, official Kansas and Oklahoma reports confirming word from other sources the crop situation has become critical.

Special notice was taken today of dispatches from a leading Chicago field observer who said that to prevent serious damage 6,000,000 acres of wheat in Western Kansas and portions of adjoining States must have soaking rains before hot weather sets in.

Corn and oats responded briskly to the skyward movement of the wheat market. Oats traders gave sharp attention to advices that the oats crop southwest as well as wheat was in much need of rain.

Provisions kept upward pace with the grain markets and also with hogs.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, April 3. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says:

Sheet steel demand is picking up and the mills are stepping up production, independent producers in the Youngstown district now operating at the best rate attained this year.

Prospects for additional car building in western shops have improved decidedly and rail mill operations in the district are continuing close to capacity, though no new rail tonnage has been placed. Steel sales at Cleveland are small, but sellers in the district expect a pick-up in buying this month. Price concessions on certain productions are heard from time to time and it is apparent that the market has not yet settled. Plate demand is spotty in the East, although heavy tonnage is in prospect.

Pig iron business is less active, but a moderate movement continues.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Light receipts sold in good season with little change in prices and the yards were practically cleared by the noon hour. A load or two of desirable steers were available but most other offerings were odds and ends of common to medium dairy type she stock.

A load of 193-pound Nebraskas with freight benefit went out at 10.90, while practical top of the market stood at 10.85, paid for a strictly good load of 203-pound Nebraskas. Noted Baseball Pitcher Asserts Wife Wasteful

CANTON (O.) April 3. (AP)—Purchase of expensive rings and dishes without his consent and refusal to be congenial with his team-mates and their wives were charged against his wife by Burleigh A. Grimes, Pittsburgh Pirates pitcher, when he went on the stand today in his suit for divorce being heard here.

Mrs. Grimes late today turned over to the court three letters which she said her husband had received from women. Grimes said he considered their letters only as "fan mail." Grimes said he received 200 to 250 letters from admirers every season.

Judge Crow to Preside in Oil Well Hearings

SANTA BARBARA, April 3.—Judge Pat Parker of Mono county in extra session of Superior Court today ruled that Presiding Superior Judge S. E. Crow was not disqualified to hear arguments in the suit of the County of Santa Barbara vs. the Lincoln Drilling Company to declare a proposed oil well within the limits of Montecito a nuisance and to prevent the drilling of the same.

The well, which has been the source of a series of suits and court actions during the past six months, is standing idle on the property of Mrs. Elena Meyer.

When the county filed its suit charging a nuisance, attorneys for the oil company immediately filed papers declaring Judge Crow was not qualified. They based their contentions on a section of the Civil Code ruling that Superior judges could not hear suits brought by reclamation districts or any public agency involving property where he lives.

Judge Parker construed the definition of "any public agency" as not applying to a county, but only to specially created districts for improvement projects.

Many Suicides in Kern This Year

BAKERSFIELD, April 3.—Of the 1340 persons who committed suicide in California during 1929, a total of nineteen were Kern county residents, according to figures from the State Department of Public Health today. Although the 1929 rate was slightly lower than that of 1928, it is still sufficiently high, the department said, to include California with Oregon and Washington as the three States having the highest suicide rate of any in the Union.

DELUSION EXPLAINS THEFTS

PIXLEY, April 3.—Carlos Patacious labored under the delusion that he owned all the stock around this city, milked the cows belonging to his neighbors and took the milk home. Neighbors had him arrested for theft of cattle and horses. Investigation revealed that Patacious's mind was affected and Superior Judge Frank Lamberson ordered him to the State Hospital at Stockton. He was taken north by Deputy Sheriff John Hazen.

PAVING WORK ORDERED

SEPULVEDA, April 3.—An ordinance of intention has been passed for the paving of four miles of streets in the Sepulveda Boulevard-Parthenia street section, it is announced here today. The paving will be twenty-four feet wide, of six-inch concrete, with oiled shoulders. The total project, it is estimated, will cost about $125,000.

ARGUMENTS IN HELBUSH ROW HEARD

Wife's Contest on Rich Angeleno's Divorce Decree Reaches Supreme Court

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3. (Exclusive)—Oral arguments on the appeal of Mrs. Gwyneth Helbush to have the final divorce decree obtained in the San Francisco Superior Court by her husband, Herman H. Helbush, Los Angeles millionaire, set aside were heard by the State Supreme Court sitting en banc today.

Harry Stafford, attorney for Mrs. Helbush, advanced the argument that the final decree obtained by the husband is illegal because the couple lived together after Mrs. Helbush procured an interlocutory decree five years ago. The purpose of the interlocutory decree is to provide a period for a possible reconciliation and should the reconciliation be effected the object of the law is nullified, Stafford pointed out to the court.

Affidavits introduced by Helbush during the divorce suit to prove that his wife had led an improper life were held to have been illegally introduced and prejudicial to Mrs. Helbush's interests. By the Superior Court's order Mrs. Helbush was denied her day in court, a chance to defend her name and honor and an opportunity to litigate for community property in excess of $1,000,000, Stafford said.

After filing of briefs on both sides the court will take the matter under submission.

SHE WEDS TOO SOON; MARRIAGE ANNULLED

SANTA BARBARA, April 3.—Because she was married before a year had elapsed after an interlocutory decree of divorce had been issued Ruth Walker was granted an annulment of her marriage with Clifford Walker in Superior Court today. Mrs. Walker was granted an interlocutory decree here in April, 1929. She went back to Illinois and was married in July of last year. She returned to the Coast, dissatisfied with her second marriage and to find it illegal. She told the judge she thought the interlocutory decree only prevented another marriage in less than a year in this State.

Muere la Albani en Londres

LONDRES, Abril 3.—La señora Albani, famosa soprano, ha fallecido aquí hoy. Fue una de las sopranos de ópera más destacadas del siglo diecinueve. Ha muerto de 77 años.

Nacida en el Canadá, se marchó a Albany (Nueva York) cuando tenía 12 años de edad. Adoptó por seudónimo el nombre de la capital del Estado Imperio. Su nombre de bautismo fue Marie Louise Cecile Emma Lajeunesse.

La señora Albani se estrenó en Messina, el año de 1870, en la ópera "Sonambula", y obtuvo un éxito instantáneo. Dos años después se repitió ese triunfo al aparecer por primera vez en el Covent Garden, de Londres. De entonces acá vivió en la capital británica. Cantó en ópera en los principales centros musicales de Europa, y, en conciertos, en Estados Unidos y Canadá. En Berlín, luego de haberla oído en Lohengrin, la nombró el emperador Guillermo I "primera cantante de la casa real". La quiso mucho la reina Victoria, de quien fue amiga íntima.

Los Ingleses Seguirán con el Mandato de Palestina

LONDRES, Abril 3.—Dijo hoy a la cámara de los comunes el primer ministro MacDonald que el gobierno británico continuará administrando la Palestina, en cumplimiento de los términos del mandato relativo aprobado por el consejo de la Sociedad de Naciones.

El primer ministro, que respondía a una pregunta de su antecesor Baldwin, manifestó que esa administración es una obligación internacional, de la que no es posible desligarse.

Duelo entre dos Matronas de Varsovia

VARSOVIA, Abril 3.—Ha terminado hoy con toda felicidad un lance de honor entre dos corajudas matronas de Varsovia, que resolvieron dirimir su contienda pistola en mano. Tras dispararse varios tiros, vieron que no podían dar en el blanco; declararon que su honor estaba a salvo, y se fueron a casa a guisar el almuerzo. Dos mujeres fueron madrinas de las duelistas y una cirujana presenció el lance, por si hubieren sido necesarios sus servicios.

Una de las contendientes había encontrado a la otra en un café con el marido de la primera, y le había propinado un sonoro cachete. La agredida exigió el desafío.

Se Confiere a Eckener Singular Honor

WASHINGTON, Abril 3.—Es Hugo Eckener, comandante del "Conde Zeppelín", el primer extranjero a quien se otorga el honor de nombrarle, como fue Eckener nombrado hoy, miembro honorario de la Asciación Nacional de Aeronáutica. Fue presentado por el senador Bingham, de Connecticut, presidente de dicha sociedad.

Washburn, Nombrado Embajador en Tokio, Muere en Viena

WASHINGTON, Abril 3.—Albert H. Washburn, ex-ministro en Austria, fallecido anoche en un hospital de Viena, era la persona elegida por el presidente Hoover para ser nuestro próximo embajador en el Japón.

Hoy fue anunciado lo anterior en la Casa Blanca. El señor Washburn se fue a Austria hace dos semanas para dejar terminados sus negocios en la legación de Viena. Se proponía volver a este país, y luego marchar a Tokio como embajador de Estados Unidos. William R. Castle, que fue mucho tiempo subsecretario de Estado, ocupa ahora el puesto de embajador especial en el Japón.

En Colorado, Hay Comunidades que Olvidan sus Deberes Cívicos

DENVER, Abril 3.—A la población de Morrison (Colorado) se le olvidó el martes celebrar sus elecciones municipales bienales. Los padres de la ciudad, que acaban de enterarse de tal olvido, vacilan sobre lo que deban hacer: o celebrar las elecciones con retraso, o dejar las cosas en el estado que se hallan hasta las elecciones de 1932.

La precaria situación deprimió el ánimo de la señora Thomas, quien manifestó deseos de ir al centro a divertirse viendo los escaparates, con la esperanza de hallar algún alivio a su tristeza. El marido la acompañó, con tal fin, la noche del lunes hasta el tranvía que llega a Belvedere. Desde tal ocasión, no ha vuelto a verla, y no sabe lo que le haya ocurrido.

CHAMBER TO AID CENSUS CHIEFS

Officials Will Meet With Committee Today

Problems Raised in Start of Count to be Studied

Enumeration Slowed Up by Further Instruction

The five United States census officials who are directing the taking in Los Angeles county of the fifteenth decennial census of the United States will meet in the Chamber of Commerce here today for a conference with one another and with the chamber's census aid committee of which Harry Baskerville is chairman. The meeting will be at a noon luncheon.

They will endeavor to harmonize their procedure and learn from each other how common problems are met with the chamber committee giving whatever aid it can to help make the count properly. The supervisors are Albert C. Munson and L. Kincaid of Los Angeles, E. Chenoweth of Glendale, E. Ballentine of Monrovia and Thomas G. DeCoudres of Long Beach.

START OF COUNT SLOW

The taking of the count yesterday proceeded somewhat slowly in some of the districts because the supervisors or their field assistants called in all or some of the enumerators working in the field so they might be instructed further in the manner in which they are filling out their blanks and making reports.

One common trouble among enumerators had to do with getting a person's occupation and kind of work down correctly. Another point that called for standardization is that of classifying unemployed. Some are retired, some are students, some have jobs but are not working on last previous working day and others have no jobs at all.

Field Assistant Lawrence Klinker of Huntington Park reported what probably was the first actual completion of enumeration in an allotted territory in the United States. It was a part of Vernon and contained nobody at all, there being no homes in the district.

NO CALLS WANTED YET

Several of the supervisors and field assistants requested that residents not call census headquarters for an enumerator at this time unless they are leaving home. They pointed out that the enumerator has two weeks in which to reach them and that there is no use calling the headquarters until the enumerator has had an opportunity to reach them. After about the 14th such calls will be appreciated, officials said, but not just now. Of course, it is made plain that if a resident is leaving home and will not be back until after the close of the census, the 16th inst., that call should be made upon the nearest supervisor for an enumerator or assistant.

Field Assistant S. V. Archer of Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce said that his territory is infested by a force of cemetery salesmen at work in the territory and that census takers have difficulty in gaining an entree into homes. He suggested that census enumerators call out loudly "Census" after ringing a door bell so that residents will know that a proper person is calling. Archer suggested that if any resident has desire to call for the enumerator's credentials which are in the form of an official title of office on a badge.

MEXICANS COUNTED

One woman enumerator in Huntington Park listed more than 200 persons on her first day, DeCoudres reported. Two areas in his district already have been completely enumerated. Ballentine observed that the first twenty-two enumerators reporting to him had averaged listings each for the first day. Chenoweth said an enumerator

CHILD ASKS POLICE TO LOCATE MOTHER

John Thomas and John Thomas, Jr.

Seeking his missing mother, little John Thomas, Jr., 4 years of age, 625 Ferris avenue, Belvedere, yesterday visited the police missing persons bureau to appeal for aid in finding her. He was accompanied by his father, John Thomas, 53, a carpenter out of work, who said that he and his wife, Mary, 45, moved to that address four weeks ago.

Their situation depressed Mrs. Thomas, who expressed a wish to go downtown to look at the shop windows, thinking they might brighten her life, the husband stated. So he put her on a car at Belvedere Monday night, and reports that he has not seen her since.

VICTIM OF AUTO CRASH DIES IN FIRE

Truck Driver Drenched With Flaming Gasoline as His Machine Hits Trailer

Drenched with flaming gasoline when the supply tank on his vegetable truck exploded following a rear-end collision with a gasoline tank truck and trailer, J. C. Ulsh, 40 years of age of 1808 I street, Bakersfield, was burned to death yesterday on San Fernando Road near Lankershim Boulevard.

Ulsh, according to police, was driving west on San Fernando Road in the same direction as the tank truck and trailer. He apparently shifted his gaze from the road and when he looked ahead again he had not time to stop. The force of the impact caused the heavy load of vegetables to move forward and the radiator and motor back against the driver's compartment, pinning Ulsh so that he could not extricate himself. A moment later the gasoline in the supply tank became ignited from the engine.

Ulsh was an employee of the Johnson Transfer Company of Bakersfield. The driver of the tank truck, Manuel Rodriquez of 8120 Garden View avenue, was not injured.

Ulsh's body was taken to the Paschall & Gault undertaking establishment in San Fernando where an inquest will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. today.

ACTION IN BELL CASE PROMISED

Supreme Court to Decide on Writ Plea Monday

Referendary Tangle Taken to High Bench by Ley

Injunction Suit on Petition Names Heard Here

Whether or not the State Supreme Court will hear an application for an alternative writ of mandamus asked by George W. Ley, Los Angeles taxpayer, and filed in San Francisco yesterday, compelling City Clerk Dominguez to certify as sufficient the referendary petitions on the Bell quarry ordinances will be determined Monday, according to word from the Bay City last night. The court will give a decision Monday at which time a date of hearing may be set, if the court decides to consider the petition.

The referendary tangle was taken directly to the Supreme Court yesterday by Attorney Jess Stephens, representing Arthur Weber, an opponent of the Bell cement quarry project and backer of the referendary petitions. Ley is an associate of Weber in the Miramar Estates which is located close to the proposed quarry site in the Santa Monica Mountains. City Attorney Werner is at San Francisco to represent City Clerk Dominguez against whom the action is directed.

In the petition it is asserted that more than 5000 names are involved in the legal tangle and that unless City Clerk Dominguez is ordered to count certain classes of signatures now held up, the referendary will fail. Of the 44,000 names filed 25,300 names were certified as valid, which is 500 less than the number necessary to call an election.

Most of the names rejected, the petition stated, were ruled out because of wrong precinct numbers; because a woman signed with her husband's name or initial and because some registered voters had moved without having properly transferred their names with the county registrar of voters.

An injunction suit brought recently by Wilke Woodard, an employee of the Bell interests, restraining City Clerk Dominguez from certifying to the sufficiency of the referendary petition and which was made returnable today by Judge Doran of the Superior Court, was heard yesterday by Judge Gates. By agreement the injunction was continued in force for another week, pending the action of the State Supreme Court.

HEARING IN PARK FIGHT NEARS END

Reading of 600 Protests Against Victory Project May Conclude Today

Prospects appeared bright yesterday that the City Council will be able to complete hearing appeals against confirmation of assessments for the acquisition of Victory Park No. 2 this afternoon. At 5 p.m. yesterday, when recess was taken until 1:30 p.m. this afternoon, only 112 appeals were left to be read. The grand total with which the Council started to deal on Tuesday morning was 600.

Minute Clerk Browning has plodded through the appeals for more than fifteen hours of steady reading already, with Deputy Clerk Hopper to spell him when his tongue begins to show signs of paralysis.

At the start of the proceedings Councilman Jacobson moved abandonment of the project. This was defeated by a vote of 9 to 6, indicating that the assessments will be confirmed, provided members of the Council do not change their votes.

SOUTHLAND CAPTIVATES BOOK ARTIST

Lisl Hummel Will Use Scenes in This Region for Her Silhouettes

Lisl Hummel, internationally known for her scissors-cut silhouette figures which have been used as illustrations for nearly a score of books, is now a Southern California resident and ready to catch the magic of the light and shadow of the Southwest with her deft fingers. Miss Hummel, with her husband, Dr. Henry Borsook of the California Institute of Technology, and their infant daughter, Eve, came here from Toronto two weeks ago.

Although born in Vienna, Lisl Hummel began her black-and-white effects in Toronto and in the last few years her work has achieved a tremendous vogue in the United States, Canada and abroad. Her first illustrations, cut for a book of children's stories, attracted the attention of Lord Beaverbrook and as a result she was commissioned to go to London to sketch and cut the picturesque figures symbolic of numerous phases of London street life. Many of the results of this tour were used to illustrate H. V. Morton's "The Heart of London."

Miss Hummel, at her home in Pasadena yesterday, declared her best work is in depicting children and animals. One of the recent books which she illustrated was Richard Horne's "The Good-Natured Bear" and her latest work for a child's book of cats shows all the comical antics of that domestic pet.

She said that scissors-cutting is

STUDENTS BATTLE POLICE

Officers Break Up Near-Riot After Trojan Classmen Object to Arrest of Co-ed Driver

Students of the University of Southern California had a practical demonstration of mob psychology yesterday morning when several hundred members of the student body, aroused over the circumstances of a police officer giving a co-ed a traffic tag, indulged in a near-riot with the police in the street in front of the campus.

What started out to be a youthful "razzing" of the police officer became a serious affair when the spirit of the mob entered into the situation, blows were exchanged, and one or more officers drew their guns. One student was taken to the University Police Station, but later was released.

The traffic tag stands, and the young woman will have to answer in traffic court.

President Von KleinSmid of the university called all the students into a general assembly immediately after the riot and had a heart-to-heart talk with them. Regrets were expressed by President Adams of the Associated Students, the assembly closed with the singing of the Trojan anthem, "All Hail, Alma Mater" and "America," and there prevailed an atmosphere of repentance—with probably here and there the individual conviction that "the cop shouldn't have behaved that way."

GIRL DRIVER TAGGED

Although the accounts from the several sources may vary as to details, it was generally agreed that Joanne Sanger, a sophomore at the university, was driving her car on University avenue. Patrolman Thomas Jensen of the University station was behind her in his car. He was on official business. Miss Sanger started to make a turn into Thirty-fifth street. Jensen said she

STATE TIGHTENS GRIP ON LEWIS

Mitchell's Wire Aids Fitts in Pending Trials

He Orders ex-Julian Head Held in Jail Here

Proviso on Judge's Sanction Perplexes Officials

S. C. Lewis, storm center of the Julian case, probably will be compelled to stand trial on various indictments against him in the State courts here in spite of his surrender to Federal authorities several days ago to commence a seven-year term in Federal prison on a prior government conviction.

Moving to settle the question that has caused a battle royal in the local courts for the past week, U. S. Atty.-Gen. Mitchell late yesterday sent the following telegram to United States Marshal Sittel here:

"At the request of Dist.-Atty. Fitts you are authorized to commit Lewis, now in your custody, to the County Jail in order that he may be produced for trial in the State court and to hold him in said County Jail until the conclusion of the State trial, at which time, of course, you will transport him to the penitentiary, to which he has been sentenced, it being understood that the time he is held in jail will apply on said sentence. These instructions will be followed by you only in the event that they receive the full-approval of the United States District judge who sentenced him."

OFFICERS PERPLEXED

The last paragraph of the telegram caused some perplexity to Federal authorities here and another wire was dispatched to Washington for further instructions. Former United States District Judge Henning sentenced Lewis but Federal Judge James now has jurisdiction. It was understood, also, that Judge James, when appraised of the contents of the telegram, suggested that a further interpretation of the Attorney-General's phraseology that of "it being understood that the time he is held in jail will apply on said sentence." Judge James, it was said, wished definite assurance that the time spent by Lewis in the County Jail will apply on the Federal sentence.

Despite the further verification sought by the local Federal authorities, however, it was generally believed by close observers of the situation that Lewis's retention here for trial is practically assured in view of the Attorney-General's attitude.

FITTS SATISFIED

Dist.-Atty. Fitts expressed considerable satisfaction and revealed that he and his chief deputy, Robert P. Stewart, had been in communication with Mitchell's office over long-distance wires on at least two different occasions urging that such action be taken, and submitting authorities on the subject.

"Lewis hoped to be sent to the Federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island in the State of Washington and out of the jurisdiction of the California courts," said Fitts. "Now we will not have to rush his trials and can present a well-prepared prosecution."

Although scheduled to go to trial before Superior Judge Wilson at 10 o'clock this morning Lewis, according to anouncement from the United States marshal's office, will be taken to Superior Judge Tappaan's court to finish a deposition. His appearance before Judge Tappaan wil be under an order from Judge James issued several days ago.

BRIBERY CASE UP

So while Lewis is testifying before Judge Tappaan a bribery case in which he is charged with having attempted to bribe a woman juror during the first Julian trials in 1928 will be called by Judge Wilson and probably will be continued.

The bribery trial was set last Tuesday for this morning by Judge Wilson upon the request of Fitts.

Lewis pleaded with Judge Wilson not to advance the trial date of his case.

TO TRAVEL slowly through Mexico makes you ache for the old days of California before we gringos came in and spoiled everything.

Their hospitality is so genuine and sweet and sincere.

The peons go down to the gulf and catch giant turtles and spend the best part of a day cooking marvelous barbecues. They are hurt and insulted if you try to spend anything. All that they have is literally yours.

STRIKE UP THE BAND

No matter how small the town is they have a brass band and an orchestra. A little town where we spent the night on the Sinaloa River has three bands—and excellent ones. A Mexican can play any musical instrument almost on sight.

OXCARTS

After you leave Los Mochis going south you get into the oxcart country.

In my part of New England they still use oxen, but they are yoked with heavy wooden collars that fit over their necks; the Mexican oxen carry their yokes on their horns. Most of them are in good condition and husky.

GOING HOLLYWOOD

It is astonishing to find the number of Mexicans who have lived in the United States. I rode all day with a charming colonel who had been in the Swift packing-houses in Milwaukee; another boy had worked in Hollywood. Another had worked in an army post and still another had gone to school in a border town.

REVOLUTIONS

The colonel told me the revolutions of Mexico have been a blessing in disguise. Before Diaz fell the aristocratic families of Mexico all recoiled from sending their children to school in the United States; they thought our schools were filled with riff-raff. The various revolutions have sent many families into exile in the United States. The sons of these families are coming home to Mexico with a better understanding of the gringos and with a keen comprehension of the business methods of our country.

A SECRET CHAPTER

Everybody who has lived here for any length of time has lived through terrific dramas—revolutions, executions, Indian raids.

My colonel was an aide on the staff of Francisco Madero. The day Madero was murdered he was arrested but begged to be let out of jail long enough to take Mrs. Madero to a place of safety.

She preferred to die rather than to appeal to our Ambassador, Henry Lane Wilson. The French Ambassador hemmed and hawed and shuffled. At length the colonel appealed to the Japanese Ambassador.

The Japanese diplomat heard the young officer's plea; then a sharp command to the embassy servants, who spread a royal scar-

Chamber of Commerce Booklet Shows Easier Money Conditions and Increase in Building

Upward trends were shown by many outstanding industrial groups of Southern California during March, it was announced in the monthly Business Review issued yesterday by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Building permits last month went 81 per cent above February's figure. Bank clearings, with an increase of 15 per cent over February, were only 22 per cent below March, 1929, which was the largest month of that year. Stock exchange transactions showed an increase of 20 per cent in volume over February. The chamber's consider these three, taken together, as evidence of an easing of money conditions.

Los Angeles stood sixth in postal receipts among the major cities in February, showing an increase of 3 per cent over February, 1929. The Chamber of Commerce's employment index shows a March figure of 89.5, as against February's 84.1. Retail sales increased considerably during late March, while wholesale prices averaged 90.7 for that month as against 92.7 for February.

Important industries showing definite upward trends in March included construction and motion pictures. The bulletin reports that March building in Los Angeles represented twice the expenditure of February. Prospective owners are becoming aware of the present low prices of construction materials and are hurrying their plans so that purchases may be completed before anticipated cost increases.

Public works construction is continuing at a good rate, municipalities apparently taking advantage of present low prices, the report states.

Motion-picture studios are reported as from 35 per cent to 50 per cent more active than they were

CALTECH TRUSTEE HONORED

Campus Residence Hall Named for A. H. Fleming; Revelation Made on Birthday Anniversary

PASADENA, April 3. (Exclusive)—An unexpected honor was bestowed upon Arthur H. Fleming, president of the board of trustees of California Institute of Technology, on his seventy-fourth birthday, today, when a group of his friends and associates in the development of that institution picked his anniversary to inform him that they have provided a fund of $200,000 for the building of a residence hall on the campus to be known as Fleming House.

At a gathering at the home of Mrs. Ida R. Macpherson to which Mr. Fleming was invited without being informed its true purpose, he was told of the intention of the donors of the fund to perpetuate his name on the campus of the institute whose present standing is so much the result of his interest and efforts. The revelation was made in an address by Henry W. O'Melveny.

California Institute of Technology could never have come into being, Mr. O'Melveny said, "save for the extraordinary vision, generosity and devotion" of Mr. Fleming.

DEBT ACKNOWLEDGED

"You saw," he added, "the incomparable opportunity of starting a research and education center which, untrammeled by traditions and methods of the past, should grow out of and be adapted to the conditions existing in this new twentieth century world in which we now live; an institution worthy, too, of this last great center of population, composed of the pioneer stock which has developed American civilization.

Bandit Killed by Policeman in Pistol Battle Following Robbery of Hollywood Ban

ROBBER CHASED FOR FIVE MILES

Outlaw Takes to Hills at End of Blind Street

Crashes Later With Truck Taken from Japanese

Three Officers Have Narrow Escapes in Fight

Climaxing a running gun battle yesterday afternoon, a bandit was shot dead as he tried to shoot three police officers who had pursued him more than five miles after he had escaped with $500 stolen in the hold-up of a Hollywood bank.

Fingerprints of the dead bandit established his identity as Joe Luby, 27 years of age, wanted by Detroit police for a double murder and by Chicago for grand larceny and bail jumping. Luby was killed in the act of trying to shoot Police Sergeant A. A. Campbell, who beat him to the draw.

Police Sergeants Campbell, Z. Y. Gruey and Officer E. G. Brown narrowly escaped being struck by bullets at different times during the chase.

CHASE FOLLOWS ROBBERY

The chase immediately followed the hold-up and robbery by the bandit of the Security-First National Trust and Savings Bank branch at Hollywood Boulevard and Normandie avenue at 1 p.m.

It was the fourth time the bank has been held up, police reports show.

The automobile used by the bandit bore stolen license plates, according to police. In it was the $500 in cash which the suspect had obtained from W. H. Garland, manager of the branch bank.

The story of the chase was dramatically recounted by Sergt. Campbell.

"I was sitting in my own car on Normandie avenue about 100 feet north of the bank when I heard the bank siren go. I saw a man run out of the bank and leap into a roadster. I pulled out my revolver and ran across the street. The man jerked his gun and fired by my head.

SHOT RETURNED

"I shot directly at him three times in quick succession and he slumped forward in his seat. I thought sure I had him, but he jammed the car into gear and drove away.

"Sergt. Gruey happened along in his car and picked me up. We followed the suspect north on Normandie and then east on Franklin, where we lost him.

"I went at once to a call box, communicated with Hollywood station. Then we picked up Officer Brown and, thinking the suspect had driven toward the hills, we drove north on Catalina street.

TRAILED TO HILLS

"We had not gone far when we caught sight of the suspect driving up a hill road. We kept after him until he reached the end of the road. Here he leaped out of his car and fled down the side of a brushy ravine. Just before he vanished over the brow of the hill he whirled about and fired several times. Both Brown and myself answered the fire.

"We then left our car and took up the pursuit on foot. We could hear the suspect crashing down through the undergrowth and every time we saw him dart across a clear space we took a shot at him.

"He reached the bottom of the gulley and, as he started to climb out the other side Gruey and I left Brown to follow and went back to our car, thinking we could drive down and around and head him off from the far side of the ravine.

"As we swung our car around we heard Brown and the bandit firing again and then saw the latter reach the crest on the far side of the ravine and dodge behind a residence.

BANDIT STEALS TRUCK

"At this place he took a small truck from a Japanese gardener and succeeded in gaining the upper end of Vermont avenue. We had reached the bottom of the hills and were driving along Los Feliz when we saw him careening down Vermont. At the intersection of Los Feliz Boulevard he ran the truck into a parked machine.

"We drove up alongside and I held my gun on him. He cried out: 'I give up. Don't shoot, I quit.' But as I was within a few feet of his car he suddenly pointed his gun directly at me. Before he could press the trigger I let him have it."

In the robbery of the bank the manager described the bandit as exceedingly cool. He entered the institution at the close of the lunch hour. Garland and four employees were at their desk at the time. There were no customers present.

The bandit walked quietly up to Garland, presented a revolver and demanded cash. He got $500 in bills. He then backed out of the bank, whirled at the door and leaped into his machine. It was at this point that Garland sounded the bank siren and Sergt. Campbell entered the case.

Luby's police records is as follows:

Arrested March 25, 1920, by Los Angeles police on a charge of robbery, which was reduced to vagrancy. On March 2, 1921, he was sent from Chicago to the Illinois Reformatory for a term of ten years to life. On April 26, 1926, he was arrested in Chicago on a charge of grand larceny. On July 8, 1929, he was arrested in Chicago on a charge of robbery. Bail was set at $7500, which he jumped, a police circular of December 20, 1929, announcing he was wanted as a bail jumper.

In February 20, this year, the Detroit police announced a reward of $500 for Yuby's capture on charge of the murders of Jesse Catlin and John Scott, special agents of the Western Union Telegraph Company during a robbery of the Western Union offices in Detroit, at which time Policeman James Rawls also was wounded.

CALTECH PAYS FLEMING HONOR

tution might arise here you have not only cheerfully given everything that you possess for its founding, but more than that, you have given your time, your thought and your soul to it.

"For this vision, this devotion and this accomplishment, Southern California owes you as great a debt of gratitude as it has ever owed or is ever likely to owe to any single individual."

Up to the present, Mr. O'Melveny pointed out, the name of Arthur H. Fleming has not been placed upon any building on the campus, "and admirers are today seeing to it that that oversight is rectified."

GROUP OF FOUR HALLS

The general plan which was worked out several years ago for the building at Caltech of a group of residence halls of a distinctive character was reviewed by Mr. O'Melveny. Each of these halls will house about seventy-five men, each will have its own distinctive atmosphere and it is hoped that each will be the center about which the loyalties developed in student days and the memories of student life will cluster, explained Mr. O'Melveny. In short, he said, it is expected that they will "occupy something of the same sort of relation to American education that the English colleges in Oxford and Cambridge now occupy to English education."

Wtih the offer two years ago of Joseph B. Dabney to provide the first of four of these houses at a cost of $200,000, building plans for these four were drawn. Subsequently funds were provided for building two more of the four which were planned. The first three for which funds were provided will be named after the donors. Actual construction has been held up pending the provision of funds for the fourth house of the group, and with the action of the admirers of Mr. Fleming yesterday, Mr. O'Melveny said, "these four residence halls are now all financed, and their construction is to begin at once."

DONORS NAMED

"There is every reason to believe," he asserted, "that for centuries to come Fleming House, Dabney House, Ricketts House and Blacker House will occupy positions as significant in American education life as Trinity College, St. John's College, Christ Church College or Baliol College now occupy in English life."

"The men and women," he concluded, "who have wished to create this lasting memorial to the vision, the generosity and the devotion of Arthur H. Fleming represent all phases of Southern California life, and in this act they speak for this whole Southern California community, which owes you so much."

LEWIS LOSING TILT TO STATE

He Denounces Move to Delay Federal Sentence

His Presence Scheduled in Three Courts Today

Others Will be Arraigned on Securities Charge

plan being worked out by the United States Attorney-General and the local authorities to have him confined under his Federal sentence in the County Jail Lewis stated that he would resist the move.

ASSAILS MOVE

"This is just another attempt on the part of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and the local brokers to load me up with trials and possible convictions so as to becloud the issue and distract the public attention from themselves. None of them have been indicted and none are being investigated, according to the public press," Lewis declared.

"While I have no money left with which to fight I am going to make every effort to be transported to McNeil's Island and there begin my sentence."

Just what the next legal step contemplated by Lewis will be was not announced last night. He said he could not decide until he got information on disposition to be made of him by the United States Attorney-General, the United States marshal and the local Federal courts.

Lewis yesterday continued to testify in the $12,000,000 Julian stockholders' action against the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and a group of local brokers and during the day accused the defense lawyers of attempting to get information from him with which to assist the local authorities in attempt to "involve innocent citizens" in the various Julian investigations now under way.

GHOSTS OF MILLIONS

Late yesterday afternoon the ghosts of several millions of dollars paraded through the courtroom when Lewis was asked to identify a large number of checks issued by A. C. Wagy & Co., Inc., and cashed by A. W. Morris, H. B. Chessher and H. J. Barneson & Co., local brokers. The checks totaled $4,976,118.93. No testimony relative to the checks was given.

Cross-examination of Lewis ended late in the afternoon and Attorney Guy Crump, for the plaintiffs, began his re-direct examination with the probability that the entire deposition will be completed in the next two days.

At the close of court Judge Tappaan announced that eighty-one days have elapsed since the matter first came before him, there have been forty-four court days, out of which seventeen have been devoted to argument, seven to Lewis's direct examination, sixteen to his cross-examination. There have been 5200 pages of transcript made. In all Court Reporters W. N. Tiffany and Frank Hanna have transcribed 1,300,000 words.

It was pointed out that the present proceedings have been just the taking of depositions and argument on motions. The trial has not yet been set.

ATTORNEY REFUSES

In the meantime progress of the grand jury investigation of the overissue phase of the Julian inquiry was halted for a short time yesterday while Attorney William Neblett was before the body.

According to Neblett, he was called to identify certain photostatic copies of documents purporting to be the original pool agreements, out of which the recent usury indictments grew. Neblett, after he left the jury room, said that he had refused to answer questions on the grounds that his information was a privileged communication between attorney and client.

Neblett was served with a jury summons early yesterday, and it was reported then that he had been called with reference to the whereabouts of certain documents, declared by Fitts to be vital to the prosecution of the pending cases. Neblett is the attorney for Motley H. Flint and Henry S. MacKay, Jr., defendants in pending Julian trials.

While more than a score of witnesses were under summons, the grand jury, which devoted the morning session to routine business, was able to hear only three on the Julian collapse phase. H. A. I. Wolch, assistant Corporation Commissioner, was followed by John B. McDougal, vice-president of the Security-First National Bank, and he by Harris W. Bladen, formerly an auditor for the Corporation Commissioner.

WITNESSES CALLED

Other witnesses under summons and ordered to appear today at 10 a.m. are T. W. Rorke, deputy corporation commissioner, and B. H. Whittaker, former chief auditor in the same office.

During today the jury expects to call the following, all of whom are connected with the Corporation Commission at present, or are former members of the organization: Elmer J. Walther, former chief deputy, later assistant commissioner, but not in the department now; Harry Strachan, assistant executive secretary; A. P. Harshberger, deputy commissioner; E. H. Dishman, chief examiner; Elias Heffner, examiner; Fred Bahls, deputy commissioner; J. A. Hahn, deputy commissioner; Clyde Commons, deputy commissioner; Martin Vetter, auditor in charge; Walter W. Baker, auditor; Walter D. Abel, chief engineer, and Miss Claire S. Come, reporter.

A corrective indictment was returned yesterday to take the place of one voted Tuesday naming ten defendants on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Corporate Securities Act. It was explained as a mere action by the jury to correct some clerical errors in the original, and named the same defendants on the same charge.

ARRAIGNED TODAY

These ten defendants, who include S. C. Lewis, Jacob Berman, Adolph Ramish, I. L. Rouse, Alvin Frank, Motley Flint, E. H. Rosenberg, Charles E. Reese, R. M. Reese and Henry S. MacKay, Jr., will be arraigned before Superior Judge Wood today, at 2 p.m. All defendants are at liberty on bonds posted in other cases.

Date of the plea of Louis B. Mayer to the charge of conspiracy to commit usury, which was originally set along with thirty-five others for the 8th inst., was advanced to the 22nd inst. yesterday by Superior Judge Wood. The action was taken on motion of Fitts, after Attorney J. Perry Wood and Jerry Geisler, representing Mayer, explained that the motion-picture magnate had arranged to be in New York on the original date.

MONEY SENT BY POSTCARD

Thirty Cents Attached in Pouch by Boy Admirer of Film Star

A penny postcard to which 30 cents was attached yesterday passed through the hands of postal clerks on its way to a Hollywood film star. It was from Peter Burns, a Chicago boy, and carried, in addition to the money, a request for some photographs. The coins were contained in a pouch the boy had improvised with a bit of paper.

Other industrial groups showing improvement were iron and steel, food products, furniture and fixtures, printing and lithographing and rubber.

Postal receipts for February were $921,834, as compared with $891,193 for February, 1929.

Julian Broker Wins Judgment

A judgment for $2122 was won yesterday by Alvin H. Frank, a broker recently indicted by the grand jury in connection with the Julian usury cases, at the end of the hearing of his suit against Harry Love. The decree was signed by Superior Judge Butler.

Frank brought suit against Love for $4243 which he asserted was due him on an oil-stock transaction his concern handled for the defendant. He was not given the full amount asked as the court held it was a joint venture and the loss should be shared equally between him and Love.

The cases of two trucking concerns under investigation by the State Railroad Commission for asserted infractions of tariff and operation rules in their business of shipping milk from dairy districts to creameries in the vicinity of Los Angeles were continued yesterday by Examiner Williams until the 23rd inst. when defendants reported they were unprepared to answer the charges.

A third case, involving the operations of Cecil E. Snyder of Lynwood was declared submitted by Examiner Williams. Those continued were Francis E. and Merton E. Penhall of Westminster and A. T. Spencer of Norwalk.

Trial on Golf Watch Started

Hearing of the law suit of A. L. Eacrett against Max Zimmon for $30,000 for the asserted profits in a joint venture to manufacture golf watches, was begun yesterday before Superior Judge Price. Eacrett contends he went into a partnership with the defendant in 1927, while a patent was pending on the watch, an instrument for scoring golf tallies.

He further asserts that Zimmon has made $90,000 out of the business. He asks for one-third of the profits.

Unlicensed Men in Pest-Control Work Warned

Failure of termite operators, tree doctors, sprayers and fumigators to procure 1930 certificates and licenses subjects them to immediate arrest and prosecution, it was stated yesterday by Deputy County Agricultural Commissioner Wilcomb, in charge of pest-control work.

Last Tuesday marked the beginning of the fiscal license year for pest-control operators. Wilcomb explained, however, that a number of those engaged in the work will not begin operations for some time and therefore are not required to obtain the certificate and license until they do.

The State law requires that pest-control operators be certified by their respective county agricultural officials. In Los Angeles county application for the necessary county license is made through the office of County Agricultural Commissioner Ryan.

Northcott Appeal Enters on Its Concluding Phase

Answer to State's Brief in Supreme Court Filed

[illegible] Trial Due to Many Errors Charged

[illegible] Stewart Northcott, Wineville murderer, yesterday made his last bid to the Supreme Court for life.

Through his attorney, A. P. G. [illegible], he filed his answer to the State's brief, contending he was denied a fair and impartial trial.

"When we consider," it was stated in the youth's petition, "the number and variety of prejudicial errors committed, no State would be proud to hold forth a spectacle such as this as an illustration of a fair and impartial jury trial."

Northcott contends that the court erred in denying a motion to add the plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity" to the plea of "not guilty"; in denying a motion to determine the sanity of the defendant at the time of the trial, and in denying a motion for continuance to allow the defendant to submit more strongly the evidence in support of a former motion and to aid counsel for the defendant more adequately to prepare for the trial.

It is contended by the youth that his constitutional rights were taken from him without legal sanction in that he was deprived of the right to appear in person or in person by counsel. In this connection, it is asserted that the court required Northcott to discharge his counsel before he could personally examine witnesses.

The brief was dispatched last night to the Supreme Court in San Francisco.

G.O.P. URGED TO STAND BY PRESIDENT

County Party Men Hear Hoover Praised During Meeting at Pasadena

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, April 3. (Exclusive) A plea for Republicans to rally to the support of President Hoover against current criticism was voiced tonight by State Senator Merriam, county chairman, at the monthly meeting of the Republican County Central Committee in Hotel Maryland. Senator Merriam asserted that Hoover is the most progressive President the country has had in many years.

Joseph Scott of Los Angeles reminded Californians considering the present tariff bill, that the tariff on citrus fruits is the bulwark of Southern California's prosperity.

The committee voted to postpone, until after the taking of the census, all consideration of a move for a new Congress district gerrymandering which will separate Pasadena from South Pasadena and Alhambra, placing the Crown City in a new district with Glendale and the San Fernando Valley towns. R. [illegible] Wickham, City Attorney of Alhambra, announced that his city does not wish to be separated from Pasadena by Congress district lines.

Clarence Horn of Pasadena was elected assistant secretary of the county committee. Chairman William Eric Fowler offered to resign if his incumbency embarrasses the committee. He was given a vote of confidence.

Gas-War Truce Attempt Fails to Reach Goal

An attempt yesterday by one of the major oil companies to bring about a general adjustment of the recently slashed gasoline prices failed to accomplish its purpose and major dealers continued to sell at an average of 16½ cents a gallon, it was learned last night from persons in close touch with the situation.

Thirty days may be required to bring prices back to the former average of 19½ cents a gallon, it is predicted. There is a possibility, however, that owners of chain stations selling major brands of gas may reduce their prices to meet the marked cuts made by independent dealers before the market again is stabilized.

Vendors of so-called bootleg gas continued to display signs as low as 15 cents yesterday, with other independents offering pump service from this low mark upward. Some of the independents offered major brands of fuel for 15½ cents a gallon. Most of these stations are in the outlying districts.

Varied Opinions on Intoxication Feature of Suit

Various opinions as to what actions indicate a man is irresponsibly drunk, filtered into the record of Superior Judge Warne's court yesterday, in the $100,500 damage suit against Earl S. Ammerman, Hugh E. Page and E. M. Jones, for the death of Robert J. McIntee on Riverside Drive, June 21, 1929.

Besides McIntee, Dr. Scott Finley, athletic instructor at University of California at Los Angeles was killed in the wreck, which occurred when Ammerman assertedly drove his car into a truck trailer owned by Jones and operated by Page. Ammerman himself admitted drinking only one glass of port before the crash. Police officers who examined him after the accident testified he was more or less intoxicated.

Mrs. Letty McIntee, widow, is plaintiff in the suit, which will continue today.

CENSUS CHIEFS TO CONFER

sometimes gets into a delicate situation. One man declined to give his age at the time of his marriage. He followed the enumerator some distance away from the house and confided that he had been married once before and did not wish to disclose the situation in the presence of his wife.

Kincaid reported two townships in his district completely enumerated. They are Franklin township, which had four residents, and Arnaz township, with about 600 residents.

Enumerators reported with but few exceptions that the general public appears to be well informed as to what the census is about, that residents expected them and gave every co-operation possible.

The Los Angeles City Council yesterday took cognizance of the enumeration going on and adopted a resolution in which it stated:

"It is imperative, in order that Los Angeles may take its rightful place among the foremost cities of the nation, that an accurate and complete census be taken. Increased representation in Congress and our State Legislature will be secured by reapportionment based on increased population; Therefore, be it resolved that the City Council herewith appeals to the people of Los Angeles to give every possible assistance to the representatives of the Census Bureau, that they fully apprise themselves of the questions to be asked, which are appearing in our daily papers, and be prepared without delay to give accurate answers thereto, to the end that a speedy and accurate count of our population may be obtained."

One Supervisor yesterday received from Seattle an enumeration blank clipped from a newspaper in that city and filled out by a man who resides here but chances to be visiting in the northern city. He made it plain that he wished to be counted in Los Angeles, which drew lusty praise from Guy C. Marion, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce committee helping the count here.

VALUE OF CENSUS FARM DATA EMPHASIZED

Co-operation with census enumerators was emphasized yesterday at a meeting of the State Board of Agriculture in the Associated Realty Building, with Robert A. Condee of Chino presiding.

Condee declared that a complete rural census will be of extreme value in that it will be of inestimable aid in ascertaining accurate figures on farm crops, in learning the extent of overproduction, if any; in obtaining an accurate count of domestic animals and in finding out what proportion of farmers live on their ranches.

Members of the board lunched at the Biltmore, where they consulted with George Farrand, nationally known authority on farm co-operatives, who aided in the organization of the Federal Farm Board.

The farm board includes, besides Chairman Condee, E. L. Adams of Chino, C. E. Gray of San Francisco, Frank T. Elliott of Cutler, A. C. Hardison of Santa Paula, Merritt H. Adamson of Los Angeles, A. B. Miller of Fontana, J. A. Irving of Placerville and A. T. Spencer of Woodland. Spencer and Adams were unable to be present at yesterday's meeting.

Appeals Court Docket Cleared

For the first time since last fall when the appellate department of the Superior Court was established, the presiding judges of the tribunal Superior Judges McLucas, Shaw and Bishop, have the department's calendar of cases cleared, which gives them some time to devote to their individual departments. A check of the records reveals that the newly established department has handled more than 1000 appealed cases from Municipal Court.

REQUEST DISHES ON SCHOOL MENU TODAY

Many of the programs at the Los Angeles Times' Free Cooking School are devoted to the preparation of unusual recipes requested by members of the class. Today is another of these "request demonstrations" and women who go to the school on the third floor of the Southwest Building will learn how to make unusual and appetizing dishes. Chef Wyman will prepare a jellied carrot and sauerkraut salad, marshmallow fritters, a grapenut banana pie, sponge cake and baked croquettes prepared with oysters and mushrooms. The cooking class begins at 2 o'clock and everyone is invited to be the guest of The Times.

FLOWER SHOW AT SCHOOL

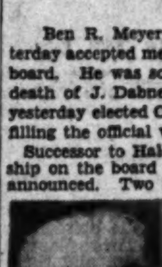
Pupils of Hillside school, Avenue 35 and Griffin avenue, will hold their annual flower show next Tuesday and Wednesday. Announcements, issued yesterday, are accompanied by hand-painted blossoms executed in water colors by members of the art class.

BANKER ON WELFARE BOARD

Ben R. Meyer Accepts Salvation Army Post Left Vacant by Death of J. Dabney Day

Ben R. Meyer, president of Union Bank and Trust Company, yesterday accepted membership on the Salvation Army's Los Angeles advisory board. He was solicited by the board to fill the vacancy caused by the death of J. Dabney Day. The board at luncheon in the Athletic Club yesterday elected Charles S. Hutson, one of its members, to be its chairman, filling the official vacancy caused by the death of Harry M. Haldeman.

Successor to Haldeman's membership on the board has not yet been announced. Two additional members also are to be solicited, increasing the board from seven to ten members, Brig. J. C. Bell announced.



BEN R. MEYER

Army workers, Bell explained, have undertaken to interest persons of means in making insurance provision for the army's work, especially its age-retirement and worker-training school funds. The army retires its workers after thirty or thirty-five years of service, according to rank and certain other conditions, on a per cent of their salary at time of retirement. It maintains a school in San Francisco, where it trains for two years young persons who wish to make a life work of Salvation Army affairs.

CHARLES S. HUTSON

To swell the funds carrying on these two projects especially, Bell said, persons of means will be solicited to take out an insurance policy payable to the army.

The army's last fiscal year report for the western territory, which includes thirteen western States and has headquarters at San Francisco, shows assets and liabilities amounting to $8,663,148.46.

Canadians to Give Pageant Palm Sunday

Canadian visitors will say farewell to Los Angeles at the pageant of the Canadian Tourists' Society and its nine affiliated clubs at Brookside Park, Pasadena, beginning at 12 o'clock noon Palm Sunday, the 13th inst. Miss Canada, Queen of 1930, will be crowned in a ceremony of Elizabethan pomp, the setting copied from the pageant of Palm Sunday at Eccles Fields, England. Miss Ontario also will be crowned Princess Imperial. Nine princesses representing the nine provinces will form the key of this pageant, accompanied by flower girls, pages and heralds.

Features of the program announced include music by the Union Pacific Band, a ladies' patrol drill and the distribution of honors and merit certificates. J. Hooper is president.

INSULTED WIFE GETS DECREE OF DIVORCE

Because her husband is asserted to have told her she wasn't fit to wear his wedding ring, Mrs. Frances Doris Buck filed suit for divorce and obtained an interlocutory decree from Bertram E. Buck in Superior Judge Guerin's court yesterday. Mrs. Buck testified her husband was unreasonably jealous and chased her out of the house.

Visitor Here for Study of Lamb Market

If John Bull, with a family of 35,678,530 persons, can consume 250,000 lambs annually in England alone, what might Uncle Sam's folk be expected to do along the same line?

The question is asked by T. Moloughney, who has journeyed from Melbourne, Australia, to find the answer. He is manager of the Western & Murray Meat Packing Company and director of the Victorian Casing Company. He has just arrived in Los Angeles on the first lap of a transcontinental motor tour of the United States. His purpose is to study packing methods and also to conduct a first-hand survey of marketing possibilities for his products.

With him are A. J. Powell, director of W. J. Powell, Ltd., mechanical and meat-works engineers, and K. C. Guest, representing T. B. Guest & Co., biscuit manufacturers. They expect to spend several days in Hollywood and Southern California, after which they will go to San Francisco.

Powell, who first visited Los Angeles five years ago, marveled at the tremendous growth of the city since that time. The visitors are stopping at the Biltmore.

Boys Will Sing at Elks' Temple

Miss Verna C. Blythe, director, will present the senior boys' glee club of the Los Angeles High School in several numbers at the Elks' Temple, West Sixth street and Park View avenue, Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, during the vesper organ recital by Sibley G. Pease.

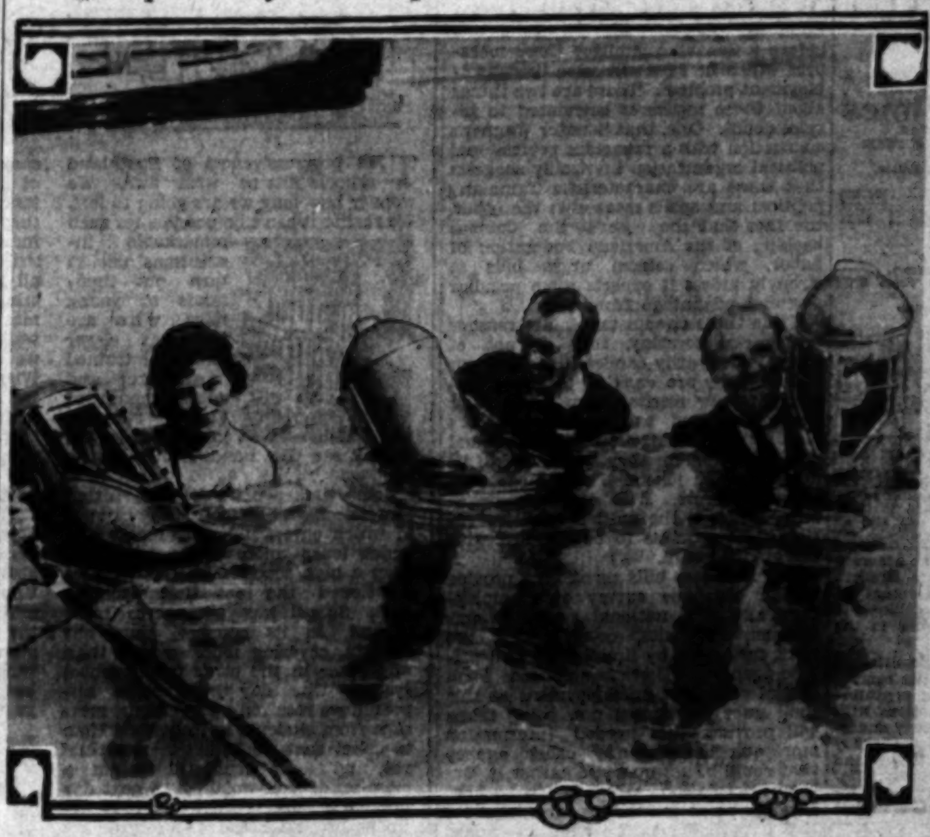
An additional feature will be the first appearance at the Elks' organ of Mr. Pease's son, Paul L. Pease, who besides playing the organ accompaniment for Cadman's "The Builder," will render a piano and organ composition, "Fantasie," by Clifford Demarest, with Miss Pauline Peperney, the glee club's accompanist, at the piano.

Frank S. Hutton, an alumnus of Los Angeles High School, class of 1901, and recently installed Exalted Ruler of Los Angeles Elks' Lodge, will give a short address of welcome.

NEW SCHOLARSHIP OFFER ANNOUNCED

A scholarship valued at $1000 a year is offered the college student of the Pacific Coast area who can prove himself proficient in the study of analytical chemistry, and will be effective for the academic year 1930-31, according to Dr. Wilfred W. Scott, head of the department of chemistry of the University of Southern California. Dr. Scott is a member of the fellowship committee under whose direction the award will be made. The move is being sponsored by the J. T. Baker Chemical Company of Phillipsburg, N. J., to encourage research and study in the chemical field.

Nuptial Joy Undampened in Wettest Marriage



All Hands Wear Diving Headgear

COUPLE WED UNDER WATER

Miss Katie Wilson and J. F. Gutrick United in Pool, With Pastor Shepard Officiating

No one ever has been able to figure out what the wild waves have been saying, but it was definitely established what the remarks of the ripples on the surface of the Ambassador swimming pool were yesterday afternoon when the first submarine wedding in history was solemnized—or performed.

To be sure, the actual words of the service as they came over waterproof sound apparatus, built in the contracting parties' nuptial garments, were a bit fuzzy and sounded more like good, healthy gurgles than anything else. But it was evident to the spectators who thronged the sides of the pool that a "blurb, blurb" could be nothing other than the bridegroom's resolute, "I do," and that a weaker, "gurgle, gurgle," obviously indicated the same for the blushing bride.

BRIDE'S ATTIRE

In the parlance of the social columns, the bride, Miss Katie Wilson, 25 years of age, of 1645 East Eighty-second Place, was attired in a gown of pink moire, beneath which she had taken the precaution to put a bathing suit. She carried no shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. Instead of a bridal veil she wore a heavy "diving hood," without which she could not have taken her underwater vows.

The bridegroom, J. F. Gutrick, 26, a tile-setter of 206 West Tenth street, wore the conventional morning suit of black striped trousers and cutaway coat. There was no gardenia in his button hole.

They met at the steps of the pool, where Rev. Sheldon Shepard, pastor of the First Universalist Church, in clerical vestments, greeted them. They donned their earphones and the diving hoods, from somewhere came the familiar strains of "Lohengrin's Wedding March," and in stately procession they moved down the length of the pool into the deep waters, where the ceremony was performed.

GURGLES ONLY GUIDE

From the series of gurgles that came over the microphone it was apparent to the visitors that the service was being conducted along approved lines, although it was impossible to tell whether or not the bride was nervous, or if the bridegroom fumbled with the ring. And no sooner were the last words spoken which made the aquatic couple man and wife, than they all made haste to leave their watery altar.

During this entire performance the most important attendants a bridal couple ever had were the three men who kept up a steady accompaniment to the services on the air pumps connected with the diving hoods.

When the party had regained the shallows again and removed the cumbersome deep-sea accessories, the bride's sprightly comment was, "I'll say its cold," whereupon the minister kissed her and the bridegroom ran a finger around the edge of a thoroughly wilted collar.

The attendants of the pair, Earl King and Mrs. Mildred Wagner, wisely stood on the sidelines throughout the ceremony. But there is every probability that later they were called on to render more service than any other nuptial attendants in bridal history, for rub-downs were in order judging from the chattering teeth and gooseflesh that followed the damp service.

A trip to Catalina Island provided an appropriate honeymoon for the occasion.

Lindbergh Hop to Mexico Story Causes Denial

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh last night denied a press dispatch from Oklahoma City, which stated that the colonel had written a letter to sponsors of a University of Oklahoma journalism tour promising, if his plans permitted, to fly Will Rogers, humorist, to Mexico City and greet the tour on the 24th inst.

"I wrote no such letter and, although I would like very much to go to Mexico our plans make such a trip impossible now or on that date," the colonel stated. He termed the asserted letter "just one of those things."

When he and Mrs. Lindbergh, guests at the home of J. L. Maddux, president of T.A.T.-Maddux Airline, will return east is undecided. Work is being rushed at the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation factory in Burbank on a new speed wing for the Lindberghs' Sirius monoplane.

Use of Spiritual Healing Powers of Church Urged

Declaring that the ministry of healing has too long been neglected by the church, Dr. Edward Lane, dean of Trinity procathedral of Phoenix, Ariz., in an address at St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday said this phase of Christian work is destined to play an important part in church activities of the future.

"Of course we always shall have, and should have, physicians, for medical science is one of the ways in which God works His good will toward men but the knowledge of medicine and surgery should be supplemented by the employment of spiritual power," said Dr. Lane.

"A great part of the ministry of Jesus was in healing the bodies of men, but there is no question that He considered such healing to be secondary in importance to the eradication of sin from the soul."

HEARING FOR CRASH CASE DRIVER SET

Blackwell's Bail Kept at $5000 as Police Officer Remains in Hospital

Preliminary hearing for Harley O. Blackwell of 226 East Ninety-fourth street, who crashed into Police Officer B. T. Haley while the latter was assisting children across a school crossing, was set yesterday by Municipal Judge Ballard for next Tuesday. Judge Ballard denied a motion to reduce Blackwell's $5000 bail when Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman reported the officer still is in serious condition in a hospital. Blackwell is charged with drunk driving.

Judge Ballard also held Carl B. Wright of 1331 Albany street for Superior Court trial on a similar charge after officers testified they arrested him for driving erratically at Ninth and Figueroa streets.

Judge Turney bound Earl Stersic of 5870 Holmes avenue, and Fred J. Schindler of 4055 Randolph street, Huntington Park, for trial for drunk driving after witnesses said that each was responsible for a collision. In all three cases police surgeons said the men were drunk.

CORONER'S JURY NAMES ROGERS

Death of Officer Costello Laid to Gunshot Wounds

Hearing on Murder Charge Delayed to Wednesday

Attorney Asks for Time to Study Shooting Case

The death of Police Officer James C. Costello was due to gunshot wounds in the heart inflicted with homicidal intent by Glenn Rogers, a Coroner's jury found yesterday.

Detective Lieutenant Starritt and Officer Elmer Hoffman testified before Deputy Coroner Montfort as to the shooting. Starritt said Rogers has made a complete confession of the shooting, which occurred last Monday while Costello and Hoffman were investigating a parked automobile at Seventh and Lucas streets. Hoffman described the shooting, which ended when he wounded Rogers, who fled the scene. Rogers, 801 South Beacon street, did not testify in his own defense.

From the inquest Rogers was taken to Municipal Judge Ballard's court for preliminary hearing on the murder charge. The hearing was delayed until next Wednesday at the request of Harry Margid, defense attorney, who said he had just been retained by Rogers and needs time to familiarize himself with the case.

Rogers, wounded in the knee, was arrested Tuesday at the home of Dorothy Cooley, 2944 Belgrave avenue, Huntington Park, after an anonymous telephone call gave the police a tip as to his whereabouts.

HIGH HONORS WILL BE ACCORDED AT FUNERAL

With full police department honors, the funeral of Officer James C. Costello, who was shot down in line of duty Monday, will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. today at Brown Brothers chapel, 935 West Washington street. A color guard and a special escort of twenty-four of the slain policeman's brother-officers, accorded usually only to higher-ranking officers, will be part of the cortege accompanying the body to Calvary Cemetery for interment. Officers Abney, Caddell, Morrison, Winget, Smith and Frank are to be the pallbearers, by order of Capt. Hubbs, in charge of Georgia-street division, to which Costello was attached. The escort will be in command of Sergt. Justin.

Capt. Hubbs stated last night that merchants on the beat patrolled by Costello are collecting a testimonial purse to be presented to the murdered officer's mother.

AIR COURSE TO START

The ground needs of the commercial operator will be considered in a Friday evening college course in airport management meeting tonight at 7 o'clock at university college in the Transportation Building, in charge of Earl W. Hill, professor of traffic and transportation at the University of Southern California.

A practical course in store organization will also be organized this evening, in charge of William E. Koch of the school of merchandising of S.C.

Today's Bible Text

As it is written, For thy sake we are killed all the day long; we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter. Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us.—Romans viii, 36, 37.

WELL GOES ON STRIKE

That Oklahoma gusher evidently doesn't give a darn for the agreement to cut down production.

LETTER MISSING

Nurse writes to London from South Africa that the Prince of Wales doesn't like to take pills. Evidently he prefers spills.

NEAR-CIGARS

They have taken the nicotine out of father's pet smoke. Now if they'll just make 'em ashless, too, mother will be happy.

GOES IT ONE BETTER

San Francisco Federal judge, admonishing grand jury, declares no law ever passed had been violated as much as the prohibition act. How about the automobile laws, Your Honor?

ONE NAME OFF LIST

The conviction of a cult priestess will erase at least one name from the little book consulted by the bunko, flimflam and "religious" gentry and which has so often proved that "Barnum was right."

NO FEELER NEEDED

The "traflator," invented in Syracuse, "feels" the approach of an automobile in the opposite direction, it is asserted. Motorists on highways don't need such a device to "feel" the approach of a motorcop. His white car or motorcycle tips it off.

WHY SPOIL IT?

Georgette Cohan, daughter of the man who made millions out of Broadway, denies she will marry Philip Morgan Plant and says "we have just been good friends for about eleven or twelve years." Would marriage improve that condition?

TRUE STORIES

Raoul Walsh, director of movie thrillers, has the makings of a real racetrack scenario for which he can supply all the material. Bidding in a horse for $15,000 on Friday, he captured a $29,200 purse on Sunday. To them that hath shall be given.

AN OBJECT LESSON

All communities in Southern California would profit by the example set by Pasadena in planting palm trees along its main thoroughfare. There is nothing more suggestive of the semi-tropical climate of the Southland. And tourists expect to see them.

SIXTH RACE POSSIBLE?

From the sands of the desert collectors are bringing pieces of violet-colored glass, claiming that broken bottles, through long exposure to the sun, have imprisoned the ultra-violet rays. Is there any danger of America's bathing beaches developing a race of purple flappers?

CALL AGAIN

Maeterlinck complains in Los Annales, published in Paris, that he could not buy fresh fish in California because it is first shipped to New York and returned to the Golden State, frozen. A lot of us would like to know who escorted Maeterlinck around the Southland.

DOING SOME GOOD

With both houses of Congress admittedly having dry majorities, and no chance of modification or repeal, the clamorous wets have at least turned on the limelight so "hot," as they say in the studios, that the enforcement machinery should have little difficulty in locating the seat of trouble.

SAN CLEMENTE'S NEW CHIEF

The appointment of L. A. Warren as Chief of Police in Ole Hanson's Spanish Village will be a popular one in all of Orange county. During his five years as probation officer, Warren made a splendid record for efficiency and no police officer knows the "bad boys" more intimately than he does. And he has no use for the bootlegger.

A TAMMANY PANACEA

Senator Wagner, Tammany, of New York, has placed under consideration before a Senate committee three measures which he says will solve the unemployment problem. There are two things about these measures calculated to inspire doubt. One, that Senator Wagner's connection with a rapacious professional political organization inevitably suggests that these are characteristic Tammany political and spoils measures; the other, the fact that they have the dubious backing of the American Federation of Labor, which seldom urges bills so strongly unless it expects some peculiar personal advantage from them.

While these circumstances are reasons for special scrutiny, they do not, of course, necessarily condemn the Wagner bills. These are entitled to be considered on their merits, apart from their sponsorship and backing. Two of the bills appear unobjectionable on general principle, though they will need to be examined for jokers. The third contains dynamite. It is economic dynamite, which is the most destructive variety and requires to be handled with the greatest care.

The first two bills mentioned provide for an economic survey of unemployment and for a national system of employment agencies, co-ordinating the work now done by State, local and private agencies. There is no need for a special survey of unemployment at this time since the census now being taken will provide the needed information more quickly than any other agency that could be set up could gather it. But the information will have to be kept fresh to be of continuing value, and for this a permanent organization might legitimately be required if it can be shown that the work regularly done along this line by the Department of Labor is inadequate.

Federal employment agencies, also, might be useful if properly conducted and free from the inevitable politics. Employment requirements necessarily vary as to time and place, and any plan that will bring the man and the job into connection quickly is, of course, of benefit to the workman, the employer and the community. While the present agencies perform a useful local function, there is little interchange of information so that there may readily be a surplus of men at one place and a scarcity at another, without either being the wiser. Here, again, however, the Department of Labor should function, as it has offered to do in specific instances.

Organized labor has usually fought plans for making labor more mobile. If President Green of the American Federation of Labor has consented to the plan proposed by Senator Wagner, either the federation has reversed itself on a fundamental policy or there are things seriously wrong with specific details of the Wagner plan. The federation has always insisted on creating an artificial scarcity and of reserving such jobs as there are for members of its own locals, where it is possible to do so.

The third Wagner bill proposes the creation of a fund of $150,000,000 to be used in public improvements when times are hard. The trouble here is that it is impossible to set up specific standards by which it may be judged whether or not times are hard. A national board of some sort would, presumably, have to do the judging, and it must be obvious even to an amateur politician that control of such a board would be an enormously valuable political asset. Large sums spent by such a board, in doubtful States shortly before election time, might very easily decide any national election. The door would be opened to all sorts of political jobbery and wire-pulling, and the board would tend to become a permanent pork-barrel bureau unless carefully safeguarded. The latter is not a customary characteristic of the conduct of Tammany schemes.

This plan also runs the danger of the familiar "make work" fallacy—the idea that employment at wages is beneficial, whether the work is productive or not. When work needs to be done, it should be done; but doing work that does not need to be done is pure waste and lost motion, and as fundamentally wrong as deliberately destroying food in time of famine. Public work can be, and should be, adjusted to the general employment situation, and when other work is scarce is a good time to undertake needed projects. But they must be needed or there is no benefit. The great danger of all such schemes is that they will lead to such projects, say, as shifting sand dunes around on the Mojave Desert merely to give employment.

President Hoover is known to be working on a plan for accomplishing the object which Senator Wagner professes to seek—the use of public work to take up the employment slack—and doubtless knows more about what is practical and impractical in such plans than any other one person. Before any measure of this sort is enacted, it should have the benefit of his data and advice.

GREAT BRIDGE OPENED

In the presence of thousands of people and with a blare of bands and flag-waving the great bridge across the Columbia River at Longview, Wash., was opened recently by the pressing of a golden key by President Hoover, thus connecting the States of Washington and Oregon by a new bond and forming an important link in the highway running from Canada to Mexico.

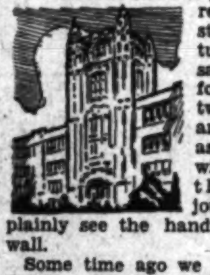
Governors and other officials of the two States were present at the dedication and Mayor Rolph of San Francisco made a presentation speech turning the bridge over to the Columbia River Longview Bridge Company on behalf of the Bethlehem Steel Company. Joseph B. Strauss of Chicago, designer of the great structure, was on the ground, as were also delegations from Chicago, Washington and other eastern cities.

The new bridge has the longest cantilever span of any in the United States—1200 feet—with a clearance above water of 196 feet. The largest liner afloat, the Leviathan, could pass under it with plenty of room to spare. It has seven piers and four pedestals, and is the second highest bridge over navigable water in this country. Its cost was nearly $6,000,000.

The giant structure forms a gateway between Northwest Oregon and Southwest Washington. Only as the years roll on will the far-reaching worth of this new interstate tie fully be realized. In facilitating travel and trade its benefits will be felt all up and down the coast.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

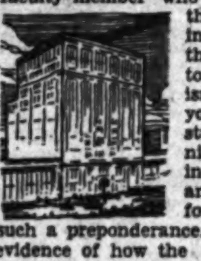


THE progressiveness of Southland schools fills us with awe. We wonder how long we are going to last. We realize it can't be possible for such remarkable institutions not to turn out thousands of young folks who are twice as clever and well trained as we are; and with so many of them studying journalism we can plainly see the handwriting on the wall.

Some time ago we told of visiting Fairfax High School, the campus of which covers nine city blocks and which looks more like a university than a high school. At that time we mentioned the fact that Fremont High School has two acres more ground in its campus than has Fairfax, covering more ground than any other in the city's public school system. The day that article appeared we received an indignant message from students in Hollywood High to effect that we hadn't seen nothin' yet, and never would till we got a close-up of Hollywood. And next day in bounded letters from Pasadena, assuring us that Pasadena's schools are nationally recognized, among educators as "the best in the country."

Schools Busy Day and Night

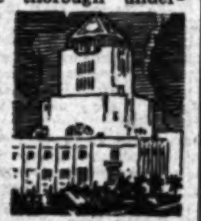
But what astounds us is the progressiveness of the smaller cities. In great cities like Los Angeles and rich cities like Pasadena one expects the best. But the other day we were in Huntington Park. In the school's well-equipped cafeteria we were entertained by a girls' orchestra of real quality, and then we went to the assembly hall, where a forty-piece boys' orchestra gave a concert which was really inspiring. We were told that school had an enrollment of 2500 day students, 4000 night students and 300 women in housewife classes, with one faculty member who gives some of the latter lessons in their homes, if they cannot come to the school. It isn't often that you find more students in the night school than in the day school and we never before heard of such a preponderance. It is amazing evidence of how the working people of Southern California are striving to better their condition and improve themselves.



Older Folk in Schools

But it isn't only the young folks who are so ambitious. In every Southern California city of importance many of the night-school students are men or women of maturer years. In the Frank Wiggins Trade School one occasionally finds a student who is past 60 and a good many who are past 50. Those classes are primarily for people already working in skilled trades who desire to fit themselves for better jobs, and in a good many cases the older students are there out of a desperate resolve not to be distanced by the youngsters. Though they have been earning their living for forty years in skilled trades they still have not learned from experience all that they can learn from that school, in which every teacher is a master craftsman, not merely a teacher of theories. The other day we heard of a man past 60 in the Wiggins school who has been working for forty years at his trade, but confidently hopes to learn something there which will add about $25 a week to his earning capacity by fitting him for an advanced job he cannot hold now.

The Public Library also reflects this determination of older workers to keep up with the pace which is ever swifter. The readers' adviser continually is asked for courses of study along specialized lines which will give the students more thorough understanding of the work they have been doing for years.



Here Come the Poets

Well, here come the first entries in our April poetry contest. We'd be glad to have you readers vote on these from day to day—by mail, please! The first poem contributed comes from one who is, we understand, a contributor to eastern humorous weeklies and who is or has been editor of a Hebrew paper. He also is a lawyer. But he knows just how a colyumist feels: He writes:

My song may be a raucous cry,
My pen a blunted blade,
The picture that I paint
Soon from sight may fade,
I know I cannot, with my verse,
Attain to passion's heights,
Nor lead the world to ecstasy
In fancy's mobile flights.
But if it brings to wearied hearts
A slight forgetfulness of pain,
A smile, a memory, I shall know
My song was not in vain.

DAVID WEISSMAN

And the second entry is from a Chinese student at U.S.C., who sends us his poem in both Chinese and English:

SOLITUDE

I sit and dream within my lonely room.
The moonlight is my dim companion here—
The moonlight and a nameless, haunting fear
Which deepens all the shadows of the gloom.
My fancy makes familiar things assume Disturbing shapes, and ghostly faces leer
Like memories that will not disappear.

The wind is moaning with a cry of doom.
A tapping on my door! A wisp of sound!
At every mournful gust it comes again,
Like bony fingers rattling at the key!
With sinking heart I seek what may be found
Beyond the portal. Nothing at first—and then Dead flowers that the wind has brought to me.

CHONG YING CHANG

AN OUTWORN CUSTOM

President Hoover has at last done what his predecessors, one and all, wanted to do. They would have done it long ago had they not lacked the courage to overthrow an established precedent. He has abolished at the White House the foolish and tiresome ceremony of promiscuous handshaking.

Being an efficient engineer he is naturally opposed to any waste motion, and where is motion more patently wasted than in making a pump handle of the Chief Executive's right arm, wearing down his physical strength to serve no useful purpose?

Heretofore, our Presidents have had to endure this ordeal of facing a long line of expectant visitors, who for the private satisfaction of being able to tell the folks back home that they had shaken hands with the President, were willing to cripple a hand and arm required for the carrying on of State and public affairs. Herbert Hoover rightly desires to conserve his strength for the big task of running the republic, and so has decided not to fritter any of it away in deference to a custom, "more honored in the breach than the observance."

In the early days of the nation, when the population was sparse and scattered and travel to Washington was almost an epochal event, this ceremonious handshaking was a limited and not burdensome tax on the President. Even then it did little more than gratify the vanity of a few publicity seekers. But today when thousands have been converted to millions and travel to Washington from every State brings at some time or other most of these millions to the capital, submitting the President to this physical strain has grown to a monstrous imposition.

President Hoover has killed a silly anachronism. It is safe to say that none of his successors will be anxious to revive it.

A HIGH-PRICED PRIVILEGE

Every little while San Francisco makes a new discovery, which goes to prove that the privilege of public ownership of utilities is a high-priced one. Not long ago it was found that the acquisition of the Spring Valley Water Company's property would knock nearly $10,000,000 off the assessment roll, as no taxes are paid by the municipality and even if they were they would eventually be added to those of the citizenry. Now it is being disclosed that it is going to cost the same citizenry a pretty penny in increased salaries and wages to the former employees of the water company, said to number about 500, who are now on the city's pay roll.

In less than a month of city operation of the waterworks employee after employee of the water department has applied for a "raise," and in most cases it has been granted by the Board of Public Works. The grounds on which these demands were made were the wages received for similar service by other city employees. If a man was receiving $110 a month from the water company he naturally did not hesitate to put in an application for $150 a month, if that was what the board was paying another for similar service.

It is reported that most of the water department employees are receiving more pay than they did from the company and that not one of them is receiving less. And now those who have been granted small rises demand an increase in proportion to those who were given larger ones.

Whether these dissatisfied employees are entitled to receive more pay than that accorded them by the Spring Valley Water Company does not seem to be the question involved. They are demanding it frankly on the ground that now they are working for the city!

FORWARD-LOOKING DRAMATISTS

By James J. Montague

Old Aeschylus wrote tragedies—
Good, virile, snappy stuff,
Though many of the plays of his
Were just a trifle rough.
But still, as in the days of yore,
His memory is green,
For Aschy wasn't writing for
The screen.

Bill Shakespeare's work is known almost
Around the world today;
He even dramatized a ghost
And stuck it in a play;
His stuff was never cheap or thin;
Just read it, and you'll find
He didn't have the pictures in His mind.

Old Henrik Ibsen wrote with skill,
Combined with fiery rage,
And one can see his dramas still
Produced upon the stage;
He never said: "If this don't go
So heavy as a play,
I'll sell it for a picture show
Some day!"

Don't wonder why some new plays last
A fleeting week or two
And then are swallowed in the past
And vanish from the view,
For when a drama proves no good
The author need not pine—
The market out in Hollywood
Is fine!

Three Points Offered

PASADENA, March 31.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I read with grave concern the editorial of March 26 regarding "Conscientious Objectors" in the Los Angeles Times.

To me it showed lack of information on the subject. Permit me to submit the three following points for your consideration:

(1) Has any government which has officially renounced war as an instrument of national policy the right to persecute an individual citizen who has renounced war in his own heart?

(2) America was founded on the principle of liberty of conscience. Is not any attempt to debar individuals from citizenship on account of their conscientious objections to bearing arms a departure from true Americanism?

(3) Civilization has never advanced except by the work and lives of those individuals who had strength of character enough to stand up against the established order of things and become, many times, martyrs to their cause. Each of these in his day was a true "conscientious objector." By and by, as time went on the majority came to see the truth proclaimed by these great moral pioneers and "time made ancient good uncouth." So it is I believe in the world today, these noble men and women who are now sneered at by the unthinking will in future ages be regarded as the great moral leaders of their day and generation.

MRS. LYDIA MICHENER.

Planter and Grower

LOS ANGELES, April 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I see in yesterday's issue of The Times, March 31, in the column from Sierra Madre, the statement that the famous wistaria vine that draws thousands each year to see its glorious showing was planted by Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Fennel thirty-seven years ago. This is an error on the part of the correspondent, for the vine was planted by Mrs. William F. Brugman in 1893, about seventeen years before Mr. and Mrs. Fennel moved into the home. Until a few days ago I was a resident of Sierra Madre and lived there for over twenty years. The planter of the vine now lives in Glendale. To Mr. Fennel must be given the credit for the great extension of the growth of the vine through years of study and care of it.

Design Explained

LOS ANGELES, March 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Looking over the Sunday edition of Los Angeles Times came across the article about the design on chimney in a New Mexico prison. If I am not mistaken it stands for the insignia of the Royal Arcanum, Virtue, Mercy, Concord, 1105. I have seen duplicates on notices back East many times.

Generous Spirit

LOS ANGELES, March 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I wish to compliment you on the generous spirit manifested in that article on Father Sullivan and also in your article on Canada with reference to that government's disposition to suppress as far as possible the exportation of spirituous liquors into the United States. As Protestants there is a great misunderstanding both of the letter and spirit of the Catholic church for the civic betterment of our city.

What a comparison between Father Sullivan, a Jesuit, who has taken the "Poverty Vow" and those preachers who said that the size of a salary made for incentive and initiative among the clergy.

Lamp Heralds Tire Trouble

Warning of impending deflation of a tire of an automobile is given by a device just perfected by Joseph Orszagh, inventor of Budapest, Hungary. The invention is operated by the air pressure, and announces any change in it by flashing a red lamp on the instrument board.

Fortune for Horse Troughs

That after certain bequests, the residue of his property be placed in trust for the construction and erection of horse troughs in Australasia or the British Isles, is stipulated in the will of George Bills, who died recently at Camberwell, Australia. He left nearly $50,000.

MUST WOMEN OBEY?

BY ALMA WHITAKER

St. Paul was only partially right.

For in answer to the question, "Must Women Obey?" in a discourse by Mrs. Helen Wells Johnson in the Bible section of the Hollywood Woman's Club, the lecturer summed up with "The higher rights must prevail."

Which most of the feminine audience interprets as "Yes, she must . . . when she cannot get the upper hand herself."

It should be noted that the question was discussed in all seriousness and reverence befitting the Bible department of the club. Mrs. Johnson earnestly sought for enlightenment under a general theme of "How readest thou?" So that in coming to the conclusion anent the prevalence of higher rights, she was endeavoring to strike a nice balance between the teachings of St. Paul, who held such emphatic opinions on the subservience of women, and modern feminism which scorns all subservience.

Most of the real arguments took place unofficially in the lobby afterward, with many reminders of the hosts of male speakers who facetiously proclaim that they are under the domination of their wives, including Mayor Porter, Judge Bledsoe, L. E. Behymer and even the Governor on occasion. If these gentlemen wish us to believe them . . . and political gentlemen usually wish to be believed . . . it is obvious they themselves are not banking on St. Paul's edicts, set down so clearly and unmistakably for masculine advantage in the long ago.

And, anyway, of course, the Episcopalian church gallantly foreswore St. Paul when it deleted the word "obey" from the wife's response in the wedding ceremony.

Indeed, it has been the style for male celebrities galore in many walks of life to proclaim their subservience to their wives . . . anyway, in public speeches. We have often wanted to consult the wives privately. Since, however, it has been seriously decided that "The higher rights must prevail" it is obvious that in a great many cases the male of the species is not nearly as obedient as he should be. Besides, even the courts will often concede a wife a divorce because her spouse is too bossy, quite as often as giving a husband a divorce because his wife is too bossy.

A very important item would seem to be that whoever does get those "higher rights," or the upper hand, as it were, must be most discreet about it these days. There was so much that St. Paul did not foresee.

WILD FLOWERS

BY WILLIAM HAMILTON CLINE

The late rains have covered our hills with a lavish crop of wild flowers. Let us respect and honor them by keeping hands off; by admiring them en masse and at a decent distance rather than by showing appreciation (?) by ravishing every clump of color and bower of beauty, plucking ruthlessly where we have not sown.

In other words, do not pick wild flowers promiscuously and with untender hands; if they must be divorced from their natural environment to adorn a city home, do it gently and with care; take only the blooms that you feel you must have, and leave the plants and roots. Gather as few as will satisfy your urge; do not spoil the splendor for the rest of the world.

The Master Painter is very generous at times with His far-flung canvas. In varied hue and infinite pattern He spreads upon vale and upland a carpet of chromatic coruscations that no mere human may attempt to imitate, grateful to the eye and inspirational to the mind.

I have seen literally the desert blossom as the rose, and when it does, no palette ever could imprison its beauties. I have stood on Mt. Washburn, in Yellowstone Park, and looked over square miles of thrilling kaleidoscopic floral fecundity beside which even a rainbow is dull and drab.

You don't pick flowers on Mt. Washburn; the government, cold and indifferent in so many ways, recognizes the worth of sheer loveliness. You seldom denude the desert; public opinion says "Nay" to that. These places are untroubled terrain, and the result is a magnificence and a munificence of tint and shade unrivaled—nuances of purple and gold, pink and mauve and green, scarlet high lights, yellow joyousness, unspeakably satisfying.

But we must go miles to behold them, at costly expenditure of time and toil. Here in our own purlieus we may have our own spectacles of splendor if we will but treasure, not travesty, what is proffered us, and keep hands off.

We do not finger or manhandle a great painting when we are privileged to view it; we stand apart in awe. How much more then, when we are permitted to feast our eyes upon a scene such as no mortal ever dared limn, should we stay our individual touch, that all may delight in its gorgeous glory and be thankful to the Artist who so lavishly and lovingly spread about us this tonal triumph.

Handy Stove for the Camper

Picnic days are just around the corner. Fishing tackle is being lovingly overhauled and new camping contraptions are looming large in the advertisement columns. One of the most alluring is a small portable charcoal stove with two vertical burners which will broil a steak or chops on both sides at once, the fuel being charcoal briquettes ranged along the two sides. Enough heat radiates to boil coffee or vegetables on the flat metal top.

Two Offices Investigate Still Protection Case

Woman Testifies Money Given Three Men

[illegible] Agents from Plummer's Squad Accused

A [illegible] investigation into [illegible] that protection money was paid to a deputy sheriff, constable and [illegible] police chief to escape [illegible] for possession of a still was started yesterday by the Sheriff's office and the bureau of [illegible] of the District Attorney's office.

The inquiry was precipitated yesterday during the preliminary hearing of Claude Williams and [illegible] Crane, who were held to answer to the Superior Court for trial on a charge of possession of a still on their ranch near Downey. [illegible] Rosen, Morris Itskowitz and [illegible] Yaroslawsky are still awaiting a preliminary hearing on similar charges.

HEIRS LOSE DAMAGE SUIT FOR $25,000

Owners of Automobile in Which Fatal 1927 Crash Occurred in Iowa Upheld

The long distance $25,000 damage suit brought by the heirs to the estate of Miss Pauline Valencourt of Minneapolis, who was killed near [illegible], Iowa, ended yesterday with a verdict for the defendants, in whose automobile Miss Valencourt was riding when she received fatal injuries.

Superior Judge Fleming, in whose court the case was tried, had to read up on the laws of Iowa when he studied points of law in the case. In Iowa, at the time of the accident, July 4, 1927, there was no law making persons inviting others to ride liable for injuries incurred in an accident.

Attorney J. R. Files, for the defense, attempted to prove by deposition that Mrs. E. Rogers, one of the defendants, who was driving the car, took her hands from the wheel to powder her nose just before the automobile crashed into a telephone pole.

Preston Rogers, the other defendant, testified yesterday that he grabbed the wheel himself, when he saw the car going off the road, but was unable to avoid the accident. Miss Valencourt was seated in the rear seat with her fiancee, David [illegible], who escaped unhurt. The party was returning to Minneapolis from a holiday trip to Iowa.

The suit was filed by the Wells-Fargo Bank and Union Trust Company of San Francisco, administrators of the estate of Pauline Valencourt.

BEACH MAN SUSPECTS ASSAILANT

J. R. Riddle Believes He Knows Who Made Attempt to Murder Him

Following a day of personal investigation, J. R. Riddle, former city electrical engineer of Redondo Beach and center of political [illegible] in the beach city for the past two years, said last night that he was practically convinced of the identity of the person who attempted to murder him early yesterday morning.

Riddle was driving the truck he uses in his private electrical business from Redondo to his home in San Pedro when both doors of the cab were splintered by a bullet. The bullet passed close to Riddle but he was unable to make out his assailant in the darkness beside the road.

Whether Riddle will attempt to obtain a warrant for the man he suspects had not been decided by late last night.

Riddle was cleared recently in Superior Court of charges of fraud brought at the instance of the Redondo City Council. He declared the [illegible] had no connection with [illegible] obtained yesterday [illegible] the Redondo municipal government by his friend, D. H. Mon-[illegible], [illegible] operator.

APPEALS OF SIX IN PLAY CAST HEARD

"Bad Babies" Cases Taken Under Submission After Arguments on Evidence

Appeals of six of the ten defendants convicted in the Municipal Court last January in connection with the production of "Bad Babies," asserted to be a lewd play, were heard yesterday by Superior Judges McLucas, Shaw and Bishop, presiding in the appellate department of the Superior Court. The cases were taken to the higher court on the grounds the evidence adduced in the lower one was insufficient for a conviction. The cases were taken under submission.

Among those who appealed was George M. Scarborough, writer of the production, who was sentenced to serve ninety days in jail. Others, most of them members of the cast, who had been fined $300 each, are Jobyna Ralston, Elinor Flynn, Mrs. Anette Westbey, Arthur Rankin and Norman Peck.

The play was given at the Figueroa Playhouse on August 28, 1929. Rev. R. P. Shuler was one of the principal witnesses against the actors when the case was tried.

On this occasion 4500 students of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, the largest number enrolled in any city of the country, will appear in a review for honor decorations.

Son Sues Over Di Blasi Estate

Antonio Di Blasi is suing his mother, Mrs. Concetta de Luca Di Blasi, and his brother, Carmelo Di Blasi, for dissolution of partnership and an accounting of the $2,000,000 estate of the late Antonio Di Blasi, pioneer, who died several years ago.

The plaintiff asserts that after his father's death, his mother and brother drove him from home. He asks that he be awarded a partnership in the estate. Testimony will be resumed today in Superior Judge Crawford's court.

CREDITS ON COLOR FILM ANNOUNCED

Technicolor's President Says Companies That Use Process to Get Benefit

Technicolor will distribute $1,300,000 in credits to major motion-picture companies using its process, it was announced yesterday by Dr. Herbert T. Kalmus, president. He stated that this voluntary distribution of credits, on contracts already negotiated or in process, is a direct result of increased efficiency in manufacture of Technicolor process. This is induced, he said, by the increasing volume of business brought about through demand for Technicolor pictures, thus making possible extensive economies in operation.

Companies to share the credit include Warner Brothers, Paramount-Famous-Lasky, First National, Universal, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, United Artists, Samuel Goldwyn, Columbia, Tiffany and others which use and will continue to use the Technicolor process of producing natural color film. In his announcement to executives of these producing companies, Dr. Kalmus added that his company will spare no effort to maintain the highest quality of product.

Work Pushed in Preparation for Boy Scout Show

Preparations for the Boy Scout exposition and circus in the Shrine Civic Auditorium on the 14th, 15th and 16th insts., were announced yesterday by E. B. DeGroot, Scout executive, Los Angeles council. Some 7000 Scouts and 1500 adult leaders are working for the success of this third annual exposition, which is sponsored by civic and business organizations. More than 100 merit badge booths are being constructed, each depicting a phase of scouting as taught the boys. In addition, there will be a four-ring circus, its personnel drawn principally from the ranks of the Los Angeles Boy Scouts.

Chairmen of the various committees working with Scout Executive DeGroot are A. H. Rose, tickets; Charles H. Webb, booths; E. C. Anderson, reception, and Marshall D. Andrews, program. E. A. Davey, assistant Scout executive, is in active charge of the exposition.

PHONE PEACE BREACH ARGUMENTS DELAYED

Arguments on whether a breach of the peace can be committed over the telephone, set to be heard in the appellate department of the Superior Court yesterday, were continued until the 10th inst. Appeal was taken from the Municipal Court by Attorney Charles L. Porter, who was convicted by a jury and sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or serve ten days in jail for the asserted use of profane language over the telephone to an operator of the Southern California Telephone Company.

Section 415 of the Penal Code defines breach of the peace to consist, among other things, of using vulgar, profane or indecent language within the presence or hearing of women or children, in a loud and boisterous manner. Attorney Porter asserts there is no proof of a breach of the peace in his case.

REVERSAL ON STREET EXTENSION SOUGHT

A delegation headed by Councilman McAllister, seeking to have Denker avenue extended through Harvard Playground from Sixtieth to Sixty-second streets, yesterday sought to get the Playground and Recreation Commission to reverse its action of several months ago, when it passed a resolution against the extension through the playground. The commission appointed the committee of the whole to look into the subject.

WATER BOND VOTE URGED BY BANKER

Socha Says Retirement of Securities to Come From Department Revenues

Drawing attention to the fact that the voting of the $38,800,000 water-bond issue at the May 20 election will not serve to increase taxes or assessments for the reason that all the bond charges will be paid from earnings of the city water bureau, Max E. Socha, vice-president of the National Bank of Commerce, yesterday urged approval of the bonds.

"Los Angeles enjoys the lowest water rate of any of the large cities," said Mr. Socha. "At the same time the water department has been able to meet the requirements of interest and sinking fund out of earnings. In voting these bonds the citizens will not increase their tax burden in any way, as the department will be able to take care of its obligations out of revenues.

"The realization of the Colorado River water is fifteen years in the distance from now. In the meantime we must develop such additional water sources as are within the reach of our present system. This will require the acquisition of additional water rights in the Owens Valley and in Mono Basin, the tunneling of the divide between the Mono Basin and the Owens Valley, and the erection of additional storage basins near the city of Los Angeles. We have every right to expect that the voters will authorize the issuing of these bonds by an almost unanimous majority."

REGISTRATION BOOKS TO CLOSE ON 19TH INST.

Registration of voters for the special city bond election to be conducted here on May 20, closes at midnight on the 19th inst., it was announced yesterday by County Registrar of Voters Kerr.

Only those who have registered since January 1, last, will be entitled to vote, the registrar explained. Those who have moved since registering must re-register, giving their new address, he stated.

Persons desiring to register will find registration deputies located at the City Hall, at prominent street corners in the downtown district and in some residential districts.

Figures compiled by Registrar Kerr yesterday disclosed that 665,163 persons have been enrolled thus far, 366,156 representing registrations in the city of Los Angeles and 299,007 those in county territory outside of the city.

EATON SETTLEMENT OUT OF COURT HINTED

When attorneys for both sides announced a possible settlement out of court of the property rights involved in the case, Superior Judge Guerin yesterday continued for one week the separate maintenance suit of Mrs. Alice Eaton against Fred Eaton, former Mayor. Mrs. Eaton asserts her husband's property, some of which is desired by the water department for extending the city water system, is worth $2,000,000.

RADICALS TRIED ON RIOT CHARGE

Fifteen Asserted Reds Face Municipal Court

Accused of Demonstrating Near City Hall

Selection of Jury Will be Resumed Today

Trial of fifteen asserted Communists, arrested by police on March 6, last, in connection with a demonstration scheduled to take place near the City Hall, was started yesterday in Municipal Judge Bogue's court. The work of selecting the jury, unfinished last night, will be resumed when court opens this morning.

Most of the defendants, according to Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday, are charged with participating in a riot and were arrested near the City Hall.

Those facing trial are Carl Sklar, George Haka, Bakunin Fugunaga, Isuke Yamaguchi, Alfred J. Lucas, Alfred Fugivich, Richard Drake, Mrs. Goldie Katz, Louis and Henry Schneiderman, Mrs. Lillian Silverman, Frank Waldron, Fred Sitter, Mrs. Minnie Smaller and Bulgian A. Marijon.

Claude H. Brohn and Mrs. Fannie Relin, accused of blocking the sidewalk during the demonstration, will be tried separately following the conclusion of the trial of the other fifteen defendants.

Significance of Jefferson Day to Nation Cited

Ministers and educators of Southern California have been requested to bring to the attention of their congregations and schools the patriotic value in celebrating the anniversary of the birthday of Thomas Jefferson on the 13th inst., according to Mrs. Forest F. Vrooman, a member of the executive committee of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation, who is a guest at the Granada.

"The fact that Palm Sunday and the Passover will be observed on the date of Jefferson's birth should have a special appeal to all religious persons who honor Jefferson as the author of the world-famous statute for religious freedom," said Mrs. Vrooman.

MILK FEE PROPOSAL ONCE MORE DELAYED

Due to the extended hearing of appeals against the assessments for the acquisition of Victory Park, No. 2, Chairman Williams of the Health and Sanitation Committee was required yesterday again to continue the scheduled session of the committee upon City Health Officer Parrish's proposal to levy an inspection fee charge upon imported milk. The matter went over until next Tuesday afternoon.

Troubles that come with middle age

—are often caused by harsh, non-absorbent toilet tissue

A PROMINENT specialist estimates that 65 per cent of all men and women over 40 years of age are suffering from some form of rectal trouble.

An appalling condition! Yet not surprising in view of the gross indifference of most people to the quality of toilet tissue used in their homes.

Not until recently has the importance of bathroom tissue to health been fully realized.

Today, however, millions of housewives are insisting upon the tissues that physicians and hospitals have thoroughly approved . . . ScotTissue, Sani-Tissue and Waldorf.

These three health-protecting tissues are twice as absorbent as ordinary tissues. Without this absorbency, thorough cleansing is impossible.

Only the finest of fresh materials go into Scott Tissues. Crumple a sheet in your hand. Feel its unusual softness . . . its linen-like texture.

Scott Tissues, too, are chemically pure—neither acid nor alkaline. Guard the health of your family and yourself by always asking for either ScotTissue, Sani-Tissue or Waldorf.

Dr. Louise Pearce of New York, who arrived Monday for a brief visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Pearce, at their home at 1144 West Twenty-ninth street was the guest of honor at a beautifully appointed luncheon Wednesday afternoon given by Mrs. William T. The table was charming in its arrangement of spring flowers and maidenhair ferns in a low bowl and Nymphenberg china.

She has a host of friend here, having been graduated from Girl's Collegiate, and afterward from Stanford and later was graduated with high honors from Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Md.

MENUS OFTEN LACKING IN TASTE APPEAL

Essential Foods Can Be Cooked and Served to Please Appetites

The fact that a lady buys a simple dress does not mean that it is severe and plain. Even a housedress can be attractive and a pleasure to wear.

Likewise, the fact that a housewife decides to serve simple, wholesome food does not mean that it should be lacking in taste appeal and uninviting in appearance. Yet, too often, this is the case. As a result there is either patient indifference to the food, or outspoken rebellion by old and young.

One of the most popular ways to make wholesome foods zestful is to flavor them with sugar. A dash of sugar to a pinch of salt works wonders in the seasoning of vegetables, canned and fresh, meat stews and salad dressings. This seasoning does not change the characteristic flavor of the food but emphasizes it.

Many other foods can also be improved by sugar. Fresh and stewed fruits, and most cereals need sugar to make them inviting to the taste. Doctors and dietitians endorse this use of sugar. What is more, they recommend the regular practice of serving desserts—for their nourishment and their satisfying qualities. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

DISCARD BABY'S BINDER AT SIX WEEKS

Baby arrives in the world and is immediately adorned with a navel dressing which simply must be kept in place. For this purpose, tradition has decreed a straight strip of unhemmed flannel or cotton flannel which is wrapped twice around baby's abdomen and pinned or sewed securely under the arm. Our latest improvement on this straight band is a soft, knitted band which wraps around and ties at the side. All of these effects are called binders.

Whichever a mother chooses to use, it has one purpose and one only. That purpose is to hold the navel dressing in position until the stump of the cord heals and falls off. As this hapens in from four to six weeks, sometimes sooner, the need for a binder ends when the navel is healed. After that it is just pure nuisance to baby. As the baby grows and becomes more active it becomes more of a trial, and on the older child it can usually be found in a tight string somewhere under his armpits or else, when loose, falls into a series of wrinkles which undoubtedly cause him untold annoyance.

HOT WEATHER REQUIRES FEW CLOTHES

The binder should be replaced by a knitted band, which has shoulder straps and tabs for the diaper. This looks exactly like a small shirt without sleeves, and is a most ideal garment for summer wear. If it is of light weight with the tiniest bit of wool mixed with its cotton or silk, it can be almost the sole garment baby needs to wear. This tiny light band and a diaper are enough for the house in hot weather, and with the addition of a cotton dress quite enough for outdoor wear. Any healthy, fat baby over 6 weeks of age will need no more garments than these during the middle of summer.

For these first cool days of spring baby may have over the band a light weight, all cotton shirt with long sleeves and cotton stockings if the temperature is chilly.

Bands are far more comfortable for baby, if he only wears one garment, than a shirt. They fit down well over the abdomen, the diaper stays in place and the straps come close to the neck so that they do not slip over the shoulders.

The fear with which some mothers remove the binders from their big and growing babies is somewhat pathetic. They are sure that if they throw these uncomfortable supports away baby's back will collapse immediately, or he will have an attack of diarrhea. It is well to keep in mind that clothes usually have a purpose. The purpose of the binder is just as a navel dressing support for a short time, later there is none at all.

A child's back is in no way made stronger by this binder, nor is he liable to attacks of diarrhea because he isn't swathed in this strip of wool. Weak backs come from undernourishment and rickets, not lack of clothes, and diarrhea from old or spoiled food. Strings of wool about baby's abdomen have no power to prevent either one.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

BAKED COCOANUT PUDDING WITH ALMOND MERINGUE

Take sufficient white bread that has been toasted brown, to make one and one-half cupfuls of crumbs, pour over it four cupfuls of milk, and allow to stand for five minutes. Beat the yolks of two eggs, and one whole egg until light and creamy, and beat into them a little at a time two-thirds of a cupful of sugar, add one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, and one-half a teaspoonful of cinnamon, add the egg mixture to the soaked toast crumbs; stir in one cupul of cocoanut, pour into an oiled baking dish, and bake in a moderate oven until the custard has set. Then make a meringue by beating the whites of the two eggs until stiff and dry, then beat into them three tablespoonfuls of sugar and beat again until they will stand alone. Then add three more tablespoonfuls of sugar, and beat until stiff and dry. Add one teaspoonful of lemon extract and fold in one-half a cupful of finely chopped, blanched almonds, place the mixture on top of the pudding. Place in a cool oven and allow to slowly brown. When brown, do not remove from the oven, turn out the fire and allow to remain with the door open until the pudding has cooled.

FROZEN CHEESE AND VEGETABLE SALAD

Two tablespoonfuls of plain gelatine, one-half a cupful of cold water, one-half a cupful of boiling water, one cupful of finely chopped cabbage, one cupful of grated raw carrots, one-fourth of a cupful of lemon juice, one and one-half cupfuls of cottage cheese, one cupful of mayonnaise, a seasoning of salt and paprika. Cover the gelatine with cold water, and let it soak for five minutes, then pour over it the boiling water and stir until dissolved. Mix the cheese, vegetables, lemon juice and seasoning together, then add the cooled gelatine and fold in the mayonnaise, place in individual molds, that have been wet in cold water, place in the ice box to harden, serve on lettuce leaves. Sprinkle over the top chopped pimiento and garnish with stuffed olives.

ENGLISH COFFEE GEMS

Cream one-half a cupful of butter, and gradually cream into it one cupful of brown sugar, when well creamed add two well beaten eggs, one-half cupful of molasses, one-half cupful of finely chopped citron, one cupful of seeded raisins and mix thoroughly. Sift two cupfuls of sifted flour with half a teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of allspice, one-half a teaspoonful of nutmeg, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon. Add this to the butter mixture alternately with a scant half cupful of strong black coffee. Bake in oiled muffin tins or unoiled paper cups in a medium oven. Frost the cakes with melted sweet chocolate.

Household Suggestion

Longer Wear

Rubbers should be washed off after each wearing, as small bits of gravel and sand that have become attached to the soles will soon grind through if not washed off. Besides, they look so much better when clean.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

([illegible] for recipes and information [illegible] to the proper preparation and [illegible] will be answered in this [illegible] Friday. Address all re[illegible] A. L. Wyman, Laboratory Kitchen, [illegible] avenue, Glendale.—Ed.)

[illegible] WYMAN'S ANSWERS

[illegible] SAUCE FOR BAKED HAM

[illegible] Los Angeles, Cal.—Strain the liquor remaining in the pan in which the ham was baked, and for each two cupfuls add one cupful of seedless raisins, one tablespoonful of grated orange rind, one-fourth of a cupful of cooking sherry, and two tablespoonfuls of brown flour. Moisten the flour with a very small amount of cold water before adding it to the liquor, mix well, and simmer until slightly thickened, a half a cupful of small pineapple cubes may be added to this sauce and will much improve it.

SALT-RAISING BREAD

[illegible] Drive, Pasadena, Cal.—Pour two cupfuls of boiling sweet milk over one-third of a cupful of stone ground cornmeal, beat smooth and set in a warm place overnight; in the morning add to the mixture one cupful of warm water, two level teaspoonfuls of sugar, and two cupfuls of sifted flour. Beat smooth, cover and place in a warm place for two hours or until it is light and spongy. Add one more teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of lard or shortening, and enough sifted flour to make a soft dough, knead for fifteen minutes, form into loaves, place in an oiled bread pan, let rise in a warm place for one hour or until light and bake in a medium hot oven. Wrap in a cloth and cool on a wire rack; the stone ground cornmeal can be procured at the health food stores.

CHEESE SOUFFLE

A. L. H., Los Angeles, Cal.—One [illegible] of scalded milk, one quart of stale bread crumbs, one pound of mild American cheese, one-fourth of a cupful of butter, two teaspoonfuls of mustard, two teaspoonfuls of salt, one-half teaspoonful of paprika, twelve eggs; grate the cheese, and mix the first six ingredients together, add the well-beaten egg yolks, beat the whites until stiff and dry and fold them into the mixture. Place the mixture into an oiled baking dish, place in a pan of water, and bake in a moderate oven. This must be served at once.

BAKED ORANGES

Take the required amount of oranges, cut off a slice from the top, and cut in half if the oranges are large. Place them in a pan, cover them with cold water and allow to stand overnight. Drain in the morning and cover with fresh water, when the water has reached the boiling point, drain again, when cool enough to handle, take the back of a spoon and carefully loosen the pulp from the white line, add to each orange four tablespoonfuls of sugar, and one teaspoonful of butter, place in a baking dish and add a third of a cup of water. Cover tightly, and bake until the rind is tender. Remove the oranges to a serving dish and make a sauce of the syrup in the pan, adding to it one cupful of orange juice, the grated rind of one orange, and slightly thicken it with cornstarch. Add a tablespoonful of butter, and pour over three or four tablespoonfuls of the syrup onto each orange.

KUMQUAT PRESERVES

F. M. H., Los Angeles, Cal.—Soak the kumquats overnight in cold salt water, adding one tablespoonful of salt for each quart of water, in the morning drain them, cover with fresh water and cook until they can be pierced with a toothpick. Make a syrup of four cupfuls of sugar, one-half a cupful of white syrup, one and one-half cupfuls of water, and bring to a boil; drop in the cooked kumquats and boil for one-half an hour. Do not stop the boiling, as cooking at a lower heat will toughen them.

CANDIED FRUIT

L. A. Mc., Compton, Cal.—Wash the fruit to be candied and if necessary peel and slice it, in the case of candied orange or lemon peel, soak the peel overnight in cold water, drain, and drop into boiling water and let stand for three minutes. Drain again, and weigh. For each pound of fruit boil two cupfuls of sugar with one cupful of water, until clear, then pour over the scalded fruit and boil rapidly for fifteen minutes, remove from the fire and let stand overnight. The next morning bring to a boil and boil for twelve minutes, repeat this process for five days, after the fruit is bright and clear drain out of the syrup and dry in the sun or a cool oven. Be sure and cover with screen or netting while drying. To crystallize the fruit after drying, cover it with a syrup made with three pounds of sugar and four cupfuls of water, and let stand for three days, then drain off the syrup, and dry in the sun.

HOPPING JOHN

A. M. H., La Jolla, Cal.—Hopping John, as you say, is a southern dish. It is made of cooked rice, dried cooked peas, and curls of bacon. The bacon is rolled, pinned together and broiled. The cooked rice put in the center of a hot dish, garnished on four sides with the dried cooked peas, and the curled bacon around the outside edge of the dish.

A Bedtime Story

Is all that's needed to make right.
—Mrs. Quack.

Mrs. Quack had told Peter Rabbit that oil was the cause of some of her troubles on her long journey up from the Sunny South. Peter didn't even know what oil was, but of course he was curious to know all about it.

"It is something that is on the water—something man puts there," explained Mrs. Quack. "It doesn't mix with the water, but floats on top. If a Duck, or other bird that swims on the water, doesn't see it and gets into trouble, it is dreadful. Yes, sir; it is dreadful."

"Why is it dreadful?" persisted Peter.

"Because," replied Mrs. Quack, "it gets our feathers all matted together. Birds often get in such condition that they cannot fly. We had to leave two of our flock behind us two days ago." Mrs. Quack said this sadly.

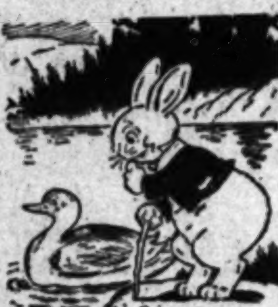
"Do you mean you left them behind because they couldn't fly?" Peter asked. "That's it," replied Mrs. Quack. "They couldn't fly and they were sick besides. I think the oil made them sick. It gets worse and worse."

"But where does it all come from?" cried Peter.

"I don't know just where it all comes from," replied Mrs. Quack, "but a lot of it comes from big ships. Of course you don't know what a ship is. It is a great big boat that ever so many men can live on at one time. And it sails on the ocean. You don't know what the ocean is? It is a great body of water and the water is salt."

"I shouldn't like that," said Peter.

"Oh, that's all right," replied Mrs. Quack, "when you can fly to fresh water when you are thirsty and when you are hungry. There are some Ducks that live on fish and get all their food in the salt water. Of course, we Mallard Ducks get our food in fresh water. But when we are journeying we do sometimes spend some of our time on salt water; especially where the salt water runs way up into the land, as it does in many places. It was in one of these places that we found the oil two days ago. Two of the flock had become separated from us and got into the oil before they saw it. We missed them and went to look for them. When we found them we knew that they wouldn't be able to come on with us. I don't like to think what will happen to them."



"Why don't they wash the oil off?" Peter asked

"Why don't they wash the oil off?" Peter asked.

"Oil will not wash off," replied Mrs. Quack. "There is no way we can get it off. Once a bird has it in his or her feathers, it is there to stay. It is awful! And all the time it is getting worse. Man seems to be using more and more oil. It isn't always on the salt water that we find it. Sometimes we find it on the big rivers. Man has emptied it into the big rivers. It not only makes danger for us, but it kills the fish and it kills the water plants. The longer I live, the more I wonder that I'm alive. These two-legged creatures called men are the most selfish creatures in all the Great World. They seldom think of anybody but themselves."

"Farmer Brown's Boy thinks of other people," spoke up Peter.

"That's so," replied Mrs. Quack. "I wish there were more like him. I wonder if he'll bring us any corn. I certainly would like a good dinner of corn."

FARMERS AGAIN TURN TO RADIO

Spring Puts Receiving Set in Implement Class

Crop and Market Reports Hold Chief Interest

Old Spain Program Slated by Don Lee Station

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m. Dr. Philip M. Lovell, editor "Care of the Body." World-wide news at 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

The advent of spring transforms the farmer's radio set from an instrument of entertainment into a farm implement almost as essential as his plow. During the next six or seven months he will look to radio for dollars-and-cents information in the way of crop and market reports, but chiefly for information on weather conditions, for weather is second only to a sudden pest invasion on the list of farm hazards.

After his fields are sowed, the farmer works against a number of difficulties, in meeting all of which he looks to radio for aid. As his fields show green they become prey for a host of insect pests and diseases—there are fifty-odd which affect wheat alone—defensive measures against which are outlined in radio talks from the Federal Department of Agriculture, the State agricultural departments and the agricultural colleges. The weather from day to day becomes of prime importance, and while, in the case of field crops, the grower can do nothing about it, the fruit raiser can take steps to protect his orchards against sudden frosts by acting on the information broadcast by the Weather Bureau.

Mark Twain once commented that everybody complained about the weather, but nobody did anything about it. That is no longer true. Quite a lot has been done about it since radio came into being.

Visitors to Art Gallery Number 14,725 in March

A total of 14,725 visitors went to the Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery during March. This is an average of 640 visitors for each of the twenty-three exhibition afternoons. Many of these visitors used deferred cards which admit to the gardens at 1:30 p.m. and to the galleries at 3:30 p.m. Deferred cards are issued when the quotas of regular tickets are exhausted. An average of 505 visitors daily has been received at the exhibitions since the opening in January, 1928.

Through the present routine, cards for Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays are now available in about one week's time. Applicants should direct requests to the Exhibitions Office, Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery, San Marino, and inclose addressed, stamped envelope.

Fruit Law Test Hearing Delayed

An appeal from the Municipal Court attacking the constitutionality of the 1927 California Fruit, Nut and Vegetable Standardization Act on the grounds it is class legislation, set for a hearing before the appellate department of the Superior Court yesterday, was continued until the 22nd inst.

The cases appealed are those of Joseph Waldman and George Medford, convicted in the lower court for selling grapefruit which did not contain five and one-half parts of soluble solids to every part of acid and labeled "Imperial," to create the impression it was raised in Imperial county.

Hammer Blow Worth $1000

A blow on the head with a hammer is worth $1000 to the victim, Municipal Judge Willis decided yesterday in awarding Mrs. Marie Cannon damages of $1082 against P. W. Gorman. The additional $82 was allowed for medical aid.

On November 12, 1929, Mrs. Cannon testified, she and Gorman engaged in an argument over their respective property lines. Gorman became enraged, seized a hammer and struck her heavily on the back of the head, she declared. She suffered physical shock and much pain from the blow, she said.

MERRIAM WILL SEEK NEW POST

State Senator Announces Entry Into Contest for Lieutenant Governor

State Senator Merriam, speaker of the Assembly during Gov. Richardson's administration, announced yesterday that he will run in the primaries for nomination as Republican candidate for Lieutenant - Governor. He stated he will enter the race as an independent Republican, with no special ticket affiliation.

FRANK R. MERRIAM

"My candidacy will not be in support of or in opposition to any candidate for any other office," Merriam said in making known his plans, "nor will it be a part of any preprimary slate."

As a Senator representing the Long Beach district as far east as Pomona, Merriam is serving his last term. On its expiration the entire county will be entitled to only one Senator, in accordance with the new law.

Senator Merriam entered politics after a long association with the business management of newspapers. He came here from Iowa.

RIOT FOLLOWS CO-ED ARREST

failed to give a proper signal and that he had difficulty in avoiding a collision with her.

He stopped his car and hailed her and started to write out a traffic tag for her. It was chapel hour and a number of students were about. Some of them apparently figured that the officer was not justified in his action. There was booing. A crowd of students collected. There was an exchange of remarks. More students came. Some of them collected around the policeman's car, which he had left.

Somebody threw a tomato.

And a tomato whizzing through the air in such a situation is just like an emotional bomb.

OFFICER DRAWS GUN

Someone took the keys from the officer's car. The air was let out of his tires. Someone else disconnected the ignition wires. While all this was going on Officer Jensen was occupied with the crowd of students that collected around him at the girl's automobile. When he saw what was going on at his car he hurried over and grabbed one of the students. That was where the party started getting rough. A book sailed through the air, knocking the officer's hat off. The hat was seized by students. Blows were exchanged. Jensen backed off and drew his gun.

There was a screaming of sirens and a flock of police cars came down the street. Reinforcements from Central Station detrained and deployed. The students did a little boiling around themselves. Some of the university officials were on the scene then. Vice-President Touton of the university is said to have begun counseling one of the apparent ringleaders to calm down, but got no co-operation and so invited an officer to arrest the student. Another student told the officer he could not take the student under arrest to the station. The officer said he could, and drew his gun. That incident was closed right then.

FOR OR AGAINST LAW?

President Von KleinSmid arrived and the students listened to him. They dispersed. Reeves Templeman, a student, was taken to University Station, but was released without being booked.

Calling the students together in Bovard Auditorium, Dr. Von KleinSmid pointed out the seriousness of the situation. As he recounted the incidents leading up to the riot there were indications that the students were enjoying certain humorous aspects of it, but as they realized the earnestness of the appeal their president was making to them the humor was forgotten. He did not lecture them. He talked with them. And it was not without a show of emotion. He was not discussing the right or the wrong of the officer's act. He pointed out that the officer was doing what he conceived to be his duty, and that if anyone felt the officer was wrong there was a proper way of taking the matter up. And then there was the larger aspect—that of the attitude of the students toward law and order. Was the attitude one of genuine sympathy for our institutions of law and order or was it one of mere toleration and obedience simply because of preponderance of numbers forced us to it?

MIGHT BE MORE SERIOUS

"This incident," he said, "has put us in a very distinctly false light. The answer has to come from you, and it must be clear. Are we for law and order?"

There was a burst of applause, following which Adams spoke briefly, expressing regrets and indicating that from the official student body there might be something forthcoming later.

Capt. Combes of the University Police Station said that while the entire episode is regrettable, he is thankful it had turned out to be no more disastrous. "It is a serious thing," he said, "when an officer is surrounded by a group of young people while performing what he believes is his duty and the situation becomes so menacing that he feels it necessary to draw his gun. The danger is that this may be treated too lightly, for if something like this happens again it is bound to have far more serious results."

LASKY SIGNS MARION SCHILLING

First National Teams Loretta Young, Dave Manners; Edward Horton Likely to Star in "Outward Bound;" Tiffany Director Leaving for London

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

That very charming young actress, Marion Schilling, who has been making such a spectacular rise in pictures of late, has just been honored still further.

MARION SCHILLING

Paramount has just signed Miss Schilling to a long-term contract, and it is understood that so greatly do officials of that concern believe in her powers, that she is to appear in roles especially suited to her talents.

At present Miss Schilling is being loaned to Fox to play in a picture called "On Your Back."

FIRST NATIONAL WILL STAR ROMANTIC TEAM

Loretta Young and David Manners are to form a new team, to appear in romantic comedies and dramas, it was learned yesterday. First National means to cofeature them in various stories of this sort.

DAVID MANNERS.

The first of these stories, according to word received yesterday, will be H. V. Esmond's romantic comedy, "When We Were Twenty - one," which, you may remember, served Nat Goodwin and Marjorie Rambeau at one time as a costarring vehicle on the stage.

That was a lucky honeymoon trip of David Manners and his bride in more ways than one, since it led them to Hollywood on their way to Honolulu, and terminated in the actor taking a screen test, on his wife's advice, which landed him in one of the two big roles in Tiffany's "Journey's End." After that he signed for an Alice White picture, "Sweet Mamma," with First National, and did so well that First National signed him on a long-term contract.

Horton in "Outward Bound"

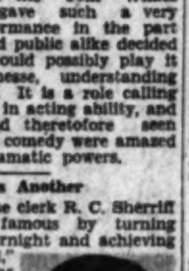
Now that Warner Brothers have bought "Outward Bound," Sutton Vane's whimsical fantasy dealing with souls on a boat bound for eternity, we cannot but believe that they intend to star Edward Everett Horton in the principal male role, which, by the way, is also the star role in the play. Indeed we hear a rumor that Horton will play the part.

EDWARD EVERETT HORTON.

Horton, when playing at the Majestic under the Tom Wilkes management, gave such a very splendid performance in the part that critics and public alike decided that no one could possibly play it with more finesse, understanding and sympathy. It is a role calling for the utmost in acting ability, and those who had theretofore seen Horton only in comedy were amazed at his fine dramatic powers.

Sherriff Writes Another

Ever since the clerk R. C. Sherriff made himself famous by turning playwright overnight and achieving "Journey's End," everybody has been wondering whether he could write another play, and especially another as good.



R. C. SHERRIFF

Now he has written another and that very fine stage and screen director, James Whale, who directed the London and New York stage productions, and whom Tiffany engaged to direct the talking picture version, is returning to London with an offer to direct the new Sherriff play.

Whale has been offered no less than seven directorial contracts with as many picture companies since completing "Journey's End," but could accept none of them because his six-months' passport has expired. He leaves tonight for London, with the expectation of returning and signing with a film concern as soon as it can be arranged.

The director has another regret at leaving Hollywood so soon. He will not be here for the opening of Tiffany's picture, "Journey's End," which occurs soon at the Mayan.

R.-K.-O. May Film "Penrod"

It is understood that R.-K.-O. is negotiating for the purchase of the film talking rights to Booth Tarkington's "Penrod."

In case the concern obtains these rights it is likely that Junior Durkin will appear in the name role, Durkin being the young actor, as mentioned above, who played "Courage" with so much success in New York last winter.

ANCIENT TREE'S FATE STUDIED

Park Commission Asked to Preserve Venerable Landmark

A request of the City Water and Power Department that the Park Commission shall remove and provide some space for an ancient olive tree, reputed to have been planted by the padres 150 years ago in the bottoms where it is proposed to extend Chatsworth Reservoir in San Fernando Valley, was referred to Park Superintendent Shearer yesterday for further investigation.

Native Sons interested in preserving such historical landmarks declare the olive tree is the oldest of that species in the valley, but Shearer stated that Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes, president of the Historical and Landmark Club, doubts that the tree was planted by the padres and points out that it was planted around 1836 when the Reyes rancho first came into existence.

The commissioners expressed the view that removal of the tree from the moist bottom land, to make way for the extension of the reservoir, would probably kill it.

Alumni Elect New Officers

Nearly 100 Southern California Dartmouth College alumni elected new officers at the University Club last night and heard the announcement that Dartmouth scholarships valued at $2800 are to be awarded to two California preparatory students each year.

The scholarships have been established from a fund of $100,000 given by Mrs. William O. Johnson of San Francisco in memory of her husband, Dartmouth graduate in the class of 1880.

Robert B. Thieme was elected to replace Walter B. Gibson as president, while Raymond T. Reeve, J. H. Gray and Gerald C. Barnes were chosen vice-presidents.

Addresses were made by Dr. James A. Blaisdell, president of Claremont College, and George M. Piersons.

NEW FISHING CRAFT NEARS COMPLETION

NEWPORT BEACH, April 3.—The forty-five-foot fishing craft, Dundee, which is the latest addition to McNally's "Scotch fleet," is almost completed, and will be ready for inspection the 27th inst., when members of the Izaak Walton League of America picnic here. R. S. Drennan, Pomona, field secretary of the Walton League, states that he expects about 5000 anglers and their friends to attend the picnic. Boat races and fishing contests are scheduled for the day, it was announced by C. G. Macleon, secretary of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce.

PABLO LOPEZ DIES AT SAN FERNANDO

SAN FERNANDO, April 3.—Funeral services were conducted today for Pablo Lopez, 69 years of age, who died at the San Fernando Hospital following a sudden illness. He had lived here all his life. He was the son of Geronimo Lopez, one of the early-day residents of San Fernando Valley who figured greatly in the history of the valley and Los Angeles, when the latter was a small pueblo with a handful of residents around the old church plaza. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Catalina Villegas Lopez, and six sisters and a brother.

DAMAGE SUIT STARTS ON CRASH INJURIES

Damages of $10,670 for personal injuries are asked by Robert Patenge of the Hollywood Laundry Service, Inc., in a suit which went to trial yesterday before a jury in Superior Judge Edmonds's court. Patenge asserts he was hurt when a truck owned by the laundry collided with one he was driving May 23, 1929. The plaintiff asserts he had five ribs broken and suffered permanent injuries.

JUDGE THOMPSON IS REAPPOINTED

VAN NUYS, April 3.—Judge Clifford Thompson has been reappointed judge of the Van Nuys branch of the Los Angeles Municipal Court, to serve for the remainder of the year, by Chief Justice William Waste, it is learned here today. At the close of the time, Judge Thompson will have served eighteen months on this bench.

ROMAN BANQUET TONIGHT

Senior students of Latin at Hollywood High School this evening will hold their annual Roman banquet in the school cafeteria. The affair will follow in detail the feasting customs of the ancient Romans, junior students garbed as slaves serving the repast. Louis P. Foley, principal, and several heads of departments are to be guests of honor. A musical comedy by Joe Baine and Ralph Weiss will be presented in Latin following the banquet.

BUSINESS CLUB ELECTS

Karl Darlington yesterday was elected president of the Los Angeles Young Business Men's Club for 1930 at a meeting held in the Los Angeles Y.M.C.A., 715 South Hope street. Other officers named are R. E. G. Stevens, vice-president, and L. G. Thomas, secretary-treasurer.

WHAT A BILLION MEANS

If a billion had been accumulated 500 years before Christ, and had not been allowed to draw interest and had been paid out at the rate of $1000 a day every day since, up to and including November 21, last, there would still be $112,886,000 left, says the Washington News. If you don't believe it, figure it out yourself. And don't forget the leap years.—[The Pathfinder.

Ozark Berry Season Opens Jail

Because of the fact that the strawberry harvest in the Ozarks is in full blast at the present time, three prisoners who are serving sentences in the County Jail at Caesville, Mo., have been released on order of Judge Emory Smith so they can go home and pick berries. They will return when the berry season is over and complete their sentences.—[Kansas City Star.

JAZZ-MAD YOUTH IN MONTANA

Joan Crawford Plays New Dancing Daughter in Film With Western Locale

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

After beating around the Montana bush for three or four reels, "Montana Moon," the new picture at Loew's State, finally settles down to a little drama. Up to then the spectator is quite undecided whether to laugh or to cry, or possibly just to join in a rousing chorus or two with the boys on the screen. Joan Crawford's starring vehicle, with less meandering and more of the zippy tempo that characterized her flaming maidens of the past, might have come up to expectations. As it is, "Montana Moon" is only intermittently amusing; yet because its leading figure still seems the smartest-looking American debutante in the films, it will not disappoint her admirers.

Miss Crawford here continues her portrayal of a dancing daughter of the rich—with the difference that the locale is the West. That Alabama cowboy, John Mack Brown, is mooning over his artificial log fire when Miss Crawford (playing, oddly enough, a girl named Joan) steps off her father's special train right into his lap. Now ensues some of the sappiest dialogue yet recorded; and the next we see of them, Joan and John are married.

Patrons who began reaching for their hats at this juncture learned almost immediately that this was merely the prologue to the plot proper. Without an iota of conflict to build the interest, there followed an extended comedy honeymoon—Cliff Edwards and Benny Rubin being the chief subsidiary participants in it. It was only when Joan took her strong, silent man to meet the effete easterners gathered at her father's lodge that things began to look up. It was easy to see that John wouldn't "belong."

He didn't. For Joan refused to give up the life she had been leading before she met him, and John refused to enter into the spirit of it. This, then, was to be the dramatic premise of "Montana Moon."

The latter part of the picture is much the better, thanks to the sincerity of Miss Crawford's playing. Mr. Brown improves perceptibly also; and other aiders and abetters are Ricardo Cortez, Lloyd Ingraham, Dorothy Sebastian and Karl Dane. The two comics mentioned earlier are as funny as ever, Mr. Edwards particularly contributing a legitimate performance of a cowboy from the lone prairee.

Malcolm St. Clair, in directing, would have made a more compact movie of "Montana Moon" if he had gotten "Rose Marie" out of his mind. For this is no musical-drama as he has treated it here; it is either melodrama or psychological drama. And perhaps this is the hardest nut of all for the producers to crack: creating atmosphere, which in turn creates moods, for their various types of talkies.

The stage show features an ineffectual comedian who calls himself Eddie Hill. "Bells and Belles" is the Idea this week, Dunbar's Bell Ringers displaying considerable ingenuity with gongs of all types and sizes.

CROOK PLAY MARCHES AT FAST TEMPO

"Officer O'Brien" Proves Suspenseful; Torrence, Boyd Featured

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

Somewhere in the film play, "Officer O'Brien" at the R. K. O. Theater, there is a line addressed to Ernest Torrence, which goes like this: "We'll make a father of you yet!"

From which it may be gleaned that the older generation is giving the younger a bit of trouble in the films these days.

As a matter of fact, in this particular story, Torrence is cast as a lean, ungainly crook. He has a stalwart son (William Boyd) who goes in for the law and turns out to be a smart young lieutenant detective hot on the trail of a venomous gangster chief. Between the hectic activities of father and son there is quite a lot of rapid and thrilling action in "Officer O'Brien."

The film, a crook drama, moves at a fast pace and keeps up a high tension of suspense. Every now and then, it tends strongly toward the theatrical, but this can be forgiven in the light of its really compelling moments.

One of these occurs when Russell Gleason, a youthful policeman, takes the stand to testify against the gangster on trial for murder. The camera shifts from the courtroom, across the way to the window of a room where a henchman squats machine gun at aim, ready to shoot down Gleason before he can utter the convicting testimony. Deadly white, sentence by sentence, Gleason tells his tale. Back flashes the camera to the window, then back to the crowded courtroom. There is a muffled explosion and Gleason topples over—shot in the heart.

There are some excellent scenes between Torrence and Boyd. One of the most dramatic comes when the son tries to keep the father from an appointment with his crooked pal, "Lime," an appointment which leads him to his eventual death.

Torrence does some capital acting. In fact, he about steals the picture from Boyd, who has to play a more or less straight role, and yet is pretty good at it.

Ralf Harolde etches a vivid portrait of the gangster chief. Gleason, although seen briefly, has his good moments, while Paul Hurst, Arthur Housman and Clyde Cook perform capably. Dorothy Sebastian as the heroine has little to do other than look pretty and appealing.

Credit for the general merit of the film perhaps rests more heavily on the shoulders of Tay Garnett, its director, than anyone else. Garnett has knit his material closely and tellingly, from a story by Thomas Buckingham.

The variety acts of the week, accompanying this feature disclose a magician the Great Rolle, in some amazing feats, Walter Wahl in "sap" comic efforts, Valentine Vox and Emily Walters in a ventriloquist act, and the Four Deamonds in songs, comedy and dances.

Satirical Theme Found in Drama

Barbara Bedford
Assists in the enactment of "Philadelphia" at the Vine-street Theater. The play deals with the greed and graft of public officials.

MUSICAL FARCE WELL RECEIVED

The Boulevard presents this week a musical farce, "Let's Go Places," and if at times the farce descends to the broader level of slapstick, it is all the more appreciated by the audience.

"Let's Go Places" is the kind of picture that appeals to the majority. It has a lot of fun picturing the inside of Hollywood with just enough unreality to appear real to the uninitiated. In directing it for Fox, Frank Strayer has kept it far enough away from the maudlin to make it pretty fair entertainment. The music is good and so are the songs. Whenever Frank Richardson is around, and that it is almost always, there is not a dull moment. Mr. Richardson has the uncommon ability to mouth a trite and obvious wisecrack and put it over with a laugh. If he hadn't, much of the dialogue would miss fire.

This is one picture in which the dance ensembles and the intermittent theme songs are eased in so inauspiciously as to seem logical. The nature of the story accounts for that. This story opens with a young man who does nothing else in life but spend his noon hours at the movies memorizing theme songs in order to return to some sort of a lingerie factory and sing them to the models.

When he is fired he is induced by Richardson to take his tenor to Hollywood and make it talk for him. Richardson becomes a self-appointed manager. The boy, who is played by Joseph Wagstaff, changes his name to Paul Du Bonnet. There is another Du Bonnet, who makes the rafters ring down at old Carnegie Hall and he is also on his way to Hollywood.

It is not hard to anticipate the mistaken identity which follows. Young Paul gets to Hollywood first and on the train bumps into Lola Lane, a movie star, who as soon as he sings to her one morning before breakfast engages him to be her leading man.

Hollywood's atmosphere is brought in by many scenes of the interior of studios, a test scene which is quite funny and a sequence showing a musical extravaganza in production. About these is a manufactured aura of actuality which is due to heighten the glamour of the studio city.

It is also encouraging to note how Paul becomes a success after only four weeks. The night of his picture's premiere is a night of disclosures. The real Du Bonnet arrives and it looks as though Paul's engagement to Miss Lane might go on the rocks, but the happy faculty of quick perception enables Du Bonnet the genuine to discover that Paul is so closely related as to be his "niece," as he explains it in his quaint French way.

Mr. Wagstaff does rather well in an insufficient role and possesses what might be called a feeling voice. The assurance which Lola Lane lends to her part adds to it an importance which it would not otherwise have had.

Sharon Lynn, Dixie Lee and Walter Catlett also are responsible for comic effects.

Lyn Cowan and the Boulevard Beauties offer "A Melange of Melody," in which is featured an extraordinary trio of rhythmic trippers, the Slate Brothers.

New Theme Song Rated High by Warner Studio

"Under a Texas Moon," the theme song for the picture of the same name now at Warner Brothers Downtown Theater, is rated as the most important single number in the season's productions by Warner Brothers. Both words and music are by Ray Perkins, head of the song-writing department.

The song is heard a number of times in the film, for every time the susceptible Don Carlos sees a pretty lady he either sings it—or has his two guitar-strumming henchmen serenade her while he makes love.

It echoes across the Texas plains as the three adventurers ride in the moonlight; it is heard in a lonely inn as Don Carlos faces love and death with a laugh, and it is heard in more than one garden as that same inconstant heartbreaker seeks to make new conquests. Frank Fay plays Don Carlos and Georgie Stone and George Cooper are his two followers.

New Vaudeville Bill Pleases at Million Dollar

Six acts encompassing entertainment from feats of strength to musical rendition of operatic numbers comprise the second week of vaudeville at the Million Dollar Theater.

"Movies in the Making," a humorous novelty by the Murdocks, deserves the applause accorded it. The Riveters from "The Almanac" have a strong-man act that is different from the ordinary run. The lady of the troupe is handled by the muscular trio as if she were a straw dummy.

Brady, Riddell and Murray offer a song specialty that combines harmony with comedy. The Southern Fashion Plates present a pleasing tap dance number. Arthur Turelly is a harmonica artist who plays opera scores. The picture, "Street of Chance," features William Powell.

JACKSON FINISHES "FALL GUY" ROLE

Thomas E. Jackson has completed his work under Leslie Pearce's direction in "The Fall Guy" at R.-K.-O. Jackson will be seen in the talkie version of this New York stage success as "Nifty" Herman, who hides his gangster and smuggling activities under the innocent cloak of a florist.

Jackson has featured roles in four talkies now pending release. The first of these to be seen will probably be "Double Crossroads," a Fox offering.

Gala Premiere Arranged for Journey's End

It is predicted by those who have previewed Tiffany's picture, "Journey's End," that a new favorite will be born to the motion-picture world when the Mayan Theater presents the premiere of the much heralded picture Thursday night. The young man who seems destined to screen stardom is the talented British actor, Colin Clive, who created the difficult role of Capt. Stanhope in the original London stage production.

Immediately on completion of the picture, Clive returned to his native England where he is continuing in the role at the Prince of Wales Theater. Other principle roles in the vehicle are portrayed by Ian MacLaren, David Manners, Anthony Bushell, Charles Gerrard, Billy Bevan, Robert A'Dair, Thomas Whiteley, Jack Pitcairn, Warner Klinger and others.

The Mayan Theater is planning a gala premiere for the presentation.

Filmarte Books Swedish Film

"Dalarno and Jerusalem," a Swedish production coming to the Filmarte Theater tonight, is a photoplay of unusual artistry. The dramatic story is from Dr. Selma Lagerlof's novel, and the picture was filmed in Sweden and in Jerusalem, where the company spent four months taking the scenes that have the historic background of the Gate of Damascus, Mt. Olivet, the Garden of Gethsemane, and colorful street scenes and bazaars of the ever-shifting panorama of the Holy City.

The story centers on the Imgmarson family, Swedish peasants. The last heir is forced to choose between the land of his forefathers and the girl he loves. He sacrifices his love and this starts a tense drama that leads to the colony established in Jerusalem by a group of Swedish peasants. The cast is headed by Lars Hanson, Conrad Veidt and Mona Morthenson.

Soloists Named for Bach Mass

Sixteen singers will comprise the solo groups presenting the Bach B minor Mass at the Shrine Auditorium Saturday night. All are regular members of the Los Angeles Oratorio Society, and have been singing with Mr. Smallman for three years.

The singers are: Sopranos, Gladys Miller, Betty Boldrick, Margaret Correll, Mae Howarth; altos, Frances Warren Haynes, Frances Hawkinson, Holly Lash Visal, Daisy Sinclair; tenors, Floyd Brown, Adolph Bock, Charles Britz, Stillman A. Ingalls; basses, Wilburn Fessenden, Charles Spear, A. Ceil Marshall, Frank Pursell.

ROGERS IN HERO ROLE ONCE AGAIN

"Young Eagles" Reveals War-Time Aviation Tale at Paramount

BY JOHN SCOTT

Airplanes fell with struts screaming and machine guns loosed their wild chatter on the screen at the Paramount Theater yesterday when "Young Eagles," a synthetic sequel to "Wings," made its appearance with Charles Rogers in the starring role.

With Rogers, who played the hero part in "Wings," as the leading light, "Young Eagles" may be termed a film with a fair box-office appeal. The fascination of an air picture is not yet lost for local patrons. The zooming, fighting birds of the air caught the public's fancy with "Wings." They still retain it.

However, let it be said that "Young Eagles" does not approach its predecessor, notwithstanding the fact that star and director are the same. The production suffers from a weaker story and from a lack of proper character introduction.

Charles Rogers is Lieut. Banks, flyer in the service of the United States. The year is 1918. The locale is a flying field at the front, later moved to Paris, then back of the German lines, and finally to a pretty garden of a base hospital.

The main thread of the story deals with a German prisoner of war being taken to Paris by two American aviators, Rogers and Stuart Erwin. They have been ordered to get him intoxicated and extract information from him about the enemy. Von Baden, the German ace, played by Paul Lukas, is nobody's fool, however, and does no talking. He meets Rogers's girl in Paris, Jean Arthur, who secretly shows him a number, revealing herself as a German spy. Von Baden and the girl drug the two Americans and with the aid of the two uniforms, obtain a plane and fly back to the Fatherland.

The American girl turns out to be a member of the American Intelligence Department finally, and saves the day with her information as to troop movements. After some more snappy air fighting, the film comes to a close with everyone happy. It is all somewhat confusing, the way it eventually is worked out.

Paul Lukas as Von Baden and Stuart Erwin as Pudge Huggins carry the bulk of acting honors. Erwin lifts the picture out of several impending periods of depression with a new brand of humor. Erwin seems destined to be one of the most popular comics in pictures. The role of Von Baden is a sympathetic one, and Lukas plays it accordingly. He extracts the limit of appeal with the material available. Charles Rogers as the hero is pleasantly capable and Jean Arthur provides a pretty heroine. Minor roles are enacted by Gordon De Main, James Finlayson and Virginia Bruce. William Slavens McNutt and Grover Jones adapted the film from the original story.

An amusing short subject, "Belle of the Night," with Dorothy McNulty, leads the array of miscellaneous and additional screen fare.

SCHIPA TO APPEAR AT PHILHARMONIC

Noted Singer Also Plans Talkies at Universal Studio During Summer

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Tito Schipa, the golden-voiced Italian-California tenor, is at home in Beverly Hills this week and will greet his friends in recital at the Philharmonic Auditorium tonight with Frederick Longas, his distinguished Spanish accompanist, assisting him. Schipa has been singing much in Italy this year. He sang at the wedding of the Prince and in opera and concert there, but the matter of most importance was the production of his own new operetta, "Princess Liana," which had a gala premiere in Rome.

"Princess Liana," named after Schipa's youngest daughter, will probably be heard in Chicago next year as the Civic Opera Company is inaugurating a season of light opera for springtime enjoyment. It may even be used for a sound picture. Another interesting "if" is that Schipa will do sound pictures for Universal this summer if he doesn't go to South America to sing in opera. The first story for Universal pictures will be the romantic history of this singer's life, which hasn't always been of the luxurious style he now maintains in his Florentine villa in Beverly Hills.

Signor Schipa brought a decoration from the King of Italy home with him. It is the "Commendatore Maurizíano," and is the highest honor to be bestowed upon an artist.

His program tonight is as follows:

Waring to Play at S.C. Rally

Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, brilliant orchestra entertainers from "Rah Rah Daze," new college musical comedy at the Mason, will be guests of honor at the University of Southern California today, when they will present a special musical program at the weekly student rally in Bovard Auditorium.

Leo Adams, president of the student council, will act as master of ceremonies, introducing the Pennsylvanians, and Sam Newman, chairman of the Trojan rally organization, will head the reception committee.

In addition to their noted medley of college songs from various colleges and universities, the Pennsylvanians will also play a group of Trojan numbers, featuring "Fight On."

According to word received here, Dr. Guy drove into the parking lot at Acton yesterday morning and asked the attendant, C. L. Hink, for a drink of water. When it was given him, he announced his intention of taking a nap in his car. Late yesterday the attendant went to awaken him and found the physician was dead.

The Sheriff's substation at Newhall was notified and the body was taken to funeral parlors at Lancaster. Possibility of suicide was given as the reason of the Sheriff's inquiry.

Dr. Guy was married and the father of three young children. He lived at 943 South Magnolia Boulevard and maintained offices at 4363 Melrose avenue.

Tuberculosis Drive Continues

The importance of early diagnosis to prevent tuberculosis was stressed by Dr. R. L. Cunningham, president of the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association, which is now conducting an early diagnostic campaign.

"Although the declining death rate offers encouragement, it should not be forgotten that tuberculosis is still one of the major causes of death in the United States, and that on a most conservative basis of estimate, there are now more than 500,000 cases of the disease in this country," Dr. Cunningham warns.

The present early diagnostic campaign is concentrated on children from infancy until 16 years of age. All appointments can be made by phoning FAber 5211, station 422, or TRinity 6584.

Document Forbidding Heirs to Get Drunk Entered for Probate

The will of Francis J. Struck, which contains a clause disinheriting his relatives in the event of their drunkenness, was admitted to probate by Superior Judge Crall yesterday.

Struck died February 6 at 711 North Spring street, leaving an estate of $100,000. In addition to complete sobriety, the decedent "willed" to his heirs an inclination to use no tobacco, and to "be good law-abiding Catholic American people."

One-third of the estate went to charity and the rest is to be divided among Mrs. Mary J. Bibo, a sister, and her five children.

Education Board Receives Legion History Protest

The resolution recently adopted by the County Council of the American Legion, in which it protests against a contemplated change in the curriculum of the city high schools, which would reduce the time allotted to the study of American history and civics, was received by the Board of Education yesterday, but no action was taken on it other than to refer it to Supt. Bouelle for report on the facts involved.

While he was not ready to make a formal report on the matter, the superintendent advised the board that in his opinion the complaint registered in the resolution is not well founded. While the time to be devoted to American history and civics will be cut from one and a half years to one year, as stated in the resolution, Supt. Bouelle stated this curtailment is part of a program designed to give students a better appreciation of American history and institutions than is possible under the old program.

The new program, he said, is to devote two years to the study of history, one of them to a course giving a general background of world history and the other to American history. By thus supplying a comparison with the history and institutions of other nations, he said, the educational authorities believe the student will gain a keener appreciation of distinctly American ideals and institutions.

Schools Asked to Aid Street Safety Drive

Municipal Judge Valentine appeared before the Board of Education yesterday and asked the cooperation of that body in the traffic safety campaign to which he has been devoting his efforts for the past several months. He informed the board that in his experience on the traffic court bench he has found that a large proportion of fatalities and injuries have been caused more by pedestrian carelessness than by negligence of motorists.

On this account, he said, he feels that too much attention cannot be given by the educational authorities to the matter of warning school children against the dangers of the streets and highways. His particular purpose in coming before the board yesterday, he said, was to ask that body to advertise in the schools a radio talk he will make the 11th inst., on the subject of traffic safety which will be directed particularly to school children. The talk will be broadcast by station KNX at 5:15 p.m.

CITY-COUNTY UNITY HELD WASTEFUL

Dr. Parrish Urges That Consolidation be Ended to Reduce Expenses

Deploring the duplication of work and expense in management of the various departments of the government of Los Angeles city and county, Dr. George Parrish, city health officer, in an address to the Brotherhood Club at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday advocated secession of the city from the county as a better and more economical plan than consolidation.

"Los Angeles city should divorce itself from the county," said Dr. Parrish. "If the charter of the State provides only for recognition of counties then let us form a new county. By so doing, the city could and would have a government of its own, wholly unhampered by outside influences. Los Angeles then would spend its money within its own city limits and not be compelled to send to the county 38 cents of every dollar appropriated for taxes.

"The city limits could be extended by charter, as is now done," said Dr. Parrish. "The city should embrace as much of that district now known as the metropolitan area and in which are located the forty-four municipalities as the citizens of Los Angeles might desire to include. The present city limits, with the addition of those cities immediately adjoining, would make the best and the cheapest city.

"What St. Louis, New York and other cities have done in the matter of unifying their metropolitan areas, Los Angeles can and should do," said the speaker.

Fiery Oil Well Curbed by Crew of Forty Men

Forty workmen, who have been laboring in eight-hour shifts since Wednesday noon to cap the burning Wilshire oil well No. 18 in the Santa Fe Springs district, succeeded early last night. The fire was extinguished by digging a tunnel beneath the flow and then tapping the pipe.

The oil from the tapped pipe was drained off into reserve tanks and as the blaze diminished the workmen got close enough to throw a steel hood over the mouth of the well. The fire started Wednesday, while efforts were being made to bean in the gas flow in compliance with the new gas conservation law.

The pressure on the gas valve became so great during the process that the welding cracked. Friction of rocks that were blown out ignited the gas and oil. The well has a production of 800 barrels of oil and 4,000,000 feet of gas daily.

Students Vote Nine to One for Navy Reduction

Reduction of naval armament is favored by 90 per cent of the students at the University of California at Los Angeles, it was revealed yesterday following the count of ballots cast on the subject. Only 10 per cent of the votes cast favored the strongest navy or "navy second to none" propositions set out on the ballot.

Six opinions were offered for choice, the first two favoring large navies, the remaining four opinions favoring degrees of disarmament. Of the students voting 35 per cent favored abolishing naval armaments by international agreement, with provisions only for an international police force. The remaining 55 per cent was divided between three disarmament projects. The poll was conducted through the efforts of the National Students' Federation of America.

Divorce Given Pianist's Wife

Leon Navara earns from $500 to $1000 a month as a vaudeville pianist, but his wife never gets any of it, Mrs. Hermine Navara testified yesterday before Superior Judge Blake when granted a divorce from him on the grounds of nonsupport. The husband is now living at the Friars Club in New York, she said.

Mrs. Navara told the court she was compelled to call upon her mother, Mrs. Mary Hoffman, for her support. The couple were married at New York on May 29, 1928, and separated a year later, according to the complaint.

Mrs. Navara also declared that her husband was too temperamental to live with.

GLIDER MAY TRY FOR GOLF CUP

Match Between Flyer and Professional of Links Proposed Here

A proposal to hold a golf match between a professional player and a glider on the Griffith Park golf course, for which permission is sought by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, to stimulate interest in gliders, was referred by the Park board yesterday to the Griffith Park Golf Course Advisory Committee, comprised of patrons of the course.

The plan is for the professional to use the regular golf tactics while the glider, starting at the same point will be sent from hole to hole with shock cord launchings, landing on tarpaulins so as not to damage the greens. Each flight of the glider, in efforts to get directly opposite the hole, since it cannot get into it, would count as a stroke.

BIRD PLANS MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

Manslaughter Conviction Sentence Set for Today May be Postponed

Efforts to obtain a new trial for Maj. Owen R. Bird, sportsman, convicted of manslaughter for shooting to death his best friend, Percival G. Watson, will be made in Superior Judge Hardy's court today.

The defendant is scheduled to appear at 10 a.m. for sentence to a term of from one to ten years in San Quentin prison. In view of the motions contemplated by the defense, however, it is considered probable that the court will defer sentence until arguments on the motion are heard at a later date.

Bird admitted shooting Watson at the Bird home at 3514 Dahlia avenue on November 25, 1929, but asserted that he believed the revolver was loaded with blank cartridges. Bird said he had asked Watson to leave the place following an argument and when the latter refused he fired at him with the revolver, intending to frighten him.

INSPECTORS VISIT FORT

MacArthur, Under New Plan, Relieves Navy of Antiaircraft Operations

Fort MacArthur was in the throes of two separate, simultaneous inspections yesterday, one by Brig.-Gen. Frank M. Caldwell, commanding general of the Ninth Coast Artillery District, and the other by Col. Edward P. O'Hern, ordnance officer on the staff of the commanding general of the Ninth Corps Area.

While Gen. Caldwell inspected the post, personnel and material, cognizance was taken of the post's new role in coastal operations. By the new scheme the Navy yields to the Army the responsibility of both defensive and offensive antiaircraft operations and the manipulation of planes at coastal bases. It means the withdrawal of the Navy from defense of the immediate coast line.

Included in the score of Coast defense posts turned over to the Army is Los Angeles, which occasioned the recent assignment of the Sixty-third Coast Artillery regiment, antiaircraft, to Fort MacArthur.

"We recently have added four more antiaircraft regiments," he said, "which will help train reserves on whom we would naturally have to depend in war. Fort MacArthur therefore is important as a training post.

"The Army is committed to many more bigrifles for this Coast but appropriations to bring them out here are lacking. Even the one you have here cannot be fired without damaging dwellings. Another might be sent here if a better site were found."

Lieut.-Col. C. W. Waller will put the Sixty-third Regiment through a problem before the general today, much of which must be simulated due to lack of any planes for co-operation.

Gen. Caldwell will leave for San Diego tonight, while Col. O'Hern will remain at the post the rest of the week.

GOLD CLAIM OPERATION PROPOSED

Owners of San Gabriel Property Expect to Begin Working River Sands

Gold-mining operations in the San Gabriel Canyon, near the condemned site of the flood-control dam, will begin as soon as legal technicalities are cleared up, according to Millson William Downs, president of the San Gabriel Development Association, defendant in the county's abandoned suit to condemn eight placer mining claims.

"Our engineers have been prospecting continually in the river gravels, and values are consistently high near bed rock," Downs said. "Values run as high as $1 a yard, but sand of this richness is only on bed rock. Other sand assays as low as 3 cents a yard, but the average is well above the figure at which we can operate a dredge profitably."

Incidental costs to dredge mining operations in San Gabriel Canyon will include purifying the water before it is returned to the canyon sands, as provided by law, it was stated.

"We have been threatened with injunctions by valley water users," said Downs, "but I believe there is legal authority for the use of water for any purpose, if it is not taken out of the watershed, and is returned to the stream in substantially the same condition as it was before being used."

Missing Woman Returns Home

REDLANDS, April 3. — Mrs. James Erwin returned to her home on Nevada street last night, relieving her friends, family and officers of the county, who had been searching for her for about twenty-four hours. She suffered during that time from amnesia, it is believed, for she forgot who she was for a whole day.

On her return home, she said: "I can't imagine what happened. I remember having started downtown for groceries. That is all, except that this morning I found myself in Los Angeles, without an automobile—and in care of a family, all of them strangers to me. Just as I reached Redlands Tuesday afternoon my mind must have forsaken me."

O'Brien Awaits Capital Notice

In spite of the fact that his reappointment has been reported confirmed by the Senate, P. P. O'Brien, Los Angeles postmaster, has not received formal notice of the confirmation.

Mr. O'Brien, for many years a prominent figure in Republican circles, first was appointed acting postmaster in August, 1921, by former Postmaster Hays. He later was appointed postmaster by President Harding February 10, 1922, and reappointed by President Coolidge February 27, 1926. He was nominated for reappointment by President Hoover on the 1st inst.

PAIR ON TRIAL FOR LAND DEAL

Misrepresenting Property's Value Charged

Purchaser Says it Proved to be Worthless

Two Others Accused by Same Complainant

Bruno Dubain and Elaine Dubain, his wife, went to trial late yesterday before Superior Judge Fricke charged with two counts of grand theft arising out of a real estate transaction with Mrs. A. J. Fleckenstein. Eight women and four men were chosen for the jury.

The complaint charges that Mr. and Mrs. Dubain persuaded Mrs. Fleckenstein to purchase a tract of property in Arizona by promising that they would trade it for valuable downtown Los Angeles property.

Subsequent investigation disclosed that the Arizona land was virtually worthless, the prosecution contends, and the deal for Los Angeles property was never closed.

Gerard Remington, attorney, and Morris Zimmerman are awaiting trial on another charge of bilking Mrs. Fleckenstein out of her savings.

The case is being prosecuted by E. J. Dennison and Grant Cooper of the District Attorney's office. The defendants are represented by A. K. Lucas and Nathan O. Freedman.

Court Attache Salary Cases to be Argued

Whether or not justices of the District Court of Appeal may increase the salaries of attaches of the court without first consulting the State Controller will be argued before the State Supreme Court in Los Angeles in June.

This was decided yesterday when the Supreme Court ordered the case of Mrs. Madge Millhollen, secretary to the District Court of Appeal here, placed on the June docket after it had previously been ordered submitted.

Mrs. Millhollen supports a writ of mandate which would compel State Controller Riley to approve salary warrants under an increase granted to her and three other secretaries of the local court by the six justices of Divisions One and Two.

Last year the case was argued before the Supreme Court and an order of submission was signed at that time.

FILM STAR'S ESTATE CLEARANCE DELAYED

Technical difficulties in the distribution of the estate of the late William Russell, veteran screen star, yesterday caused the postponement for two weeks of a motion to end the duties of the administratrix and widow, Helen Ferguson, actress. The widow is principal heiress to the estate, said to be worth $250,000.

BLOCK-LONG KISS LANDS TRUCK DRIVER IN TOILS

It was a sustained osculation that brought Frank Cox into the toils of the law and yesterday resulted in a charge of driving while intoxicated being placed against him, according to a complaint filed by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Colegrove.

Officers Williams and Walton assert that their attention first was attracted to the defendant when they noticed his truck proceeding north on Avalon Boulevard at Fiftieth street in a zig-zag manner.

Pursuing, the officers state, they saw that Cox was driving with one hand and at one time kissed his woman companion in an embrace that lasted nearly a block.

Examination revealed that the man was intoxicated, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Colegrove asserts.

A complaint also was issued against Ross Dugat, accusing him of driving while intoxicated. The complaint states that he was arrested on Beverly Boulevard while driving in an erratic manner.

Compton Wife's Divorce Action Not Contested

Predictions there would be a hotly contested action when Mrs. Adelle Gunderman appeared in court with a petition for divorce from Gus H. Gunderman, former Compton bowling alley owner, were upset when the wife quietly went before Superior Judge Keetch yesterday and was granted a decree.

The husband is out of the State, but his attorney, Irving P. Austin, announced there would be no contest. Attorney A. L. Aylmer represented the wife.

Mrs. Gunderman accused her husband of cruelty and of being niggardly in money matters.

In his cross-complaint the husband accused the wife of calling him a stubborn, old-fashioned Dutchman, and declared she forced him to drive her and friends to Yuma and back with less than three hours of sleep.

Young Predicts State Surplus

Pointing out the healthful condition of California State finances, Gov. Young in a talk before members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday noon at the Biltmore stated that the end of 1930 will find the State with a surplus in excess of $6,000,000.

Following his talk President Le Roy Owen of the junior body was the guest of the Governor in the State offices in the Sun Building. Owen listened to the Governor extend, by telephone, the good will and best wishes of the State of California to Gov. Vergara in Buenos Aires.

Actor May Not Contest Divorce

Having waived the time to file an answer it was indicated that Emmett Corrigan, motion-picture actor and head of the Corrigan Theatrical Exchange here, whose real name is Anthony N. Zilles will not contest the divorce action filed by his wife, Mrs. Mary Ilene Zilles, scheduled for a hearing at 9:45 a.m. today before Superior Judge Moncur.

Mrs. Zilles says she married the actor in New York on June 10, 1913, and that they separated in October 20, 1924. She accuses him of desertion.

Salvation Army Will Celebrate on Good Friday

Good Friday is to be celebrated by the Los Angeles corps of the Salvation Amy at the citadel, 125 East Fourth street, from 10 a.m. to 12 m., of that day. Invitations have been extended to all retired officers of the army living in Southern California, and active officers, as well, will attend. with soldiers of the army.

A motion-picture director is directing the cast of characters who will re-enact some of the scenes of the crucifixion. Special music will be provided.

A second meeting will be held on Good Friday evening at the temple, 832 West Ninth street. This will be the concluding meeting of a series of union holiness services in the temple, of which Adjutant Frank Howell is officer.

Realty Dealer Seeks Divorce

In one of the shortest divorce complaints ever filed in a Los Angeles County Court, Leon R. Conklin, wealthy Los Angeles realty dealer. yesterday applied for a divorce from his wife, Henrietta B. Conklin, on grounds of desertion.

The petition merely states that she deserted him in May of 1928 and wrote him later that she had no intention of returning.

The Conklins were married at Santa Ana May 3, 1905, and for many years had made their home at the Zelda Apartments, 401 South Grand avenue. Since the asserted abandonment, however, the realty man has lived at the Masonic Club.

Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Conklin could be reached last night for a statement. W. A. Robertson, attorney, who is representing the husband, declined to comment on the action.

TAXPAYERS TO PROTEST

Two mass meetings will be held tonight in protest against recent assessments for a storm drain in the El Sereno district and the opening and widening of North Huntington Drive. The Rose Hill Civic League, the Taxpayers United of the Thirteenth District and the Taxpayers Protective and Improvement Association of Rose Hill will assemble at the Huntington Drive School, and the El Sereno Home Owners' Association will convene at the Novgorod street school.

Stephen I. Smoot and M. A. Lloyd, executives of the organizations, said a hearing before the City Council is slated for next Monday.

FILM ART WINNERS NAMED

Academy Awards Acting Honors to Mary Pickford in 'Coquette' and Warner Baxter in 'Old Arizona'

Mary Pickford and Warner Baxter gave the outstanding performances in motion pictures during the year ending July 31, 1929. The awards were announced last night at the annual merit award banquet of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences at the Ambassador when Miss Pickford and Baxter were presented with gold statuettes by William C. De Mille, president of the organization.

MARY PICKFORD

Seven first awards were conferred by the academy last night for individual meritorious achievement in films in the presence of more than 300 members and their guests, the selections being made by a central board of five judges representing various branches of the academy after nominations by the members. The academy awards were as follows:

Actress: Miss Pickford, for her distinctive performance in the talking motion picture, "Coquette," a United Artists' production.

WARNER BAXTER

Actor: Warner Baxter, for his performance in the pioneer outdoor western talking picture, "In Old Arizona," a William Fox production.

Director: Frank Lloyd, for his distinctive achievements in directing the exceptional pictures, "Weary River," "The Divine Lady" and "Drag," for First National Productions.

Cinematography: Clyde De Vinna, for his distinctive achievements in photographing the unique motion picture, "White Shadows in the South Seas," produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Art director: Cedric Gibbons, for art direction of "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" and other pictures produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Writing: Hans Kraly for the artistic motion picture, "The Patriot," produced by Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation.

PRESENTED BY DE MILLE

The industry's own judgment of its best work, the academy honors were conferred after a study of feature pictures, both silent and talking, which were released during the year between August 1, 1928, and August 1, 1929.

In making formal presentation of the awards last night De Mille said:

"The central board representing all five branches of the academy judged each achievement with special reference to its value to the motion-picture industry, and to the arts and sciences on which the industry exists. Each achievement was judged from all its aspects combined, rather than on any single point of excellence."

Short addresses were made last night by De Mille and other leading figures in the academy work, with responses from those receiving the awards.

Janet Gaynor and Emil Jannings won last year's awards for outstanding performances.

SANDBAG BANDITS SOUGHT

Two men who Wednesday night waylaid Dr. A. M. McQueen in front of his office at 305 North Broadway, Redondo Beach, and attacked him with a sandbag, were being sought yesterday by deputy sheriffs. The doctor reported that during the struggle with the men he drew a revolver and fired several times at one, possibly wounding him. The pair broke away and escaped in an automobile.

HEARING DATES SET

The City Council yesterday adopted and set for hearing May 14 the ordinances of intention for the improvement of the King avenue and G street district, the sewering of Santa Monica Boulevard from Seward street to Las Palmas avenue, and the sewering of the Huston street and Bellflower avenue district.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Public approval of the new quarters of the Paris Inn at 210 East Market street has been evidenced in no uncertain terms by the capacity crowds which have visited the cafe since its opening, as well as by the large number of advance reservations which have been coming in, according to Bert Rovere, coproprietor with I. Pedroli.

The French Norman architecture, both on the outside and inside, represents a typical street scene in Paris. A pictorial representation of the Eiffel Tower occupies an entire end of the main dining room. A number of private supper and banquet rooms are provided to care for individual parties.

The excellent programs for which the Paris Inn has long been famous have been enhanced by addition of a number of outstanding vocalists and instrumentalists. These programs are given each evening and on Sundays a special dinner, with accompanying popular and grand-opera airs, is served.

GUEST ARTIST

An entertainment headliner and Broadway star who enjoys popularity from coast to coast will be guest artist in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel Monday night. She is Elizabeth Murray, singing comedienne of "Sidewalks of New York," "Madame Sherry," "High Jinks," "Love Birds" and other successes, who will introduce a number of her outstanding "hits."

On the program also will be Irving Aronson and his Commanders. Red Stanley and Phil Saxe, featured entertainers with the Commanders, will also occupy the spotlight in special offerings. A capacity gathering for the occasion is anticipated by the Roosevelt management.

NEW BANQUET ROOM

To accommodate its rapidly growing trade, the "Samovar," located at Fair Oaks and Monterey Road, South Pasadena, has added a spacious and beautiful banquet room in the same building.

Many organizations and clubs have been entertained and the management reports numerous future functions. The new room is most artistically appointed. Located directly on the way to the Huntington Art Gallery many parties stop at the "Samovar" for luncheon daily.

RESTFUL ATMOSPHERE

Shoppers in the downtown district are flocking more than ever to Polley's Cheerio Tea Room, located at 623½ South Hill street. The tearoom is convenient to the entire business district and the women's shops in particular.

The quiet, restful atmosphere in the ivory-paneled dining-room is especially welcome after a morning spent in crowded streets and shops.

Excellent steak and chicken dinners are featured by the management and an elaborate a la carte service is available for those who prefer it.

REAL FRENCH FOOD

There is a treat in store for those who like real French food served in the French manner. Go down to 321 East Commercial street, just three blocks east of the postoffice, where Mme. Portier presides over Taix French Restaurant.

Carrying out their policy of "serving food, not music" this cafe features the family dinner and also a more elaborate meal served in private booths. Taix is admirably equipped to care for parties ranging in size from only a few to 100 or more.

STEAK DINNERS

"They always come back" is the slogan of the Royal Cafe at 3210 Sunset Boulevard, and their famous T-bone steak dinners do bring them back for more. Another feature at this popular cafe, of which they are the originators, is the special Casey Jones plate. Among the many specialties are crisp French fried potatoes and the piping hot biscuits and honey are something to remember long afterward.

Legislation is being urged in Britain to provide compensation for employees affected in business amalgamations.

Cashier of Grocery Company Identifies Prisoner

Asserted Woman Accomplice Also in Hold-up Net

Twenty-nine Persons Viewed During "Show-up"

Singled out of a general "show-up" at Central Police Station, a bandit suspect booked as William Meyers yesterday was identified, according to police, as one of the two robbers who held up G. H. Von Boemel in front of 751 Terminal street March 17, last, and escaped with $65 in cash and $7000 in checks after felling their victim with a bullet wound in the neck. Von Boemel, cashier for Daley's, Inc., chain grocery company, identified Meyers, police stated.

An asserted woman accomplice of Meyers, booked as Violet Parsons, also was linked definitely with a recent robbery, according to the officers. They declare victims identified her as one of the central figures in the hold-up last Monday of a Safeway store at 3003 Temple street. She drove the bandit car, it is asserted.

Meyers and Miss Parsons were among twenty-two men and seven women suspects viewed during the "show-up" by victims of recent robberies. The group included seven men and two women taken into custody yesterday as asserted members of a bandit gang.

Three of this group were arrested by Detective Lieutenants Gottlieb and Howard at 146 North Alma street after a twenty-hour wait. They are Bernie Betz, 23 years of age; Albert Guy, 19, and Henry Guy, 20. According to the detectives, Albert Guy confessed nineteen recent oil-station hold-ups as well as admitting having served terms in Ione and Whittier reformatories.

Apprehension of Betz and the Guy brothers was preceded a few hours earlier by the arrest of the following: Arthur Russell, 36; John Curtis, 38; Ted Jomis, 22; Alfred Bly, 21; Mrs. Maxine Mumford, 30, and Mrs. Della Potts, 23. They were taken in custody at 848 South Wall street by Detective Lieutenants Olmstead, Chitwood and Woolman, who assert they found a blackjack, a revolver and a stolen car in their possession. All are held on suspicion of robbery.

SPEEDER GIVEN TERM IN JAIL

Any Who Exceed Fifty Miles an Hour Will Be Put in Cell, Judge Warns

Speed in excess of fifty miles an hour on the city streets means a jail sentence, Municipal Judge Valentine declared yesterday in traffic court.

The court sent Tony Olson, 605 West Fifty-sixth street, to jail for five days after he pleaded guilty of driving at a rate of fifty-two miles an hour on South Broadway.

Tigers Go South to Face San Diego State

Pipal's Team Favored to Annex Title

Smith and Brose Billed for Duel in Weights

BY BRAVEN DYER

Favored to win by anywhere from 15 to 40 points, Joe Pipal and his Occidental College track squad will pull out tonight for San Diego, where tomorrow the Tigers encounter San Diego State College. The meet will settle the Southern California Conference championship. Neither team has been defeated this year. Pipal is taking a squad of thirty men south by boat. All the athletes are in good shape and unless some fall overboard on the way down the Bengals should take the track at full strength.

FRED APPLETON

Occidental's runners are expected to pile up a big margin in the track races tomorrow. Beginning with the 100-yard dash, Pipal's team is likely to make a clean sweep, unless Jack Wilson has improved over his earlier showing. Pomona took all three places against San Diego in the 100 and Oxy blanked Pomona; all of which makes it look bad for the Aztecs.

Capt. Fred Appleton and Johnny Walker may finish one-two in the 440, although L. Peterson of the Aztecs is capable of extending both. Peterson is a virtual cinch in the half, having done 1m. 58s.

As for the mile and two-mile, Rud Crawford and McKee of the Tigers will be pitted against Linwood Brown and Harry Tenwolde. Crawford and Brown are likely to chase

CHARLEY ROOT PITCHES CHICAGO CUB TRIUMPH

Clyde Barfoot Twirls Great Ball for Seraphs; Cuyler Cuts Off Tying Run in Ninth

BY BOB RAY

A home-run clout by Riggs Stephenson—his fourth in the last three games—enabled the Chicago Cubs to defeat the Angels, 5 to 4, yesterday and cinch the chicle championship series that has been raging for the past few weeks at Wrigley Field. The Cubs have won seven of the eleven games played and have but one more clash scheduled with the Angels, who they meet today.

Stephenson's circuit clout came with a man on in the fifth and settled what might be called a pitching duel between Charley Root and Clyde Barfoot, who both hurled the full nine innings. The Angels got one more hit than the Cubs but none of their blows equalled Stephenson's daily wallop so that spelled the difference.

RIGGS STEPHENSON

Barfoot pitched shut-out ball in all but the third and fifth innings and looked in great form. His performance yesterday practically cinched for him the job of pitching against the Portland Beavers in next Tuesday's Coast League opener.

The Angels had a chance to tie the score in the ninth but the mighty right arm of Kiki Cuyler cut down the tying tally at the plate. With one away, Wes Schulmerich lined a double to left center. Sigafoos followed with a single to right and Skipper Lelivelt, coaching on third, waved Schulmerich on home to practically certain suicide. Cuyler's throw to Schulte was perfect and Schulmerich was out by five feet. Sigafoos went to second on the throw-in but died there when Harper popped to Schulte for the final out.

Hal Carlson and Win Ballou are expected to be the rival hurlers in today's final Angel-Cub contest. The Cubs and Hollywood Stars furnish the excitement tomorrow and Sunday.

McCarthy had another different infield combination on the job yesterday. Clyde Beck joined Grimm and Hornsby on the hospital list when a ball rammed into the end of one of his fingers and the digit swelled up like a Goodyear blimp. Despite a lame arm, Lester Bell was sent back in at third base and "Foots" Blair shifted to second. Tolson and English were again at first and short.

The Angels scored a run in the second and apparently kissed away another marker. Harper led off with a single and took third on Jacobs's double. Statz sent a long fly to Cuyler and Harper tallied after the catch. Instead of tagging up, Jacobs went back after the catch and then tried to beat Cuyler's throw to third. It was another decision for Kiki's arm and there were two out. Dittmar walked and Skiff then singled but Barfoot fanned for the third out.

CUBS SCORE TWO RUNS

The Cubs scored two in the third after English had gone out. Blair's single started trouble and Cuyler followed with a double. Blair scored when Statz's throw-in went by Sigafoos, but Cuyler was out trying to take third, Jacobs fielding the

CLUBMEN FACE TROJANS

Los Angeles Athletic Club Track Team Ready for Clash Tomorrow With S.C.

Los Angeles Athletic Club track-and-field athletes wound up their training yesterday in readiness for tomorrow's practice meet with the U.S.C. Trojans at Bovard Field. Boyd Comstock promises to have the majority of his clubmen on hand tomorrow and the meet should produce some well contested events.

Comstock is more interested in the work of his individual stars than scoring points and is especially concerned over the performances of Herman Brix, Glenn Graham, Jack Burton, Ray Alf, Bob Maxwell, Percy Niersback, Owen Rowe and Berle Goodheart.

BOYD COMSTOCK

Brix will, of course, draw the center of the stage due to his effort to officially shatter the world shotput mark of 52ft. 11-16in. Herman is now at his peak and is a certain winner, but the other men are yet to be tested.

Comstock has been putting in a good deal of time with Graham of late and expects the ex-Caltech star to reach fourteen feet sometime this year. Burton, the ex-Utah boy who ran some fine half-miles and 440-yard races in 1928, is beginning to come along nicely and will bear watching. In the Olympic trials at Boston he finished a scant yard behind Lloyd Hahn in a 1m. 53 1-5s. 800 meters and was only denied an Olympic team berth due to a track pile-up in the finals. He will run the 440-yard dash tomorrow.

Comstock is still putting faith in Bob Maxwell, despite the fact that the ex-national champion hurdler

PRIMO IMPRESSIVE IN SECOND WORKOUT HERE

Primo Carnera has brushed aside all doubts as to his fighting ability. For six rounds yesterday the Goliath of the heavyweights played with three heavyweights at the Main-street gymnasium like a cat would toy with a mouse.

PRIMO CARNERA

The three men to face him were Vic Alexander, John Lester Johnson and Fred Cullen. Newsboy Brown tapered the big fellow off for the day with an added round of shadow stepping.

Alexander was ready to jump out of the ring after being struck a grazing punch that crumpled him to the floor. From then on Carnera used him to practice feinting, which the giant has mastered very well.

John Lester, who once beat Jack Dempsey in New York, couldn't touch the Italian strong man. He was knocked down from a mere tap to the shoulder.

"I wasn't in there trying to kid myself or anybody for I wasn't getting paid to box with him," said the negro after the workout.

"Carnera is the greatest fighter I ever was in the ring with and I mean it. But what is puzzling me is how he learned to do all the things he does in sixteen months.

"That Italian fights like a man who has been in the game five or six years. He showed me more knowledge about boxing and hitting than Dempsey had.

"If he can take a punch he will whip the world as sure as I'm John Lester Johnson. I thought he would be slow with those feet on him, but he is as quick as a big cat.

"Anybody who gets in there with him cannot help but feel like Car-

VANCOUVER PUCKS DUE TODAY

Ballards Will Arrive for Local Games With Winner of Amateur Series; Lions Will Battle Pirates at Winter Garden Tomorrow Night

First of the marauders seeking to pilfer hockey honors in these parts will arrive today, when the Vancouver Ballards roll into town for their five-game intersectional series with the Southern California champions at the Winter Garden Ice Palace, beginning next Wednesday.

A squad of nine adept stick-handlers and skaters is being brought south for the North American championship series expected to produce the most scintillating amateur hockey ever seen here.

Players on the squad are Bert White, goalie; Joe Fritz, Walt Mathews and Marty Carroll, defense; Vern Buckles, center, and Mort McCuaig, George Brown, Bill Goodman and John Smart, wings.

The squad is under direction of Marty Carroll, crack defense man, who will hie his warriors to the Garden immediately for a secret limbering up workout to take out the travel kinks. The Vancouverites will be put through an intensive secret workout Sunday morning and will get several other practice sessions before meeting either the Union Oil Pirates or Gilmore Lions in a series that already has the large following of amateur hockey fans keen with interest.

Meanwhile, the Pirates and Lions swing into the seventh game of their title play-off, with the Unions leading, three games to two, and quite capable of putting a sudden end to the series tomorrow night. The Pirates won their second straight game, 3 to 1, Wednesday night and it moved them to within striking distance of the title, and the coveted shot against Capt. Carroll and his speedy Vancouverites.

HORNSBY'S HEEL ACTS UP

Rajah May be Forced to Have Second Operation to Remove Troublesome Growths

BY IRVING VAUGHAN

Rogers Hornsby's case became something for Joe McCarthy, manager of the Chicago Cubs, to worry about yesterday after the Rajah had visited a prominent physician to determine, if possible, just why the pain persists in the right heel, from which numerous bony growths were removed last winter.

The surgeon, after hearing the history of the case, attributed the soreness to the fact that Hornsby in walking, had favored the foot and had placed an unnatural strain on certain tendons. The doctor resorted to the X-ray, and the negative showed that the growth was returning.

ROGERS HORNSBY

After today's examination, Hornsby returned to the hotel and remarked casually that he would be back in the line-up after a few days of rest, which was what the doctor advised. Manager McCarthy was equally optimistic, but a hopeful attitude doesn't eclipse the fact

Carnera Out-Striblings Stribling in Picking Loving Accompanists, Says Peg

VETERANS FEED GORY PROGRESS

Old Friends Appear Among Primo's Victims

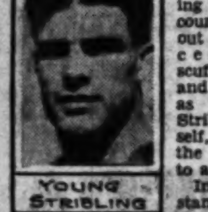
Tottering Paralytics Only Need Apply for Bouts

Clark Termed Traitor for Going Five Rounds

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune.)

NEW YORK, April 3. (Exclusive) Call it depravity if you will, but I have been strangely fascinated by the gall of the sportsmen in charge of Primo Carnera who have been going about the country, rousing out such a succession of scuffed - bums and paralytics as William Stribling, himself, never had the effrontery to assault.



YOUNG STRIBLING

In certain instances in the monster's gory progress across the land, I have suspected his managers of copying names off headstones with which to extend his record of consecutive knockouts, like local census takers in ambitious towns, but on close inquiry I have been assured that, in each case, he actually did face and beat down the unfortunate named in the overnight dispatches from out along the line. There was a certain element of cheer in this for it was pleasant to learn of old friends, who used to lurch and stagger and presently go booming to the boards, all sweaty and heaving and powdered a cadaverous gray with the resin, that they were not dead in the Coroner's understanding of the word, but merely defunct.

At this writing, Primo has knocked out thirteen accompanists, most of them truants from various homes for the aged infirm, including some who never did win a fight so far as my knowledge goes, even when they were young. I feel a morbid desire to further his campaign by suggesting others who would subside with no more reluctance and so have prepared a list of time-tried and certified palookas, confident that none of them would embarrass him as Ace Clark did in Philadelphia on a recent evening.

It comes to me that Ace Clark belongs to Mr. Max (Boo Boo) Hoff, the celebrated sinister character, and that Primo's party took the ring expecting to be detained not more than two rounds. But I am further told that the referee suspected some sordidness and warned Ace Clark that he must come up for round three or stand suspected of acquiescence. Consequently Mr. Hoff's tearing tiger was forced to intrude upon Primo's time beyond the customary limit, and in round five had the very bad taste to fetch the visiting athlete a hearty swat on his left eye.

The Ace made a graceful amend for his rudeness, going quietly and resolutely to the canvas, and Primo Carnera had knocked out another.

I have no wish to question the relations or the state of understanding between Primo's sportsmen and Mr. Hoff, the sinister character. Primo's chief sportsman is regularly engaged in the refreshment trade on Broadway, New York, and Mr. Hoff has similar interests on Broad street, Philadelphia, only ninety miles away. In their character as refreshment magnates they doubtless regard one another as colleagues and social companions but I would not suggest that such considerations could possibly affect the outcome of a contest between their respective clashing demons of the squared circle.

However, there obviously was a faux pas somewhere in this startling adventure of Primo's and this sort of thing should never be allowed to happen again. Moreover, it will not happen if he will permit me to place in nomination a list of chaps, culled from memory of a thousand preliminaries and training-camp bouts and from the professional records of William Stribling, James J. Tunney, Luis Angel Firpo and Tommy Gibbons. Now that he is so well along in this unique career, I should much regret to learn of his being tapped on the chin and interrupted.

For some of my nominees I go quite a far spell back but no further than Primo's sportsmen went when they found old Farmer Lodge for him. For my lead-off man, I would name Sailor Martin who used to fight Tommy Gibbons along about 1924 and never did him any such dirt as Ace Clark did Primo in Philadelphia. The sailor must be just about ready for Carnera now. Then I would let him have Harry Drake, the English chap, who introduced the Cricklewood sprawl into the American ring while serving with Dempsey in Great Falls, Mont., and I would follow him with Wolf Larsen, who wears a callous not unlike a saddle across his shoulder blades from chafing the course weaves of many rings. Next man on my list would be Tarzan Larkin and behind him Fred Fulton, the namesake of the town of Smackover, Ark. I should like to give some brief reference note with regard to each of my nominees but there are too many and I can only assure Primo that they are, none of them too tough for him and, of course, none of them too feeble.

DEAUVILLE STARS TRY WATER POLO

Having won six out of eight dual meets, including one victory over the otherwise unbeaten U.C.L.A. team, swimmers of the Deauville Club will test their skill at water polo tonight, meeting the Elks' 99 squad. Coach Pierce is confident his athletes will be able to continue their success, and is planning an ambitious schedule of contests for his sextet. Games with other local clubs, and possibly with college teams are tentatively on schedule.

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

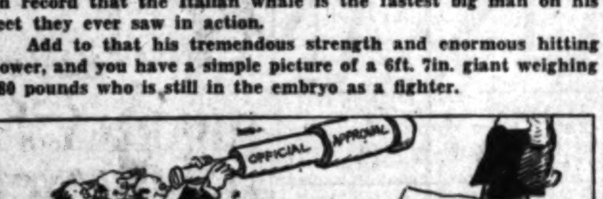
NO CARNERA BARS HERE

THE Seattle Boxing Commission puts up the bars to Primo Carnera, but James Woods and Charley Traung, California commissioners, and Dr. Harry Martin, commissioner-to-be, yesterday placed the stamp of approval on the big fellow.

Now, Watson, what do you make of that?

After watching Primo cuff Vic Alexander and John Lester Johnson—two normal-sized heavyweights—all around the Main-street gymnasium the Messrs. Woods, Traung and Martin all went on record that the Italian whale is the fastest big man on his feet they ever saw in action.

Add to that his tremendous strength and enormous hitting power, and you have a simple picture of a 6ft. 7in. giant weighing 280 pounds who is still in the embryo as a fighter.



There is no gainsaying his possibilities.

Some of the most promising athletes in the world fail to live up to their early potentialities—not alone in boxing but in other sports—and Primo may never reach the promised land.

But he has all the supernatural attributes, and the handling and the instruction he receives in the meantime will tell the tale.

He has had only thirty-one bouts, thirteen of them since he began his American conquest, but his ring perfection is amazing considering his lack of experience.

Jack Daro, brother of the wrestling promoter, took a look at the big fellow and observed that he's just a big raw-boned kid.

"He's not through growing," he said. "He'll weigh 300 when he fills out, and there's nothing flabby about him. He's just one of those big mooses you read about but rarely see."

A NEW MAT RECORD

MR. PROMOTER LOU DARO forgot to have this one announced when Everette Marshall and Nick Lutze were rasslin' at the Olympic the other night.

Nobody was tossed out of the ring to light in the laps of the ringsiders—a new world's record in Los Angeles.

Perhaps in the heat of his enthusiastic discourse to the State athletic commissioners about the class of the show and the size of the house Mr. Daro forgot to take cognizance of the situation.

But at any rate it stands out in my mind as much more of a record than the one announced the previous fortnight when Dr. Karl Sarpolis, in throwing Nick Lutze in something less than a minute, created a new mark.

Marshall's second victory over Lutze apparently clears the road for a match with Strangler Lewis, who beat Marin Plestina, the "trust buster," in New York the other night.

Mr. Daro says he will try hard to make this match, but has many expressed doubts of being able to close with Lewis, who, he claims, wants all the money in the house.

However, Mr. Daro insists he will try all the harder to land the boys for his dear public, and that if Marshall should beat Lewis he will try still harder to seal a Marshall-Sonnenberg match for the championship held by the latter.

The latter soiree, of course, would be an open-air match, one of those al fresco affairs that Mr. Daro has always promised us but never fulfilled.

A "BIG GAME" SQUAWK

SOME of the dear old California alumni are up in arms over the deadline—May 15—for the scrip which will take them to California-Stanford "Big Games" for the next ten years. They don't like the idea of being deprived of "Big Games" for a decade if unable to raise $100 by deadline time, and Mr. E. J. Gay, assistant superintendent of the County Farm, speaks for many in a letter recently dispatched to W. W. Monohan, general manager of the U.C. Associated Students at Berkeley:

"Those alumni who supported the stadium drive when support was sorely needed are not necessarily among the wealthier class of our population at this time, many of them having graduated in the years from '20 to '23. In the seven years that have followed I daresay that many have purchased homes and raised families, both of which are obligations frequently necessitating the strictest budget measures, so much so that without a doubt many deserving alumni will be unable to get together 100 necessary dollars in cash before the dead line of May 15.

"I believe that many of the alumni in the classification referred to will forward you the $100 required, rather than miss football games for the next ten years, but I daresay that the grocer will go unpaid, or perhaps the doctor will have to wait a little longer for the pay he earned on the arrival of the last baby. To me this seems to be a very genuine situation, and I am writing solely with the thought that if these conditions are appreciated, it will be possible for those in charge of the disposition of the new scrip to delay the final date to such a time when the average family under ordinary circumstances might be expected to save the $100 requested."

CLUBMEN FACE TROJAN TEAM

has failed to return to form as yet. Maxwell should be ripe and ready in time for the S.P.A.A.U. meet at Claremont, May 10. Bob has been training of late with Dick Pomeroy and the work should help both considerably.

Alf has regained his lost confidence and Comstock will run him in the relay tomorrow as well as both dashes. Absence of Oliver Worden will cripple the Mercury relay team but Alf will have capable running mates in Burton, Pomeroy and either Niersbach or Clark. In two past relays with the Trojans the Mercuries only lost by two short yards and both races were run under 3m. 20s.

Owen Rowe, the Brigham Young boy who ran the 100 in 9.8s., the 220 in 21s. and the low hurdles in 23.4s. last year, has been working out regularly at Long Beach and should be ready soon. Trying to tie up track and basketball held him back in training until a few weeks ago.

Goodheart, the ex-Oxy star, has been training faithfully of late and is ready to uncork a fast mile run tomorrow. Niersbach, one of the most dependable of all the Mercury stars, will renew his 880-yard duel with Bill McGeagh.

With the exception of Worden in the 440 and relay and Hap Walker in the broad jump the Mercury team should be intact tomorrow.

MAJ.-GEN. HENRY LANDS OLYMPIC POST

WASHINGTON, April 3. (Exclusive)—Secretary of War Hurley today designated Maj.-Gen. Guy V. Henry, chief of cavalry, as the army representative on the executive comcommittee arranging for the Olympic Games at Los Angeles in 1932. Gen. Henry takes the place of Maj.-Gen. Herbert B. Crosby, recently retired, to accept appointment as commissioner of the District of Columbia.

each other into a mile of better than 4m. 30s., while the two-mile may be run in less than 10m. Crawford is this writer's choice in both events, although Brown may sneak in first in the mile.

Wendell Smith, Oxy's all-around point snatcher, will be forced to hurry to beat Morris Fox of the Aztecs in the hurdles. Smith has the best records to date, but Fox trimmed the Tiger "iron man" once last year and may do it again.

In the field Johnny Brose will vie with Smith for high-point honors. Brose should win the hammer throw easily, fight it out with Smith for first in the discus and place in the shot.

Coach C. E. Peterson draws his athletes from a student body considerably larger than that of Occidental and it may be that the Aztec mentor will bob up with several surprises tomorrow.

HALIBUT RUNNING AT OLYMPIC BARGE

HERMOSA BEACH, April 3.—Fishing reports from Capt. J. M. Anderson, skipper of the Olympic fishing barge, brings the news of a good-sized run of halibut now going on. Fairly large-sized catches of the flat-bodied fish have been registered all week long. Mackerel, perch, sole and sandabs are also biting well.

Pier fishing has been good all week, with some halibut and mackerel being caught. Surf angling has not been up to par but a few catches of croakers have been reported.

BELL NINE TRIUMPHS

Bell High School's baseball team defeated the Downing nine yesterday afternoon on the Bell diamond by the score of 7 to 4. The Downing nine committed eight bobbles in the field.

Marine League Finals on Card This Afternoon

When the cinders settled on the Polytechnic-Hollywood High track meet yesterday the scoreboard showed another victory for Poly. The final count was 60 to 44. The teams were evenly matched on the track but superior strength in the field gave the meet to the Parrots.

Hollywood won a clean sweep in the 100-yard dash when Danniger, Lewis and Cook finished in the order named. However, Cooper of Poly gave Danniger a fight in the longer dash finishing a close second.

Mack of the winners and Zybriskie of the Redshirts staged an even dual in the hurdles. Zybriskie won the highs but the Poly runner outdistanced him by several yards in the lows. The times were 16 1-5 and 25 4-5 respectively.

The Mechanics's hopes for a first place in the mile were darkened when Norman Curtis failed to show up at the starting line. Coach Eddie Leahy announced that his star miler had a bad cold and wouldn't run. The race was won by Del Beato of Hollywood. Poly took a clean sweep in the shotput and won the relay.

THE Sportlight

BY GRANTLAND RICE

(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Each trap and pit that waits in glee,
Each bunker guarding green and tee,
Once more I hear you calling me.

Each matted rough, where balls are lost,
Each haunted swamp, where souls are tossed,
I hear your voice—and know the cost.

Each pond that waits for some new splash
Each thicket where the niblicks crash,
I see you waiting for my cash.

Each heel print, still untouched by rake,
That only dinosaurs could make,
Your mocking taunts keep me awake.

Each spot that harbors some despair,
Each slice and hook that curls your hair
And puts its poison on the air,

Each morbid grotto, deep and glum,
Each ditch and rut where troubles hum,
I hear you calling—and I come.

AFTER a delay of nearly two years the discarded heavyweight crown will be returned to somebody's brow in just a trifle over two months.

And for the first time since Fitzsimmons upset Jim Corbett at Carson City, a delegate from the other side of the Atlantic has at least an even chance to carry said crown across the water.

Carpentier never had a chance against Dempsey and Heeney had just as slim a chance to beat Tunney. They were both rank outsiders. But it might be mentioned even this far ahead that Schmeling will be an even shot against Sharkey and there should be no decided choice up to the moment they square away.

"Jack Johnson and Jack O'Brien are to box three exhibition rounds in Boston."—News item.

The winner will undoubtedly be sent against Carnera, or would he take a chance with Johnson?

A number of experts have voted the long iron into a cross wind as the hardest shot in golf. Ring Lardner still insists the hardest is the explosion shot off the tee.

All-Around Nominations

Sig Spaeth's nomination for the best all-around college athlete of all time is Richard Harte of Harvard. On what grounds? All-America end, captain of the Harvard baseball team, point-winner on the track team, member of the Davis Cup tennis squad, in addition to winning intercollegiate doubles with his partner, a consistent star and winner in four major sports. Those who have entries to shoot against him can relay the same along.

Phillies, Robins and Reds

Cullen Cain, a keen-eyed rover who has been visiting the different National League camps along the Dixie and western highways, reports back with this tip:

"Watch the Robins, Phillies and Reds. They will make any team hustle at any time. They are not only much stronger than a year ago, but they are keyed up and keen."

Outside of the Cubs, who still carry the class, there are six teams in the older circuit who are well enough matched to make a dizzy pennant race, if some way can be found to keep the Cubs from bounding too far forward.

Mr. Cain says there is more than the usual optimism in almost every camp, not overlooking the fact that baseball is replete with optimism about this time every April.

Horton Smith is now facing his twenty-thousandth mile in about a year. His slogan is to play golf and see the world.

The trouble with the average golfer in this respect is that few can see much of the world from the bottom of a bunker.

Bobby Jones proved how suddenly golf can turn and bite even a champion when he played thirty-one consecutive holes in ten under par and then played the next three in six over par.

Young Stribling has four battles booked in England and France, one against Phil Scott. There is a rumor now spreading that Lou Magnolia will not accompany him.

When interviewed by members of the press it is said that Mr. Magnolia practically confirmed this rumor.

Today's Golf Chatter

Stewart Maiden is the stocky Scotchman who began teaching Bobby Jones about twenty-two years ago. In that space of time Bobby Jones has probably looked at the golf ball oftener than any one playing, which brings up Maiden's idea of how to look at the ball.

"Never mind keeping your eyes on the ball," he says, "or trying to think of looking at it. Keep your mind on it—keep your mind on hitting it.

"No one can look at the ball when he is thinking of two or three other matters—bunkers to be carried or missed—how to use the wrists, shoulders, knees or something else. Any one who tries to concentrate on looking at the ball is almost sure to tie himself into a knot.

"The ball is the target. It is what you are trying to hit and knock somewhere. Why not think about your target? Isn't it natural to look at what you are trying to hit? You shouldn't have to think about that part of the game if your mind is working in the right direction.

"If your head keeps popping up, then you are not swinging smoothly and you are not thinking about hitting the ball. No one can look at the ball who ties himself up with thinking about something else."

Maiden once cured Bobby Jones of a certain fault by watching him swing and then saying—"Forget everything else and knock hell out of it."

In this particular instance, at least, the cure worked perfectly.

BRUIN FROSH TRACKSTERS SUCCUMB TO SAMOHI

Coach Guy Harris's University of California at Los Angeles freshman track squad took a beating from the potent Santa Monica High School squad yesterday afternoon by a 64-to-49 score, but managed to make good showings in several events. The Bruin yearlings got clean sweeps in both the half-mile and mile races.

Lyman, Santa Monica High weight star, won both the discus throw and the shot put in the respective distances of 131ft. 9in. and 53ft. 9½in. Lee Coates of U.C.L.A. placed second in both of those events. White of Santa Monica took first place in the 120-yard low hurdles in the good time of 16s. flat, barely nosing out Miller, Bruin yearling.

RIIS HIGH FAVORED TO TAKE TITLE

Coach Locke Livernash's Riis High track-and-field squad are favored to take the Marine League track-and-field meet scheduled for this afternoon on the Torrance High oval. The festivities will start at 2 o'clock sharp.

In the neighborhood of eight Marine League records are in danger of being broken. The sprints are almost sure to fall, with Nickerson of Riis winning, while Burtch and Conway of Jordan, Morginson of Narbonne and Henderson of Riis are sure to press the dusky Riis galloper.

Lloyd Courtney is the threat in the half-mile, while his team-mate, Williams, is very likely to bust either the low-hurdle record or the quarter-mile mark. Heuston Harper of Gardena is a cinch to break his own record in the shot put, while Reuler of Riis may break the pole-vault mark. Klubnicken of Bell figures to set a new broad-jump record.

SONNENBERG GIVEN HUGE OFFER

Daro Wires Champion $50,000 Guarantee to Meet Marshall In Title Bout at Wrigley Field; Promoter Awaits Reply from Wrestling King, Now in Midwest

GUS SONNENBERG

An offer containing a $50,000 guarantee, with the option of taking 47½ per cent of the gross gate receipts, was wired to "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg, world's wrestling king, yesterday, for a finish title mat battle here with Everett Marshall, Glendale mat whirlwind.

The offer was made by "Carnation" Lou Daro, local mat promoter, who has been trying for almost two weeks to get Sonnenberg to agree to terms for a title match on the Coast.

Daro's attempt to sign Sonnenberg to meet the winner of the Marshall-Nick Lutze bout failed when the titleholder declared he would consider the victor as a possible opponent only after he had met and defeated Ed Lewis, Stecher or Plestina.

As Lewis turned down a Marshall match here a few weeks ago unless he were guaranteed $20,000 Daro decided to make another attempt to get the champion. Lewis beat Plestina in New York City Wednesday night, which eliminated the "trust buster" as a possible opponent for Marshall. Stecher is the only one of the three named by the titleholder who has not been heard from, but reports from his ranch at Dodge, Neb., are to the effect he is not ready for top-notch competition at the present time.

Sonnenberg is not expected to receive Daro's offer until today. He is said to be traveling somewhere in the Middle West where he has several matches scheduled during the next few weeks.

Daro stated that if he could get Sonnenberg to meet Marshall he would hold the title bout at Wrigley Field either late this month or early in May. The promoter has not held an outdoor match here since 1924 when he staged a title match at the old Washington baseball park.

A bout between Marshall and Sonnenberg at the present time would draw the biggest "gate" in wrestling history, according to expert mat opinion in this section. Marshall, during his appearances in the local ring since the first of the year, has proven the greatest young heavyweight sensation ever seen in action in this section.

MANUAL ARTS TIES L.A. HIGH

the Roman relay team, Crawford to Bray, was illegal, thus also disqualifying the L.A. High runners.

After the race was over, which the Toilers won by about five yards, the officials went into a huddle to decide the outcome of the meet. Much arguing and arm waving was the result and when the spectators in the stands, which were filled to capacity, saw the commotion on the field, they swept down on the track, climbing the ten-foot fence and forcing open the gates.

For a while it appeared as if a free-for-all gang fight was in order, but in some manner the catastrophe was averted and the matter appears to be ended. Bob Weaver, who was acting as referee, ruled that the relay be run over at a future date. However that is very unlikely as the preliminaries and finals of the city meet are scheduled for next week.

Several upsets featured the affair yesterday, the biggest one being the failure of Wes Potter of Los Angeles High to place in the high hurdles, while he fell down to second spot in the low sticks.

Harold Baranov, Roman high jumper, threw the dope sheet for a loss when he won the high jump at 6ft. 1in. He had not been expected to place. Martin of Manual and Gooch of Los Angeles tied for second, clearing 5ft. 11in.

Outdistancing the field all the way Capt. Jimmy Lawrence, Manual miler, set a new school record in the four-lap race by winning in the remarkable time of 4m. 32 2-5s. Lawrence's time is the fastest made by a Southern California prep athlete this year.

The only double winner of the day was Laury Osburn of Manual, who beat Bray, Roman dash star, in both sprints. Osburn took the 100 in 10 1-10s. and the furlong in 22.7s.

100-yard dash—Won by Osburn (M.A.) Bray (L.A.) second, Cheshire (L.A.) third. Time, 10.1s.

220-yard dash—Won by Osburn (M.A.) Bray (L.A.) second, Houston (M.A.) third. Time, 22.7s.

440-yard dash—Won by Satterfield (M.A.) Garner (L.A.) second, Renich (L.A.) and Davidson (M.A.) tied for third. Time, 51.1s.

880-yard run—Won by Tent (M.A.) Turner (M.A.) second, Sherman (L.A.) third. Time, 2m. 4 2-5s.

Mile run—Won by Lawrence (M.A.) Gentry (L.A.) second, Lindsey (M.A.) third. Time, 4m. 32 1-5s.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by McGee (L.A.) Moeller (M.A.) second, Hamon (M.A.) third. Time, 16.1s.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Deion (M.A.) Potter (L.A.) second, Hardwick (M.A.) third. Time, 26 2-5s.

Relay—Both teams disqualified.

Shot put—Won by Hamon (M.A.) 48ft. 3¾in.; Harris (L.A.) second, 46ft. 2¾in.; Ream (L.A.) third, 45ft. ¾in.

High jump—Won by Baranov (L.A.) 6ft. 1in.; tie for second between Martin (M.A.) and Gooch (L.A.) 5ft. 11in.

Sheiks Down Oilers After Hard Battle

OAKLAND, April 3. (Exclusive)—In the first game of a series of five for the championship of the California Ice Hockey League, Oakland puckseters tonight took the Los Angeles Richfields into camp by a 3-to-2 score.

Los Angeles was first to score. After five minutes of play Berge Irving scored from the blue line. George Giroux, assisted by George Bond, accounted for the first Oakland tally about five minutes later.

Oakland captured the lead in the second period when Eddie Vokes scored on a pass from Ross Miller. The Oaklanders' final score came in the third when Vokes counted again on a pass from Buddy Cook.

Guy Poole of Los Angeles chalked up the final score a few minutes before the final gun.

TROJAN HOCKEY TEAM WINS OVER BRUINS

With Bud Fesler contributing three goals to the occasion, the Trojan ice hockey team had scant trouble in defeating U.C.L.A., 6 to 2, at the Winter Garden last night.

The Trojans have won two and tied one with the Bruins in three official starts. In addition to Fesler's three goals, Hardy Nesbit, Capt. Sid Rosen and Mahlon Chambers also contributed one each.

For the Bruins, Capt. Don Clow and Scott each tallied once.

The work of Guy Funai, Trojan defense man, was outstanding, as usual. He recently was selected on the second all-American team by a national magazine, which annually picks three All-American teams.

PRIMO MAKES GOOD SHOWING

WOULD BEAT DEMPSEY

Johnson thinks Carnera would knock Dempsey out in a few rounds right now. Carnera was schooled for six months in France by Leon See before he was produced before the public. In this country he took secret training from Abe Attell.

Jess Willard dropped in at Carnera's hotel unexpectedly yesterday to pay his respects. The visit happened just at the time of the U.S.C. riot call and all efforts to get a photographer failed.

Manager See stood the two giants up together. Carnera is a little over an inch taller than the former heavyweight champion. They both weigh the same—280. Willard is fat, while Carnera is as trim as a panther.

Carnera paid his first visit to Hollywood during the morning. He visited with Charley Chaplin and other cinema stars.

The board of strategy is still dickering for the making of a picture if they get their price, which is said to be $150,000.

"The same picture will cost $1,000,000 in a year from now, when Carnera is champion," says Manager See.

The Main-street gymnasium was packed again yesterday for the giant's workout, and the bugs were well rewarded. Primo showed the flexibleness of his massive body by walking on his hands and feet from one of the daily morning set-up positions. He can touch the palms of his huge hands to the floor without bending his knees. He has a reach of eighty-five inches.

The Italian will box daily at 2:30 until Monday. He is scheduled to talk over The Times radio at 12:30 Monday.

Belmont Noses Out Garfield

The Belmont Class B track and field team nosed out the Garfield lightweights, 49 7-12 to 44 5-12, yesterday in a meet held on the loser's oval. Every event was closely contested and several good times and distances were established as a result. The high-point honors for the meet went to Dye of Garfield, who copped both sprint races, and Warnas of Belmont, who won the high jump and shot put without removing his sweat clothes.

In a meet which decided the Minor City League Class C. track championship, the Belmont Cees eked out a 39-to-38 victory over the Bulldog midgets. Hertwig was the star of the meet, winning the low hurdles and broad jump in good form.

ball and nailing Kiki at third with a nice throw to Haney. Hack Wilson singled, stole second and scored on Stephenson's double for the second run of the round.

Some heads-up base-running by Haney gave the Angels a tying marker in the home half of the third. Haney led off with a double to left. Moore grounded down to Tolson, who threw to Root covering first. Root took the throw on the run and Haney, seeing Charley wasn't in position to make a play at the plate, broke for home and scored easily.

The Cubs won the game with three runs in the fifth. English opened the inning with a hit and advanced on infield outs by Blair and Cuyler. Wilson scored English and broke the tie with a single over second. Stephenson followed with his home-run drive over the left-field bricks and the Cubs were through scoring for the afternoon.

Singles by Harper and Dittmar, a walk to Jacobs and one of Bell's famous half-throws to first gave the Angels two runs in the eighth and reduced the Cub lead to a single marker. However, the Seraphs' ninth inning threat fell short so that one run lead was all the Cubs needed to win the ball game. Score:

STAR ROOKIES DROP CONTEST

in four tries, while Mickey Heath, first baseman, banged out a homer and a single in five times up.

Lou Catina's homer to deep center field in the opening chapter gave the near-Sheiks their lone marker. Wally Rehg, left fielder, was the only member of the second-stringers to get more than one poke, collecting two for three.

The Sheiks went into action in the second inning and drove across three runs, adding two more in the third, one in the fifth and winding up with a four-run melee in the sixth. Sullivan, aided by some snappy fielding, was the master once his team took the lead.

Following tomorrow's workout, which probably will be devoted to another regular-yannigan game, Oscar Vitt's Hollywooders will pack up their belongings and prepare to move to Los Angeles, where they will meet the Chicago Cubs in an exhibition game series, starting Saturday. The Stars will leave here Saturday morning on the 9 o'clock train, reaching Los Angeles shortly after noon. The boys have rounded into shape fast the last two weeks, and Vitt is confident they will be on edge for their opening Coast League encounter at Oakland Tuesday. Today's score:

Blankenburg Cops Title

CHICAGO, April 3. (AP)—Tom Blankenburg, representing the Hollywood (Cal.) Athletic Club, who barely qualified for the finals of his event, tonight became national A.A.U. indoor 220-yard breaststroke swimming champion.

Blankenburg managed to qualify in this afternoon's trials at the Lakeshore Athletic Club by turning in the best third-place time of the two preliminary heats. In the final, in a sensational battle, he conquered the field in 2:52 3-5. Art Horn, a Chicago high-school youth, staged a desperate finish and took second place from Leonard Spence of the New York A.C., the favorite, by inches.

The Chicago Athletic Association 400-yard relay team of Art Highland, Merton Wilcox, Paul Corbett and Ralph Breyer, equaled the world record, to beat out the New York A.C. team which won last year. The C.A.A. quartet did 3:39 1-5 to tie the mark set by Yale University. The Hollywood A.C. team was third and the Lakeshore A.C. fourth.

Harold (Dutch) Smith of the Los Angeles Athletic Club accounted for another upset in winning the low-board fancy diving crown from his team-mate, Mickey Reilley, the defending champion. A long discussion by the judges was necessary to determine the winner. Wallie Colbath, of the Chicago Athletic Association, was third and Mickey Reilley's brother, Johnny, was fourth.

BRUINS IN FINAL WORKOUT

U.C.L.A. "Iron Men" Prepare for Wildcat Invasion of Westwood; Final Selection is Made

Coach Harry Trotter's fifteen "men of iron" will go through final workouts this afternoon in preparation for tomorrow's dual meet between the Universities of Arizona and California at Los Angeles on the Westwood oval. By agreement between the two schools, both teams will enter but fifteen men.

Coach Trotter has spent the past two weeks in developing athletes who could stand the strain of competing in from two to four events, and has finally selected his fifteen men. The Arizona team will bring but fifteen tracksters on the trip, probably arriving here tomorrow morning. The meet is scheduled to start at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

HARRY TROTTER

The fifteen Bruin cinder men are as follows: Capt. Johnny Hill, competing in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and shot put; "Chuck" Smith, 100-yard dash and 220-yard dash; Melvin Plumer, half-mile and mile; Art Watson, 440-yard dash and relay; Bill McCarthy, 440-yard dash and relay; Al McNay, half-mile and relay; Ray Smith, mile and two-mile; Adams, mile and two-mile; Kenneth Knight, broad jump and 220-yard low hurdles; Freddy Kuhlman, pole vault, 220-yard low hurdles and relay; Dick Mulhaupt, high jump and high hurdles; "Red" Hyatt, high jump and javelin throw; Dick Cuthbert, discus, javelin and shot put; Ansel Brenniman, pole vault, broad jump, javelin throw and discus throw, and Jerry Stewart, pole vault.

Five alternates were named: Johnny Talbot, who was eliminated from the regular fifteen because of a faulty heart that does not permit running in more than one race, in the 440-yard dash; Paul Ludman, hurdles; "Windy" McDonald, quarter-mile and half-mile; Bob Cameron, quarter-mile and half-mile, and Milton Wershow, shot put.

The big star of the Arizona tracksters is "Irish" McArdle, sprinter. McArdle won the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard dash and the 440-yard dash last Saturday in a dual meet with the Tempe Teachers' College, in the respective times of 10s. flat, 22 4-5s. flat and 54s. flat. He is expected to give "Chuck" Smith, Bruin star sophomore sprinter, a close race in both the century and furlong dashes.

LINCOLN TRIMS ROOSEVELT

As a result of a 6-1 victory over the Roosevelt High baseball nine yesterday, Coach Frank Malette's Lincoln High baseballers' slate is still without a defeat chalked up against it. The game, which went eight innings and which was played on the Hazard Playground diamond, was featured by a couple of circuit clouts. McHenry, Roosevelt pitcher, saved the day for the Roughriders by slamming out a four-base hit in the eighth canto. Apprato, Lincoln short stop, gave the ball a ride for another homer in the fourth inning.

CHET WYNNE GETS NEW JOB

OMAHA (Neb.) April 3. (AP)—A three-year contract as head of intercollegiate athletics at Alabama Polytechnic, at Auburn, Ala., has been accepted by Chet Wynne, football and track coach at Creighton University, he announced today. Wynne will get $12,000 a year, he said.

BALL TEAM SEEKS CROWN

With four victories out of five over Long Beach, the Reds volley ball team of the Los Angeles Y.M.C.A. this week will make preparations for a campaign to annex both the Southern California Y and the State Y championships. Meetings with teams representing other cities in the southern part of the State will be scheduled this week and if the Angelenos emerge winners the title series with a northern State champion will be held in the near future.

COURTESY TO BROKERS

MARVELOUS ITALIAN VILLA
Just completed.
The most beautiful home in its construction; its oversized beautifully decorated ten rms., its verdure covered 300 feet of street, its background of over 1040 stately trees and from its 100 feet of columned tiled and grassed terraces, the most magnificent view in all California.

Has ample room for tennis court and plunge or landscaping, and while a foothill home, its 150 feet of lawn is level as a billiard table and it is reached without a change of gear, and yet you can buy this estate at less than you'll be asked for the commonplace offering.

ONE OF FOURTEEN ADULTS ILLITERATE

America's remarkable [illegible] education, in school equipment [illegible] enrollment is in contrast with [illegible] peculiar situation. It is the [illegible] ence of the country's 5,000,000 [illegible] 6,000,000 illiterates, most of [illegible] adults. Secretary Wilbur of the [illegible] terior Department says that [illegible] out of every fourteen persons [illegible] voting age cannot read such [illegible] ing signs as 'Danger' and [illegible] Wire.'" To those who can read [illegible] indulge in but a moderate [illegible] of serious thought, the [illegible] that condition itself will be [illegible] ent. These unfortunates of the [illegible] try are the product not of [illegible] neglect, but of measurable [illegible] ference. In a sense, they [illegible] been overlooked in the rush [illegible] modern progress.

A hasty effort is being made [illegible] even up this injustice through [illegible] work of a nation-wide [illegible] tion, the national advisory [illegible] tee on education. This body [illegible] its units reaching into every [illegible] and county and working through [illegible] public schools, aims to reduce [illegible] the lowest possible figure the [illegible] eracy of the country by the [illegible] of the census enumeration [illegible] month. The work already has [illegible] in progress several weeks. [illegible] the degree of its effectiveness [illegible] contest in the interest of [illegible] might be termed a minimum of [illegible] lightenment should not end [illegible] the shame of illiteracy is wiped [illegible] of the country. A nation that [illegible] committed itself to a program [illegible] education for all can be [illegible] with nothing less.—[Exchange.]

AGRICULTURE ABROAD

Evidence that the German [illegible] is no more satisfied with his [illegible] than farmers in other countries [illegible] afforded by a report, made by [illegible] MacLean, American administrative commissioner at the headquarters [illegible] the International Chamber of Commerce at Paris, on economic conditions in the Reich.

"The German farmers," he [illegible] "have been far from content [illegible] their lot, and it must be admitted that agriculture has been at a [illegible] advantage as compared with [illegible] dustry. But is not this a condition that is rather general than exceptional? It would seem also [illegible] true in countries other than Germany. Costs have risen to a greater extent than prices. Agricultural credit has been decidedly scarce [illegible] rates so high that it has [illegible] choice between assuming a [illegible] of interest charges so heavy [illegible] recourse to borrowing might [illegible] prove unprofitable, or of having one's activity curtailed by lack [illegible] needed capital. The value [illegible] year's excellent harvest has not [illegible] at all in proportion to its size. [illegible] to relieve this situation by [illegible] ing the price level and to stimulate increased production in order to [illegible] duce dependence on imported [illegible] stuffs which now nourish about one-third of the population [illegible] German government proposes to [illegible] crease customs duties on a number of leading agricultural products [illegible] how effective this will prove remains to be seen."

CHINESE DELICACY

Chop suey originated at a dinner that Prince Li Hung Chang gave [illegible] New York when he made his [illegible] around the world. Prince Li carried his own chef with him, and the menu was strictly Chinese. One of the dishes especially delighted the wife of the guest of honor, and she asked Li what it was. Prince Li called in his chef, and the chef replied in Chinese, "It is a [illegible] of my own—a chop suey." The words "chop suey" mean a mixture or hash. Prince Li said in English, "It is a chop suey." The American woman spread the news of chop suey, the wonderful dish. The name was taken up by the Chinese restaurants in America, and today chop suey is the chief concoction they serve.

Apartments for Martins

Agriculturists are now busy investigating insecticides and [illegible] cides in preparation for the [illegible] depredations of insects and [illegible] Encouragement of certain kinds of birds is one of the most [illegible] ways of fighting pests. Destruction of predatory cats, watching [illegible] confining pet cats and dogs, [illegible] tion of bird houses and shelters [illegible] all necessary to the [illegible] insect-eating birds. One of [illegible] most valuable of these is the martin family. They live in colonies but a martin house should be [illegible] fully placed. It should be [illegible] sturdy pole about fifteen feet above the ground and fifty feet from [illegible] er buildings and trees. Once located, these birds will return to the same spot year after year.

At Three-in-One Plant

A plant named "broles," [illegible] by an English scientist, may result in great benefit to farmers [illegible] certain sections. The plant grows from seed and attains a height [illegible] from eight to ten feet with [illegible] stem of some ten inches in diameter but requires from a year to a year and a half to reach full maturity. Profit from a crop has been estimated at about $[illegible] an acre for the plant yields three important products; fiber for textiles, [illegible] cellulose from its core for paper making and seed for the manufacture of cattle food.

Uncle Remus Was Broadminded

The discovery of a manuscript of an unpublished story by Joel Chandler Harris (Uncle Remus) recalls the story about him when he was working on an Atlanta newspaper. One night an old-time reporter leaned over at him and said: "Just how do you spell 'pesky'? With one 't' or two?" "Well," said Joel, who was too gentle to hurt even a [illegible] jective, "if you are going to [illegible] any, Bill, I guess you might as well go the limit."—[Boston Globe.]

No More Class Distinctions

A body blow at class distinctions was delivered recently, when by an edict of the Jugo-Slav government all private sports organizations were dissolved and the matter of popular physical education of the populace was taken over by the government. The most significant result of this action was to end the National Sokol societies which had been built up on the old tribal principle of distinguishing between Serbs, Croats and Slovenes.

Up to the Barber

Bill had bright red hair. He had heard so much about it that he hated it even though he was but 3 years of age.

One day his mother told him she was going to take him to the barber shop to get his hair cut.

"Then take me to a barber who will cut it black," said Bill.
